

PORTLAND IS SEEN AS CITY OF HOMES BY WOMAN EDITOR

"I am particularly impressed with Portland as a home city," says Mrs. Della Thompson Lutes, editor of "Today's Housewife," which recently amalgamated with "American Motherhood" and "Table Talk" of which she was also editor.

"The homes look so substantial and the people the kind who are making homes. America is in need of this very thing to keep us balanced and make the pendulum swing true."

"I think home life is the one thing that is going to keep America safe and sane, simple, natural and true," she added.

"To help bring this about, we are building a home in Cooperstown, where out editorial offices are, which is to be a standardized American home. I shall live there, with my family near me, and the home shall be open to constant inspection by the public."

"The trend is toward more simple foods. Women cannot get help now, and food being never done will not help their families better and simpler food. We have to teach them to do housework quickly and easily so that we can have time to do other things in connection with civic and public life."

"Mrs. Lutes' Portland visit is purely for the purpose of rest and recreation, she says. She will spend some time in Seattle and San Francisco while in the West. She was for 13 years editor of "American Motherhood" and for six years editor of "Table Talk."

"The total trade between the two countries in 1920 was $1,067,651,094, as compared with $1,231,806,516 in 1919, an increase of 22 per cent."

"The premiums on American funds had the effect of strongly stimulating exports to the United States. For the year the total figures were $585,945,349, as compared with $492,058,819 for 1919."

PEDESTRIAN IS SERIOUSLY HURT WHEN CARS CRASH

Mrs. Rose Jenkins, Fairview apartments, was dangerously injured when two automobiles came together at Sixth and Yamhill streets at 7:30 p. m. Monday.

Mrs. Jenkins and E. R. Wilson, who is joint owner with her of the Central Market bakery, were crossing Yamhill at Sixth when a small car driven by C. W. Maher, 312 Sixth street, moving north on Sixth street, crashed into a heavier car driven by J. R. Washburn, 829 Nelson street, going west on Yamhill street.

Mrs. Jenkins was taken to St. Vincent's hospital. She suffered a fractured skull, a fractured arm and a fractured nose. Her condition is considered extremely serious. Wilson was out about the head.

Ker was held without bail, pending an investigation.

Council May Heed Popular Demand for Concerts in Parks

If the city can squeeze out of its general fund the sum of $3500, band concerts can be provided for one week night or afternoon and Sunday afternoons for Portland during the coming summer season, according to Park Superintendent P. Keyser.

Keyser, on his recent visit to Spokane, found that city has appropriated $3500 for band music during the summer, and he believes Portland should provide at least an equal amount for concerts here for the enjoyment of citizens generally.
