

MILWAUKIE SMOKER IS WEDNESDAY AMERICAN GOLFERS IN ENGLAND

Kallio Proud Of His Single Off Johnson

By George Berts.
SANTA MARIA, Cal., March 26.—If Rudy Kallio, the Portland boy, who is being counted upon by Manager McCredie as one of his regular pitchers for the 1921 Beavers, should pitch a no-hit-no-run game without allowing a single batsman to reach first base it would give him as much thrill as the event that has already happened in his career and may never happen again.

The event referred to is a hit—just a plain ordinary single. It was made off the delivery of the great Walter Johnson of the Washington Americans during the 1918 season. Some place in his scrapbook, Rudy has all the clippings of the Detroit paper regarding the incident.

CAN'T HIT

Kallio is no great hitter, but, believe us, he is sure proud of that 161 batting average he hung up in the American league in 1918. That's the highest batting percentage he ever made and ever expects to, but this has nothing to do with what Kallio expects to do this season.

Last spring Kallio reported to the Beavers just a week before the close of the training camp season. He was just rounding into form, when the club hit Salt Lake. It was one of the coldest weeks in the history of the league games in the Utah metropolis and it set Kallio back several weeks, in fact he was not right until he had his back-bone, which seemed to be pressing on a nerve, straightened.

IS READY

Right now, Kallio is ready to start the season. He expects to have one big season in the Coast league this year.

Kallio started his professional career with the Butte club of the Northwestern league in 1913. The following season he played with the Sacramento club. In 1915 he was with the El Paso club in the Rio Grande league and in 1916 joined the Great Falls club of the Northwestern league and was sold to the San Francisco club at the end of the season. Pitching for the Seals against Portland in 1916, Kallio struck out 13 Beavers, setting up a league record for that campaign. Kallio gets a great kick out of the story everyone mentions it to Manager McCredie.

He reported to the Seals in 1917 and was released to the Des Moines club of the Western league, being recalled at the end of the season. He had his best pitching year with the Des Moines club, winning 25 and losing 9 games.

WAS A TIGER

He was turned over to Detroit by San Francisco and pitching in the majors for the first time, he won 8 and lost 13 games. In 1919, Jennings did not use him in any games, except to replace some of the regulars.

He joined the Portland club last year, and despite his bad start finished the season with nine victories and ten defeats, winning four of his games in the last two weeks of the season. Kallio started his baseball playing in Portland with the Columbia club and Calif brothers' teams.

Rudy is a curve ball pitcher. He has a great assortment of hooks and usually has good control.

Amateurs Will Hold Contests Thursday Eve

By Earl R. Goodwin
A MATEUR boxers and wrestlers will come in for their share of attention next Thursday, when the annual Pacific Northwest Association of the Amateur Athletic union championships are staged in the Armory.

The bouts will be under the auspices of the Armory Amateur Athletic association and the committee in charge is made up of Captain Harry Hansen, chairman; T. Morris Dunne, secretary-treasurer of the P. N. A.; Wendell S. Poulson, chairman of the boxing and wrestling committee of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club, and Major Edward J. Elvers.

Plans are being made to hold preliminaries in the afternoon; with the finals being staged Thursday night, starting at 7:30 o'clock, the number of entries determining how many matmen are to compete Thursday afternoon.

Eight hundred members of the A. A. A. took 19 tickets each and many have come back for more, so from that, Captain Hansen says he won't be surprised if more than 5000 or 6000 spectators are on hand to witness the clashes.

PLENTY OF ENTRIES

Out of town entries are going to be plentiful, according to present indications, the entry list not closing until Monday night.

In order to see to it that the visiting athletes are shown every possible courtesy both from sportsmanship and social standpoints, an officer of the Oregon National Guard will be assigned to each visiting delegation. It will be his duty to see to it that nothing is left undone to make the stay in the Rose City a pleasant one.

The University of Washington will send down both boxers and wrestlers as will Washington State college of Pullman. Lester M. Ellis, formerly a lieutenant in the 91st division, is physical director at the Tacoma Young Men's Christian Association, and he has sent word that he will bring five wrestlers and seven boxers to the P. N. A. championships.

Vancouver, B. C., will be represented, according to the committee in charge, inasmuch as the winner of the heavyweight title last year is figuring on journeying to Portland. Interscholastic mat and mittmen will be on hand. Salem high mat club has sent for entry blanks as has L. A. King of the Oregon City high school. It will be his duty to see to it that nothing is left undone to make the stay in the Rose City a pleasant one.

Jack Routledge, physical director of the B'nai B'rith gymnasium, has been holding elimination bouts for sometime, and he is ready to send in some of his athletes for high honors in the roped arena.

Both the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club and the Armory Amateur Athletic association will be represented by large quotas of both boxers and wrestlers. In fact it is estimated that there will be more than 70 amateurs on hand to battle for the various titles.

Prizes will be given to first and second place winners in each class. It is not known whether or not they will be in the form of gold and silver medals or some more usual articles. In years gone by when the amateur game was in its height, those staging shows in Portland used to give gold watches to the titled athletes, and today most of the time pieces are being worn and are highly prized by the champs.

Prizes to the show are 50 cents, 75 cents and $1, although a number of 25-cent tickets for students have been issued for the preliminary matches Thursday night. In order to accommodate the high school and grammar school youngsters who wish to attend, the first bout will not start until 8:15 o'clock.

The officials for the tournament will be selected as soon as all the entries are in the hands of the committee.

Toronto Has Best Sextet

Toronto university ice hockey team is the best sextet in Eastern Canada and stands a good chance of winning the East vs. West game for the Allan cup, emblematic of the amateur championship of the Dominion of Canada.

Beaver Camp Notes

By George Berts
SANTA MARIA, Cal., March 26.—"Germany" Schaefer and all his coaching stuff has nothing on Ray, the great catcher of the Colored Giants. Before each of the games with the Beavers, the Giants "pulled" the shadow baseball stunt and it was a knockout for the natives. Each day, Ray would end the workout by getting hit in the head with the ball. It provided a lot of amusement for the fans.

The Modeste (Cal.) battery of Fred Connel, pitcher, and Henry Johnson, catcher, is going to be split. Connel is likely to be turned over to the Regina club of the Western Canada league and Johnson may be released to either the Vancouver or Yakima clubs of the Pacific International circuit. These two players are very promising youngsters.

Jim Poole, the new first sacker of the Beavers, ought to be good for at least 15 years in professional baseball, according to Ben Goodwin, manager of the colored Giants. Poole does not waste any movements in fielding the balls around the first corner and he is not flashy, but he can play the stuff in out of the sack.

Although the bright rays of the sun caused the players to sweat last week, they had to be pretty careful about laying around on account of the cold trade winds.

Manager McCredie received a new shipment of hickory for the boys to use in the final week of the season. This will enable the players to get used to the bats they expect to use in the opening series.

Bill Essick, manager of the Vernon club offered Manager McCredie, Pitcher Art Fromme and Outfielder Edington for Waa Kingdon several weeks ago, but as Fromme intended to quit the game, Mac did not take him up on the deal. Kingdon is playing a bang-up game in the field but is not hitting well. He has been using a bat too heavy for him to swing properly against fast ball pitching.

Art Bourg is laid up with a pair of "banged-up" legs. Bourg complained of soreness in his legs and was told to take things easy, but in one of the games with the Giants he extended himself and is now one of Doc Melkie's daily visitors.

New Orleans, March 26.—(I. N. S.)—The Philadelphia Athletics arrived at Lake Charles, La., on Saturday. Connie Mack brought three walkers with him—Tilly, Frank and Johnny. The latter is not the gentleman from Scotland, Currier.

Portland Beavers Getting Ready for Opening April 5

ONE MORE WEEK OF SPRING TRAINING AND THEN—"THEY'RE OFF"

The sun has been shining at the Portland Beavers' training camp at Santa Maria, Cal., as can be judged from the first photograph. The boys were snapped while on a stroll and it was just a little bit too warm to make a coat feel comfortable. From the left, back row—Fred Connel, pitcher; Ray Stobener, infielder; "Pep" Young, infielder; Henry Johnson, catcher, and Leroy Messall, outfielder. From the left, front row—John Brogan, pitcher; Ed Zink, pitcher; Russell Goforth, infielder, and Hazen Paton, infielder. 2—Douglas Tait, the former Portland bat boy. 3—Sylvester Johnson, former Multnomah Amateur Athletic club twirler, who finished the 1920 campaign with the Beavers. 4—Art Bourg, who is well known around semi-pro circles of Portland. Bourg is hitting the old apple to all four corners of the Santa Maria lot. 5—Wes Kingdon. 6—Leroy Messall. 7—Willis Butler.

"SMOKY" THOMAS, A. A. A. boxer, who will compete in the annual P. N. A. championship at the Armory next Thursday.

Cub Leader Makes Inquiries About Big Catcher of Beavers

SANTA MARIA, Cal., March 26.—Andrew V. (Bip) King, the big good natured, broad shouldered catcher of the Mackmen squad, is a future major leaguer.

He has everything that is necessary in the make-up of a good catcher. He is a fine target for the pitchers to shoot at and possesses a wonderful snap throw, although he is just rounding into good shape.

Johnny Evers, manager of the Chicago Nationals, who heard considerable of King's ability as a catcher shortly after his arrival in Los Angeles a fortnight ago, questioned Manager McCredie about the big catcher when the Beaver leader conferred with the Cub boss in Pasadena.

Mac was only able to tell Evers what the Detroit scouts had written him about King, but it sounded good to Evers and chances are that the Cub scouts will keep an eye on the big fellow during the 1921 Coast league pennant race.

In the training camp games between the Rockies and the Goofs, King has been showing up in good form. He is a little overweight and as a result is not taking any chances of putting himself out of form before he gets on edge. In another week the big fellow should be able to step out at top form.

He has not regained his batting eye, but he stands up well at the plate and takes a nice healthy cut at the ball.

He looks like a natural ball player. He is strong and willing to work.

Tris as Cowboy Makes Big Hit With Rope Work

Fort Worth, Texas, March 26.—(I. N. S.)—Tris Speaker, spoke of the Cleveland Indians, 1920 baseball champions, is as much of a cowboy as he is a miracle man of the diamond. He has proved that to the entire satisfaction of many professional rodeo stars who competed against him during the events of the Southwestern Fat Stock Show here early this month.

"Fred Beeson, first; Guy Shultz, second; Tris Speaker, third," came the announcement from the leather-lunged barker to 7000 persons in the stands surrounding the arena.

Tris Speaker had taken third rank in the calf-roping contest of the Southwestern cattle country. Without practice he had defeated a long list of professionals, including Leonard Stroud, Tools Ayers, George Brannon, "Booger Red," Oldahoma Curley, Shorty Kelso and a dozen lesser stars of rodeo firmaments.

Doffing his hat, the idol of his home folks at Hubbard City, Texas, smiled to the stands and rode from the arena amid applause from Texans, who admitted that the old West had produced another conqueror.

British Titles Are Attracting Yankee Golfers

NEW YORK, March 26.—(I. N. S.)—International golf matches will attract a big share of attention among followers of sport on both sides of the Atlantic during the coming summer.

American amateur professional players are making ready to cross the broad stretches of the ocean next month to take part in the British open and amateur championships, and later on England will send representative golfers to America to seek laurels once again in the big title events on this side of the pond.

RAY OUT OF IT

Edward Ray, the Briton who lifted the American title last summer, has announced that he will not defend the title, but it is expected that many of the foremost British players will tee off when the tourney starts July 18, as a new champion is to be crowned.

As the British open tourney is set for June 20 at St. Andrews the best British amateur pro will have time to return to the United States for this event.

The invasion of England by the American contingent has already been started by Miss Alexa Stirling, American national women's champion, who sailed recently on the Carmania to take part in the British women's title tourney at Turnberry in Scotland. Miss Stirling modestly declined to predict any glory for herself in competition against England's women players, but she hopes to win the title and later on capture the French championship.

CHICK EVANS NEEDED

The contingent of American amateurs will scarcely be representative unless Chick Evans, national amateur champion, changes his mind and accompanies the team which is to be led abroad by William C. Fownes Jr. of Pittsburgh. Evans stated recently that for business reasons and because of his health he would not make the trip to Europe. It is hoped, however, that he will see his way clear to change his mind before the team sails.

Francis Ouimet is another doubtful member of the team. Ouimet also gives business as the reason for his detention on this side of the water, but he also may change his mind. Bobby Jones of Atlanta, S. Davidson Herron, national amateur champion in 1919, and Bob Gardner, runner-up to Cyril Tolley in the British amateur tourney last June, will make the voyage in May.

AMERICAN PROS GOING

Much interest is connected with the make-up of the professional team which is to represent this country in the British open tourney over the famous St. Andrews course next June. Jack Hutchinson, who is to captain the team, Brady and half a dozen others may make the trip. The shot of the team to go to St. Andrews will depend largely on the success of James R. Harnett's campaign for a popularly subscribed fund to cover the expense of the trip. Harnett would like to send 20 American pros to England, which would entail an outlay of some $30,000.

The American championship season will commence the week of July 11, when the Western amateur championship will be staged over the links of the Westmoreland Golf club, Chicago. Next will come the national open championship at the Columbia Country club, Chevy Chase, Md., July 18. This will be followed by the Western open tournament at the Mayfield club, Cleveland, August 24, 25 and 26.

INTERNATIONAL TOURNEY

The big international golf tourney, in which all of the best players in this country and Europe have been asked to compete, will begin September 6 over the difficult course at Southampton, under the auspices of the National Golf club.

The national amateur championship will come next, opening September 17 and continuing through the twenty-fourth over the links of the St. Louis Country club. The last of the national events—the women's championship tourney—will start October 3 over the sea-side course at Hollywood, N. J.

Semi-Finals Today

Scullin Steel team of St. Louis are mid-western finalists for the National cup, the soccer trophy contested for each year. The eastern semi-final will be between Robins Drydock and Tebo Yacht Basin team of Brooklyn, who represent the same plant. It will be played today at Harrison, N. J. The winner will play Scullin in the final at a place and date to be announced.

SPORT NOTES

THE single change of importance in college football next fall provides that after the scoring of a safety, the ball must be brought to the 20 yard line, rather than the 20 yard mark as heretofore.

Toronto has 2000 registered soccer players and about the same number of junior experts while in addition 6000 schoolboys are taking up the game.

King George of England will have extensive alterations made to his yacht Britannia before the opening of the season. Its old racing rig will also be restored.

Lionel Conacher, Toronto's greatest all-around athlete, who stands out as a remarkable player in lacrosse, rugby football and ice hockey, will take up soccer football and compete in the coming summer tournaments.

The Blaisy rifle meeting in England will take place July 7 to July 21.

San Francisco fencers are forming an organization and will join the national body.

Hamilton (Ont.) is erecting a huge stadium in which soccer, rugby, baseball and cricket games will be played.

University of Oregon wants to hold a Pacific Coast Conference tennis tourney at Eugene May 20 and 21.

Holy Cross college has a team of veterans. Jack Barry is coach.

Penn State track team will inaugurate its season against Virginia Poly at Blacksburg, Va., March 28. The trackmen will clash with University of Virginia March 30.

In international soccer matches England has beaten Scotland 14 times to seven for the thistle representatives, while five games resulted in tie scores.

Y. M. C. A. members are engaged in the annual hexathlon competition.

Coach Alonzo Stagg of University of Chicago has instructed football teams there for the last 30 years, while for 20 years he has had charge of the track teams.

Recent regimental games of the Boston high schools drew 1453 entries.

Oregon Aggies will introduce spring football practice April 1.

The Third Lanark club of the Scottish Football league will tour the United States and Canada this summer. They will leave May 14 for Canada.

Mixers to Be On Next Card At Milwaukie

WHAT can Jimmy Duffy do against Dave Shade?

That question has been asked many times by Portland fight followers after seeing the two battlers in action. Both are Californians but they are far from being strangers to Oregonians.

When Matchmaker Frank Kendall of the Milwaukie boxing commission signed up Shade and Duffy as his ten-round main event for the Milwaukie arena next Wednesday night, he certainly made a ten-strike according to the way a majority of boxing fans feel about it.

Shade battled the rugged Frankie Murphy ten days ago and won the verdict. Shade can give and take with any of the 140-pounders on the Pacific Coast and like Duffy is out to make a national reputation in the roped arena.

RE-MATCHED

Those who witnessed the Johnny Fiske-Ted Meredith set at Milwaukie a week ago won't hesitate to get their tickets early for next Wednesday night's show for these two youngsters are down for the 4-round semi-windup. For six rounds they stood each other off with wicked rights and lefts, and at the end of the sixth, Referee Loutit couldn't decide any other way than a draw.

Since then each has been aching to get another crack at the other and over a long route—hence the eight-round semi-windup.

Mickie Dempsey, the boy with seven straight knockouts to his credit, is on the card again. The cry of "Get a boy who can give him a battle" has met with the response that Baby Blue of Sacramento will offer the opposition. The bout is down for six rounds. Dempsey has tumbled them all over so far even though in several instances he was outwitted in one case 11 pounds. He doesn't want anything "soft" and judging from what Baby Blue has put up in the past the colored boxer sure is a long way from being "easy pickings."

NO FLUKE

That Dempsey has a fighting heart can be seen in the fact that after he had taken a lacing in the first round—even going so far as to be knocked down—he came back with a rush in the second canto and put his tough adversary away. That's the way he is going to go in against Blue he says. He wants to prove to his many admirers that his knockouts have not been of the "fluke" variety, and

P. M. B. C. Arranging Program for Smoker Next Tuesday Eve

Tuesday night will mark the official opening of the smoker season of the Portland Motorboat club, and the committee in charge is going to see to it that it is a grand affair. The first number on the program is set for 8 o'clock and the place is the clubhouse at the foot of Woodward avenue.

The Glad-U-Kum committee will greet the members of the club and their friends and there will be plenty of "eats and smokes," says Jimmy Smith, who is looking after that end of the program. In order that the arrangements of the entire party would not be a "one-man party," quite a number of "assignments" have been passed out and all the recipients report that they will have their additions to the "show" on hand.

Vice Commodore Fredericks, E. Allen, Bill Lofstedt, Clyde Teeling, Gus Gade and other Commodore Johnson have been placed in charge of some feature of the evening, and they aren't going to let anything happen that will force a "comedy" on the show. Three boxing bouts will be staged during the evening, according to present plans, one of them to feature Commodore Love against Vice Commodore Fredericks. In order to disguise their identity, Love will fight under the title of "Kid Glove," while Fredericks has selected "Peanut Stand Herb."

Tuesday night's smoker will be the first of a series which will be held prior to the opening of the regatta season on the Willamette river, and it will be a means of getting acquainted with the new and prospective members.

Gun Club Is Building

Pendleton, March 26.—Plans have been adopted by the Pendleton Rod & Gun club for the erection of a modern clubhouse at the trapshooting grounds on Collier park east of the city. Work will start immediately. The building will be a bungalow 62 by 26 feet and will have hardwood floors throughout, with a large reception hall, dining room and kitchen, as well as other accommodations.

Colored Team To Play Here Next Month

By George Berts
SANTA MARIA, Cal., March 26.—The scheduling of the five games with the Colored Giants during the last week of the training camp season should put the Portland club in tip top shape for the opening of the Coast league with the San Francisco club Tuesday, April 5.

In seasons past, McCredie has always taken advantage of arranging games with the colored teams as it is the best training possible for an aggregation that is in the making. It aids in developing the infield combination work and also gives the players a good chance to line-up on the cut-off plays.

In last Sunday's game with the Giants, Kingdon missed a cut-off play, that came near resulting disastrously for the Beavers and Mac immediately "wised him" up on it.

McCredie was very much elated over the showing made by his torsers in the first series with the Giants. In the five games, they gathered two victories, which is a great showing considering that many of the players are getting their first professional experience.

In the five games, they grabbed off 40 hits, an average of eight hits a game.

The players were not facing easy hurling in Rogan and Curry, the Giants have two star right handed pitchers and McNair is a southpaw of no mean ability. In the game against McNair, the Beavers, made but four hits, his peculiar delivery being a mystery to the Mackmen for it was the first time that they bumped into southpaw hurling except in the few innings that Zink worked in one of the camp contests.

The second series with the Giants is scheduled to begin Wednesday, March 30 and close Sunday, April 3.

After the series here with Portland, the Giants will begin a tour of the Northwest appearing in Portland shortly before the opening of the Coast league season, April 20, against the Regina club.

Australian Boxers Differ From Those Of Bygone Times

Los Angeles, March 26.—(I. N. S.)—The latest Australian papers print stories to the effect that the Mackmen ringsters are a sorry lot, owing to the recent invasion of American and French middleweights.

Billy Shade, the Frisco middleweight, beat everything near his size there and is on his way home.

After Shade a bunch of frogs landed and Eugene Crique, one of them, a ringster of 12 years' service, is cleaning up the feathers.

His latest win was over Jerry Sullivan, featherweight champ of Australia, in 12 rounds. Seconds are not allowed to throw up the sponge here, but Sullivan's adviser did the only thing he could and asked the referee to stop the fight.

Francis Charras, a French middleweight, beat Tommy Uren in the last big bout.

Where are the stars of yesterday?

Oh, Australia, where are your Billy Murphys, Young Griffos, Jacksons, Darcys, Fitzsimmonses, Dawsons and Snavins?

Gridiron Men Start Spring Workouts

Cambridge, Mass., March 26.—(I. N. S.)—A three weeks' spring practice season for the Harvard 1921 football squad, beginning March 28 and continuing through April 16, was announced by Keith Kane, captain of the Crimson eleven.

The letter men eligible for next fall are Kane, Crocker, Macomber, ends; Brown, guard; Tierney, center; Buell, Fitzgerald, Johnson, quarterbacks; Owen, Pitts, Churchill, halfbacks. There is a possibility that Jim Tolbert, variety guard of last year and captain of the Crimson basketball team, will return to fall, although as yet he is undecided.

Looking for Another Graduate Manager

University of Oregon, Eugene, March 26.—The athletic council of the University of Oregon has appointed A. R. Tiffany chairman of committee to find a successor to Marion F. McClain, graduate manager of all student activities. McClain's resignation is in the hands of the council and as soon as a new graduate manager is secured McClain will devote all his time to the management of the student cooperative store here.

Plenty of Subjects Now

Dr. R. Tait McKenzie, professor of physical education at the University of Pennsylvania, says: "Never in the history of the world has the sculptor had such opportunity of depicting the physically perfect beauty of the male human as our sports give him today. Never before has there been such a revival of all around athletics as the last 20 years has seen. There never was a game like football in illustrating the capabilities of the human frame as a medium for expressing the beauty of action."

Harold Polson Has Deceiving Slow Delivery

Santa Maria, Cal., March 26.—Harold Polson, Beaver pitcher, has a slow delivery but he has never had on his roster.

This Guy Fisher's opinion of the big right-hander, Fisher had considerable difficulty in handling Polson's slow hook in last Saturday's game against the Colored Giants. Several runners advanced a base because of Fisher's inability to hold it.

Manager McCredie declared that Baker and Koehler had considerable trouble in handling the hook last season until they became used to it. Polson is taking the game seriously by this season, and chances are that he will be a winning pitcher for the Beavers.

LEARNING to swim less than a year ago, Miss Helen Condon, 16-year-old Omaha girl, recently shattered the Nebraska state records for 40, 100 and 220 yards. Miss Annette Kellerman saw the pretty Omaha miss in action and she predicts big things for the star. Miss Condon was the first girl to qualify for the Women's Red Cross Life Saving Corps in Nebraska.
