

DOUGHTY IS FOUND GUILTY OF THEFT OF $105,000 BONDS

Toronto, Ont., March 24.—(U. P.)—John C. Doughty was found guilty today of stealing $105,000 in Victory bonds from the estate of Ambrose Small, millionaire theatrical man, who has been missing more than a year. Doughty was Small's secretary and disappeared at the time the millionaire died. He was arrested later in the state of Oregon.

The jury was out one hour and thirty minutes. Defense counsel immediately asked for a stated case and argument will be heard on April 4.

Admits Worthless Checks Passed on Portland Houses

Astoria, March 24.—W. R. Cobb, 55, admitted morphine addict and bad check man, was arrested Wednesday following a 19-hour chase. Cobb admitted to the sheriff that he had cashed five or six bad checks in Astoria, one in Knappa and five or six in Portland last fall. When arrested he was about to take the evening train from Clifton toward Portland.

In Astoria, Cobb said, he had used the names of Danvers, Jenkins and Cobb. He said he has been a railroad man and that he has a wife and family residing in Fairbridge, Wash. Cobb told the authorities that he had been arrested in Portland for having drugs and for passing bad checks, but that sentence was suspended when his mother, whose address he refused to give, made good the worthless paper.

Doughnuts Cheaper But Hole Unchanged

Salem, Or., March 24.—A reduction in the price of doughnuts with no corresponding increase in the size of the hole was announced by local bakers Wednesday, following the reduction in the price of flour. Bread has also taken a tumble, the former 10-cent loaf now retailing at 9 cents, while its big brother, the 15-cent loaf, now commands only 13 cents.

Past Performance Bespeaks Success for Community Chest

By Eric V. Hauser
With the fine spirit of cooperative support and generous giving that has characterized our previous local and national campaigns for the relief of suffering and distress, Portland's Community Chest, which is a combination of a grouping together of various local philanthropies supported by voluntary contributions, can be made the most efficient medium for extending real charity where it is most urgently needed with the smallest amount of expense or duplication of effort.

In working and building for the success of our Community Chest, the citizens of Portland are creating an institution which will redound to their credit and generosity in extending comfort and aid to the suffering and needy in our midst, in the most thoroughly practical manner.

The Community Chest will not only administer the funds on a careful and scientific basis, but will also afford a vast number of people, who are anxious and willing to subscribe for charity when properly presented to them, an opportunity to contribute to the relief of their less fortunate neighbors with a confidence that the motive and purpose of their subscription will be conscientiously fulfilled.

Let us all get behind this splendid movement and make it typical of the Portland spirit of kindness and generosity.

BOYS WILL ASSIST
Two thousand boys and girls recruited from the public schools in all sections of the city, under the auspices of the public welfare bureau, will give a spectacular demonstration on behalf of the Community Chest campaign in the downtown business section Saturday forenoon.

The army of youngsters will march through the streets shouting the Community Chest slogans, singing the Community Chest songs and bearing banners advertising the big financial undertaking; and after the procession through the streets, which will be led by a band, the little marchers will assemble on the post-office terrace in front of the Community Chest and join in singing songs under the direction of Walter Jenkins, the community song leader.

Newsboy Sent to Detention Home Following Fight

Mathew Mazrusky, a newsboy with a stand at Third and Morrison streets, objected so strenuously to having his corner rights violated by another newsboy that he eventually landed in the detention home. Wednesday a newcomer showed up on Mathew's corner and started to argue with him. Mathew objected and after a short tussle succeeded in tearing up the papers of the newcomer. Patrolman Bender interfered in the controversy and Mathew was taken before the juvenile court, where he was reprimanded and released.

The newcomer again started to sell papers upon the street corner and Mathew forgot the court's reprimand.
