Duncan reports that the petitions which are now in circulation are "being signed like hotcakes," and that it is merely a question of getting them be-

VOLUNTEERS COME IN

The first recall petitions were sent out Saturday morning, and the reports which came into the headquarters office during the day indicated that very few people asked to sign them refused to do so. On the other hand, it was reported that numerous volunteer circulators came to the office as soon as they were notified that the petitions were ready for circulation and took them away to secure signatures. No check was made of the number of signatures secured, as the circulators did not return their petitions to the headquarters before it closed for the day, but scattering reports given to Chairman Duncan told of many signars and few who refused.

Wednesday, April 20, a state-wide mass meeting will be held at The Auditorium, at which a definite cam-paign organization will be perfected for the furtherance of the battle against Williams, which is to end with the special election of June 7, according to the plans of the revall committee. STATE CAMPAIGN

This meeting will be composed of representatives from all sections of the state, and the purpose of it will be the organization of a central and statewide campaign unit through which the recall campaign will be conducted.

In the meantime the local organization will send petitions to all parts of the state, placing them in the hands of individuals and organizations which of individuals and organizations which have volunteered to circulate them, while it is expected that volunteers from all parts of Portland will make the task of circulation in this city easy of accomplishment. Quarantine Lifted So 50 Families May Have Part in Easter

Responding to urgent appeals, Dr. George Parrish, city medical efficer, and his corps of assistants, Saturday released from quarantine for diphtheria over 50 Portland familles, so that they could get out and join in the Easter festivities. In order to release this number it has required hard work on the part of the medical staff in getting the fumigation and medical inspections completed. In all, during the last week more than 100 families have been reeased from quarantine, according to the

The diphtheria epidemic which resulted in the development of about 400 cases in Portland since the first of the year, with 14 deaths, has been placed under control and is rapidly subsiding. It is not expected, according to Dr. Parrish, that there will be much if any further development of the disease from now on. OF FARM BUREAUS

Plans Are Discussed by Interests of Oregon, Washington and Idaho; to Market All Products.

Plans for a federation of the state farm bureaus of Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana, for the purpose of marketing all farm products were discussed at the meeting of the Washington county farm bureaus at Spokane last week, according to Fred W. Merrill, managing director of the Oregon Dairy council, who attended the meeting in the interests of the Pacific Dairy council, of which Oregon and Idaho are already members.

The marketing idea was presented by W. S. Shearer, president of the Idaho State Farm bureau. Shearer has called a meeting of the heads of Idaho farm bureaus and prominent farmers of the state at Boise, May 5 and 6. Details of the plan will be discussed and the nucleus of the organization, which will be called the Idaho Producers' and the provided the Idaho Producers' and the Idaho Producers' and the Idaho Producers' and Idaho Producers'
