HOUSE ASKED TO IMPEACH JUDGE LANDIS

Representative Welty Demands His Removal From Office for Accepting Position of Baseball Arbitrator; Says Duty Neglected.

Washington, Feb. 14.—(I. N. S.)—Impeachment of Federal Judge K. M. Landis for "high crime and misdemeanors in office," was asked of the house of representatives today by Representative B. F. Welty, Democrat of Ohio.

"Impeach Judge Landis," Welty declared, and entered the formal procedure to secure an impeachment trial for the judge.

The impeachment charge is based solely on Judge Landis' connection with organized baseball, and his receipt of salary from the baseball organizations.

Representative Welty moved his impeachment charges today by declaring in the house:

"On March 3, 1917, the sixty-fifth congress passed an act which in part provides that:

"No government official or employe shall receive any salary in connection with his services as such official or employe from any source other than the government of the United States."

OLD THROBE OF JAPANESE

Determination of Crown Prince to Wed Princess Nagako Causes Resignation of Privy Council Head; Whole Country Stirred.

By Henry W. Kinney
Tokio, Feb. 13.—(U. P.)—Cupid has been responsible for a domestic crisis in the affairs of Japan which has passed over today after bringing resignations in high government circles and shaking the entire country.

Prince Yamagata, president of the privy council and one of Japan's most distinguished statesmen, has resigned his official position and his power in Japan's affairs may be over as a result of his opposition to the engagement of Crown Prince Hirohito, who will be Japan's next mikado, to Princess Nagako.

The press is demanding that he resign at his official post as such surrender his decorations, and leaders of the opposition to the government may petition for the appointment of a regent until the illness of the emperor, it was learned here today.

The trouble came with the demand of Yamagata that the engagement be broken off. There was an immediate tempest throughout the imperial household.

But Cupid seemed to have the upper hand, for the first development was the resignation of the minister of the imperial household, it was then evident that a crisis in the government was at hand.

This was followed by an announcement that the elder statesman, having refused to interfere in the love affairs of the crown prince, the spirit of the dead Emperor Meiji father of the present emperor, would be appealed to.

On February 11, accordingly, numerous public men of Japan made a pilgrimage to the emperor's tomb.

PSYCHIC SUCCE SENDS 'MESSAGE'

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 14.—Out of the great beyond a message has come from the spirit of Thomas Lynn Bradford, according to a remarkable statement today of Mrs. Ruth Starkweather Doran, the woman the adventurer had chosen as the agency to whom to talk after death.

He committed suicide here last week. The reported message was reported Saturday night by Mrs. Doran, between 9 and 10 o'clock—exactly one week, to the hour, after Professor Bradford had committed suicide in an effort to prove the dead can communicate with the living.

"I am Professor Flynn (Thomas Lynn Bradford), who speaks to you from the beyond," Mrs. Doran's message reads. "I have broken through the veil, with the aid of the most gifted person who has a helping tongue to prove the reality of communication from the regions beyond the earth. The help of the living has greatly assisted the return."

"I simply went to sleep. I woke up and at first did not realize I had passed on. I find no great change apparent. I expected things to be much different. They are not. Human forms are retained in outline, but not in the physical. I am still intent that students shall investigate the book left behind."

"I have not traveled far. I am still much in the darkness. I see many persons. They appear natural. I expected things to be much different. They are not. Human forms are retained in outline, but not in the physical. I am still intent that students shall investigate the book left behind."

San Francisco, Feb. 14.—(U. P.)—John Macdonald, Thomas Mooney case witness, who has made an affidavit repudiating his testimony, arrived in San Francisco today to appear in the grand jury investigation of the Mooney case.

Man Is Held Up Twice in Night by Trio

"Aw, we got you before," said the leader of a trio of highwaymen who held up William McIver for the second time Sunday night. "Go back to where we held you up before and you'll find your watch in the snow."

About 11:15 o'clock Sunday night McIver left the home of a friend in Montaville. He was riding his bicycle on the Gilman streets three unmasked bandits told him to "stick 'em up." One of the men shoved an automatic into his face while the others rifled his pockets, securing his gold watch, gold chain and $3.

"Now beat it," they said to McIver. McIver caught a streetcar for his home at the Williams avenue car at Falling he saw an automobile parked by the curb. As he passed the auto, a man jumped out and held him up again. The robber recognized McIver as his victim of a half hour before and let him go without searching. McIver returned to his home and reported the matter to the police. McIver gave the police a meager description of the men. Police say a few circumstances surrounding the double holdup have given them a clue.

SWEETS DISPLACE COMIC VALENTINES

"There are going to be a lot of sweets remembered today. If all these hearts are true there must be a lot of love still left in the world," Miss Erma Siegel, head girl of a downtown candy counter, remarked Sunday.

For several days the candy girls have been busy packing heart shaped boxes for St. Valentine's remembrances. Red and white hearts, Daniel Cupid decorating the tops have been especially popular, the girls say.

Other confectionery establishments have catered to public fancy in Valentine boxes, and all agree that the red heart shaped boxes are very much the rage. "But not a mug like this."

Many are "saying it with flowers" and are calling to public fancy in Valentine boxes, and all agree that the red heart shaped boxes are very much the rage. "But not a mug like this."

U.S. COURT THROWS OUT KEELEY SUIT

Federal Judge Wolvorton made formal denial this morning of the suit brought by Lee Roy E. Keeley in which Keeley sought to compel the judges of the supreme court of Oregon to admit him to practice law in this state. The state court had previously refused to admit him to practice, though it allowed him time to finish litigation already instituted during the time the proceedings were under consideration.

The decision makes it impossible for Keeley legally to practice in the state court. It is recalled that Keeley, after being refused admission to the bar by the Oregon state courts to which he had been regularly admitted.

The entire suit brought by Keeley was dismissed. Following the final action of the court Keeley announced that he would appeal direct to the supreme court of the United States. Judge Wolvorton based his decision on the ground that he had no jurisdiction. The last paragraph of the decision reads: "After a careful review of the crucial questions involved, I am compelled to the conclusion that, within the jurisdiction or power of this court, complainant (Keeley) has not shown himself entitled to the relief prayed for, in any respect."

According to the facts set forth in Judge Wolvorton's decision, Keeley applied for admission to the Oregon bar March 1919, and received a temporary certificate. Before the time for objections to his admission had expired, an objection was filed. On December 5, 1919, the objection was heard before a special committee from the bar. Keeley was exonerated of the charges made against him, but the committee failed to recommend his permanent admission "because of lack of professional character requisite for an attorney of the state" and "statements made and conduct of applicant at the hearing."

British Ship, Fast In Ice, Asks for Immediate Rescue

New York, Feb. 14.—(I. N. S.)—Two wireless messages for assistance were received here today from the captain of the steamship Bristol City of the Bristol line, bound for Bristol, England, to city. The first message was garbled in transmission, but the second S. O. S. call was urgent and read as follows:

"In heavy fields of ice. Have no steam to get through. Want immediate assistance. I believed the ship was caught in a heavy ice floe somewhere off Cape Breton. The Bristol City is a freighter of 2500 tons and has a crew of 49 men. It left England January 27."

Washington, Feb. 21.—(I. N. S.)—Telegrams urging that efforts be made to dispose of all pending appropriation bills at the session and prevent any of them being held over until the next session, were received today from President-elect Harding by Senator Lodge (R., Mass.). Republican leader of the senate, and Rep. Mondell (R., Wyo.), the Republican leader of the house.

O-W. R. & N. WILL RETIRE FROM RIVER

Business Transition to Harkins Transportation Co.; Ainsworth Dock to Be Given Up; Depot Is to Be at Foot of Alder Street.

After more than 41 years in the river service between Portland and Astoria, the O-W. R. & N. company will retire from business on the Willamette and Columbia rivers, on the arrival of the steamer Harvest Queen from lower river points.

The Harvest Queen is the second of the boats to bear the name. The first was a famous boat on the middle river and made the down trip over the Cascades before the completion of the locks, 25 years ago.

Business of the O-W. R. & N. will be handled by the Harkins Transportation company as agents. This company operates the Harkins line between Portland and Astoria. The Harkins line is a veteran operator of the Portland-Astoria river. For many years he ran the steamers Ione, Hattie Belle, Jessie Harkins and others on the run to the locks. Later he took over the Kamun interests and went into the freight and passenger business between Portland and Astoria.

All river business will be handled from the Alder street dock instead of the Ainsworth dock. The Harkins Transportation company operates from the Alder street dock. As agents, the Harkins line looks over the Kamun interests to the North Beach line at Megler.

It is reported along the waterfront that the O-W. is negotiating for the disposal of the Ainsworth dock, which would mean that the company intends to withdraw from the San Francisco service. Officials of the railroad would not comment on this angle of their service.

It is also reported that the company is making an effort to dispose of the Harvest Queen, Hassalo and Nahotta to the Harkins interests, but the officials also refused to comment on this matter, saying that for the present the three crafts would merely be tied up.

HOOPER TO BE IN CABINET, RUMORED

St. Augustine, Fla., Feb. 14.—(U. P.)—Herbert Hoover can be secretary of commerce in the Harding cabinet if he will accept the post, according to the belief of persons close to the president-elect here today.

Hoover had previously been supposed to have slight chance of being invited to the cabinet because of the opposition of a number of senators, including Hiram Johnson of California.

But Harding has hopes of mollifying the opposition. It is today believed that the public as a whole will approve the appointment of a man with Hoover's experience.

It is possible that Johnson will be called to St. Augustine to discuss the situation with Harding, though no engagement has been made thus far.

It was recalled today that Hoover breakfasted with Harding in Washington immediately after the nomination last June and that he was among the first to be summoned to St. Augustin during the "best mind" conferences.

Reports that Senator Fall, New Mexico, has been decided upon for secretary of the interior are correct, according to some of his close friends here today.

Thomas W. Lamont, one of the J. P. Morgan officials, was scheduled to confer with Harding today.

Place Not Offered. Belief

New York, Feb. 14.—(U. P.)—Close associates of Herbert Hoover, commenting on today's dispatch from St. Augustine, said that to the best of their knowledge President-elect Harding had not yet offered Hoover a place in the cabinet.

$500,000 Alienation Suit Halts; Juror Is Held in Bribe Deal

The jury immediately was dismissed by Justice Siddons as the case entered the second week in District of Columbia supreme court.

Japan Following German Plan Has Thousands of Men in U. S.

Washington, Feb. 14.—(U. P.)—The house today passed the naval appropriation bill after a long debate on disarmament and after declining to take action to force President-elect Harding to call an international conference for limitation of armaments.

The measure carries a total of $325,000,000, of which $90,000,000 is for new construction. The bill goes to the senate.

THE KOREAN PROPAGANDA

Renegade elements in Korea, Formosa, Fukien and in other Oriental countries began the disturbances which have resulted in Japanese occupation of Korea. Before the Japanese occupation of Korea, and ever since, Japan has maintained a steady propaganda to the effect that the Koreans were unable to govern themselves, and that the Japanese were necessary there to maintain order. But in each case it will be remembered that Japan was only a jump behind the internal disorders with her army of occupation. And we have seen how she relinquishes slowly what she occupies.

7 MEMBERS FOR SCHOOL BOARD URGED

State House, Salem, Or., Feb. 14.—Signed by 10 members of the Multnomah delegation in the house, Gordon, Kubli, North, Hindman, Leonard, Hosford, McFarland, Korell, Wells and McDonald—a brand new teachers' tenure bill was introduced in the house this morning.

This puts both houses of the legislature into the tenure fight with two bills to consider instead of one, for Senator Moser announces that he will make his effort to reconsider the vote by which the Staples bill was defeated on Saturday and pass the bill.

The house measure increases the membership of the board of directors from five to seven members and names Mrs. A. M. Webster and Mrs. Forest Fisher as the new members to serve until the school election of June next.

TERMS OF MEASURE
The bill adds vice-principals to the classification of the existing law. It also provides that teachers employed for not less than two consecutive terms shall be "employed upon an indefinite contract under which they shall continue under employment from year to year until the contract is formally terminated by resignation of the teacher or as otherwise provided."

It is also provided that the concurrent action of five of the seven members of the board in the dismissal or demotion of a teacher "shall be final and not subject to review by any other commission."

If the order of the board is made by less than five members, the teacher is given the right of appeal to the appellate commission now existing by law.

MAY SUSPEND TEACHER
The bill also provides that the board may summarily suspend a teacher for gross dereliction of duty or misconduct. The suspension shall be for a period of not less than three days within which to demand a written statement of the grounds upon which the suspension is based, and should this demand be not to them, the suspension acts as a final dismissal.

The house, just prior to the introduction of the bill, tabled Senator Hume's resolution suspending the senate Saturday, which provides that the tenure problem would be submitted to a special committee of five for study and report to the next session of the legislature in 1923.

Mrs. Fisher is the wife of a prominent Portland attorney and has been prominent in educational work. Mrs. Webster, wife of Dr. A. M. Webster, former president of the Board of Business Men's club, has for several years been engaged in Parent-Teacher association activities and women's club work. Both indicated by them that they would serve if the bill is adopted.
