Rich Man Killed; Slayer Ends Life; Motive Is Veiled

Newton, Ill., Feb. 15.—(I. N. S.)—Police today are seeking the motive for a tragedy that has aroused this section of the country and which resulted in the death of A. H. Robertson, wealthy real estate man, and Charles Sutton, a grain broker. Robertson shot and killed Sutton and then shot himself, the wound proving fatal four hours later.

The only clue to the motive for the shooting has been found in the hysterical sobbing of Sutton's wife. "I knew it would come," she sobbed. "He's been brooding over it for weeks." "Miss Mollie Hall, an attendant in the office of Dr. J. W. Hutton, where the shooting occurred, was the only witness to the tragedy. Robertson entered the office of Dr. Hutton while Sutton was waiting the arrival of the physician. Without speaking he fired two shots from an automatic pistol but neither took effect. Sutton sprang up and called to Robertson not to shoot, but he fired again and Sutton fell dead.

Robertson then crossed the hall to another office and another shot was heard. Other occupants of the building rushed to him and found him with a wound in his head. He was rushed to a hospital at Effingham, but died.

FOREIGN COMMERCE PLANS LAUNCHED

The first complete organization aiming at support of United States firms in the markets of the world has been organized in New York, according to information received yesterday by A. L. Mills, president of the First National bank.

The organization will be known as the International Acceptance corporation which will devote itself to financing America's foreign commerce and world trade. The new corporation will in no way conflict with the Foreign Trade Financing corporation, as the latter will deal in the issuance of debentures while the acceptance blank will do its business by the granting of acceptance credits.

The First National bank is listed as one of the Pacific coast banks as stockholders in the new organization. The corporation will be incorporated with a fully subscribed capital stock of $10,000 in common stock, $250,000 in special stock and a subscribed surplus of $5,000,000.

"The organization," stated Mills, "has been under way since last September. Now that it is completed it will be the most powerful organization in the country to assist in opening up an extensive trade with European nations and the Far East. The manner in which the subscribing banks will dispose of their stock has not yet been determined. I understand, however, that an extensive selling plan, such as was used in the Liberty loan drives, will be used in the near future.

Paul M. Warburg is to be chairman of the board; F. A. Goodhue, vice president of the First National bank of Boston, being president, and P. J. Vogel, of the Chase National bank, New York, and E. W. Davenport of the First National corporation of New York, vice presidents.

Two Holdups Net $1; Young Robber Given Five Years

Walla Walla, Wash., Feb. 15.—Arrested on Monday for two holdups since last Friday night, which netted him 50 cents each, Clifford Hutton, 19, was arraigned 26 hours later before Judge E. C. Mills of the superior court. Within a few minutes after his plea of guilty to a charge of robbery he was sentenced to from five to five and one-half years in the state penitentiary.

Hutton claimed that he was hungry and out of money and that when he held up Fred Aldrich, his first victim, the latter divided his small change with him for the necessary funds to get a meal. The sentence imposed is the minimum under the law.

It is expected that he will be removed from the county jail to the state prison as soon as the necessary arrangements for his entrance at the state institution can be made.

Mayor Reappoints Ousted Police Chief

Klamath Falls, Feb. 15.—Chief of Police Wilson, who has been sponsored by the recently elected mayor, Wiley, and who was held over by the latter from the last administration, was ousted from his position Monday night by a majority vote of the city council. He was immediately reappointed by the mayor, who claimed an emergency existed, citing a provision of the city charter as authority for his action.

MURRAY FUNERAL TO BE THURSDAY

Funeral services for Major John J. Murray, well known theatrical man, who died at his home, 3128 Sixty-second street southeast, Tuesday, will be held at the Kenworthy chapel Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. The interment will be made at Mount Scott cemetery.

Major Murray was born in London in 1852 and spent the early part of his life in Australia. Shortly after the Civil war he came to America and entered the theatrical business in Cleveland. He played Shakespearean roles in company with Alexander Salvini, Hob-ert Graham, J. Wilkes Booth and George Sammie.

After 10 years of active work in the drama he retired from the stage and went into business with his father. The two of them perfected oleomargarine and established the first commercial plant at Chicago.

In 1892 he bought a theatre in Berlin and operated it until shortly before the Columbian exposition at Chicago. He returned to America and was active in the promotion of the exposition.

While in Chicago he was active in national guard work. During the Spanish-American war he was one of the organizers of the famous cavalry troop known as the Black Hussars. At the end of the war he was commissioned major.

In 1913 he came to Portland and had resided here since. He is survived by his wife, two sons, Clarence E. Murray, Aurora, Ill., and John J. Murray Jr., and one daughter, Miss Gladness Murray, both of Portland.

Daniel Marx
Funeral services for Daniel Marx, who died at his home, 775 Kearney street, Tuesday, will be conducted by Rabbi Jonah B. Wise at the family residence Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. Interment will be at Beth Israel cemetery.
