

CURIOUS PEOPLE ARE BARRED AT LOTISSO TRIAL

Thomas Lotisso is to be tried behind closed doors for the murder of his English war bride, Tessie Lotisso, the night of November 30.

This announcement was made by Circuit Judge Tucker when the case began this morning. The case is not one for the entertainment or amusement of the public, and when the seats in the courtroom are filled by those connected with the trial or directly interested in it, no one else will be admitted, said Judge Tucker.

Stolid and apparently unconcerned over the charge of first degree murder, Lotisso sat beside his attorney, Albert B. Ferrera and Oval Pirkey, and eagerly absorbed all that was happening in the process of obtaining the 12 men who will decide his fate. Only four jurors were passed up to a late hour this morning. They are: Newton G. Patterson, H. A. Bitner, Julius A. Zimmerman and Andrew Maier.

WOMAN WITHOUT PASSPORT MAY BE DEPORTED BY U. S.

The hearing of Mrs. Elizabeth Hutula, Finland, who entered the United States unlawfully after having been refused admission, was held before R. P. Bonham, chief of the United States immigration service, this morning. Humane considerations are entering into the case, Mrs. Hutula having come to this country to join her husband, who is employed in Portland. After the Finland immigration authorities denied her a passport she entered Canada by permission of the British consul and was denied admission to the United States because of not having a passport and of making false statements. She then went about 100 miles along the Canadian border and crossed over unlawfully. It is charged, Bonham will report his recommendations in the case to Washington, where the final decision will be made. Should the woman be deported, her husband, if he joins her, must pay his own transportation.

HARDING MAY HAVE TO DITCH CIGARETTES

Washington, Jan. 17.—(U. P.)—If President-elect Harding doesn't stop smoking cigarettes in response to the petition of women, which is now being drawn up, he may have to, because of an edict of congress.

It's a mooted congressional question just now, but many of the best constituted minds in congress hold that the Smoot bill to prohibit smoking in government buildings applies to the capitol and White House as well as to other departments.

If it becomes law, Harding may have to give up cigarettes or else sneeze down in the cellar or out on the lawn when he wants to puff a "pill."

THRIFT CAMPAIGN BEGINS; ALL ARE URGED TO SAVE

The opening shot of the thrift week campaign was made this morning by the Portland Y. M. C. A. under the direction of Raymond Van Vulin, head of the employment and advisory department, in the setting aside of the day to stimulate and encourage the young men to open a bank account. While the campaign is primarily for young men, everyone is included.

Benjamin Franklin's birthday was appropriately chosen as the opening day for the campaign and the precepts of that statesman are to be used.

The campaign has the cooperation of the business men both of Portland and the United States at large as a means of restoring the era of prosperity.

Tuesday is to be "budget day" and the association has a series of private budget forms for those wishing to adopt them as a means of eliminating useless spending.

Irving T. Bush, president of the Bush Terminal company of New York, in an open letter to the Y. M. C. A. states: "I heartily endorse your plan of encouraging men to control their income and expenditures by a thoughtfully prepared budget. Spending recklessly and without forethought has brought disaster to many a life which otherwise would have been a success."

"No one not trained to spend wisely ever feels that he is getting a satisfactory pay envelope. It is perfectly clear that what a man buys with his wages determines what he actually gets for his work."

The thrift campaign is a nation-wide movement.

from California this morning after spending a two weeks' combined pleasure and business trip in the Southern cities. McMurray says that California is doing an unusually large tourist business and that the Northwest is largely represented in the colony of tourists.

Petitions Are Out In Move to Recall Polk County Judge

Dallas, Jan. 17.—Petitions for the recall of County Judge A. B. Robinson are being circulated throughout the county. The circulators Saturday reported that they had already secured more than 1400 signatures. About 800 signatures are required to call an election. No intimation has been given out by the backers of the recall movement when they will file the petitions with the county court.

J. F. Ulrich, a farmer, is a candidate to succeed Judge Robinson, if the recall is successful. The press of the county is divided on the question. The Observer of Dallas and the Herald of Monmouth are supporting the recall, while the Itemizer of Dallas and the Enterprise of Independence are opposing it.
