

GOOD SAMARITAN HOSPITAL GETS A $10,000 BEQUEST

In accordance with the last will and testament of Benjamin I. Cohen, a former resident of Portland, a bequest of $10,000 has been received by the hospital trustees of the diocese of Oregon, for the use of the Good Samaritan hospital.

The board of trustees has signified an intention to create a fund to be known as the Ella Harper Cohen fund, the income of which is to be applied for the purpose indicated by Cohen.

In his will he expressed it as his preference that the money should be used for the support of a "free room" for the use of ladies in that station of life that are commonly designated as gentlewomen who by reason of poverty or other misfortunes are unable to pay for proper medical and surgical attention.

For many years Cohen was president of the Portland Trust company. He died after leaving Portland.

By his last will and testament his sister, Eleanor S. Cohen of Baltimore, Md., was made his sole residuary legatee. The will provided that the bequest to the hospital should not be turned over to the hospital authorities until after the death of the widow, Ella Harper Cohen, and that the room should be known as the "Ella Harper Cohen room," but if a fund were established for the support of the room then the fund should be known as the Ella Harper Cohen fund.

The recent death of the widow has released the bequest and in accordance with the terms of the will Eleanor S. Cohen has sent to A. P. Fiegel, her attorney, a check for $10,000.

The trustees of the hospital express the hope that the Cohen gift will be an inspiration to others who have accumulated a fortune in Portland to make like bequests.

Idle Hour Man Must Have Proof or Woe Is to Betide Him

Should agents of the department of justice find that G. W. Chandler, proprietor of the Idle Hour Pool Hall, is not sick in bed and is able to appear in court, Federal Judge Bean announced this morning he would issue a bench warrant for his arrest. Counsel for Chandler appeared at the time set for his client's arraignment and presented a doctor's certificate, in which Chandler was purported to be severely ill. Assistant United States Attorney Fiegel told the court he did not place due confidence in the certificate, as he had seen Chandler on the street within a few days. Chandler is charged with selling intoxicating liquor. Arrest of Chandler was accomplished so quietly that patrons did not know it. Fiegel said he stopped behind the bar and, acting as bartender, sold soft drinks until he learned the password for a "hard drink."

Retail Business in Farming Sections Shows Much Growth

Optimism was the keynote of talks given at the Ad club luncheon this noon at the Benson hotel. E. Clark, William H. Harber and Joseph A. Davidson, advertising manager of the service bureau of the Western Farmer, were the speakers and each told of the success of the readjustment period in his line.

"The retail business in farming communities is increasing," Davidson said, "and while the country retail merchant is yet afraid to buy, sales of the city distributors selling direct to the farmer are now greater than ever before. The city salesman should help the country merchant to stock up by showing him that the market is now settled."

"The farmers have money, despite their complaints of the low prices of produce," he stated. "The average cost of raising an acre of wheat is $20 and even when the price was low the farmer made a profit of $17 on the acre."

A review of the financial situation of today and the prospects for better conditions in the future was made by Clark.

Chinaman Who Shot At Man Fined $100 And Sent to Jail

Lee Lo Lim, proprietor of a Chinese store at 286 Flanders street, who used Pat Welch as a rummy target for revolver practice Monday morning, was fined $100 and sentenced to 30 days in jail by Municipal Judge Rossman this morning on a charge of discharging fire arms in the city. Welch was sentenced to 30 days in the city jail on a charge of vagrancy.

Welch told the court he entered the store to collect $2 for a seven-day lottery ticket, and when the Oriental refused to pay him he says he snatched a $20 bill and walked away, accelerating his speed when Lee Lo Lim began to fire. Lee Lo Lim said Welch came to borrow a dollar and snatched the $20 bill when the loan was refused. Sergeant Bunn, who arrived just in time, caught the Chinaman's hand and prevented the wholesale slaughter of innocent bystanders.

Switchman Put on Trial for Alleged White Slavery

Members of the federal grand jury were interested spectators this morning at the trial of A. D. Shoot, charged with white slavery. The grand jury finished its work during the morning and took a recess until Thursday.

Shoot, a former switchman for the Southern Pacific, was recently convicted on a charge of securing a pass from Hanford, Cal., to Portland for Margie Coombs. The woman is said to have traveled with him as his wife. Since his arrest Shoot has refunded the company the amount of the fare. Assistant United States Attorney Veatch finished presentation of the government's side of the case just prior to the noon recess. The jury is expected to get the case this afternoon.

Mink Fur Coat and $600 Stolen From Thomas Apartment

A mink fur coat and $600 in cash were stolen from the apartment of O. D. Thomas, 230 Tenth street, Sunday night, while the family were asleep, according to a report made public at police headquarters this morning. The money was taken from Thomas' trousers, which were lying on a chair in the dining room. The fur cape was hanging in a closet just off the dining room. Police inspectors were unable to find out how the burglars entered the house.

Two slabs of bacon, a ham, 4000 cigarettes, seven boxes of cigars, a quantity of smoking tobacco and $2 in change, were stolen from the grocery store of A. Eonhane, 98 West Alberta street, Tuesday night. The thieves entered the store by a rear door.

JURY URGES HASTE ON NEW HOSPITAL

Condemnation of the present county hospital building and the necessity of hastening the completion of one unit of the new building, is urged in a special report of the Multnomah grand jury to the board of county commissioners. The report follows:

"The county grand jury made an official visit on Saturday, the nineteenth, to the county hospital at the corner of Second and Hooker streets and were given every opportunity for observation, and were very much surprised to find that Multnomah county had no better building for the present housing of its sick. The building is an old residential property and entirely unsuited in every way for the purpose to which it is now used, and from the construction of the interior it is in our opinion a serious fire risk and we shudder to think what the result would be in case of a fire. All of the rooms are very much overcrowded and it must at times be a serious problem to those conducting the work of the institution.

"We found everything clean and tidy and, with the limited and irregular space and the poor working conditions, the staff cannot be too highly commended for its efforts in caring for those under its charge and looking after their comfort, as at times it must be very discouraging to have to work under the primitive conditions they have got to put up with. It would certainly be a useless waste of money to attempt any repairs or improvements in the present building and every effort should be made to hasten the completion of one unit of the new building, even if necessary to appeal to the public spirit of the people of the county, as surely, if the actual conditions could be brought before them, a hearty and generous response would be made."
