

Releases Will Be In Order at Beaver Camp : Jimmy Duffy Will Not Meet Dave Shade

Beavers Trim Oilfield Nine By Big Score

SANTA MARIA, Cal., March 25.—With Sam Ross and Harold Polson occupying the mound, the Portland Beavers defeated the Oilfield aggregation here Sunday, 11 to 5.

The Beavers pounded Jimmy Norfziger and Hall, who pitched for the Oilers, hard throughout the entire contest, while Ross was nicked for the five runs made by the Oilfields in the first five innings.

Manager McCredie was very much impressed with the playing of "Pep" Young, the Los Angeles kid, who is trying for the short field position. Young is showing up better than Wes Kingston at the present time, and it would not be surprising if McCredie would trade Kingston for the Vernon club as Manager Bill Essick is pretty sure on the Beaver youngster.

SQUAD TO BE CUT
The squad will be cut tonight, according to the Portland pilot's plans, and how many of the youngsters will be released to other clubs is not known, but it is thought that only those who likely are to be carried during the first month of the season will remain here.

The Cub players are not expected to reach camp until Wednesday morning, as the Cubs are to go northward during the first part of this week.

In case Marty Krug fails to join Portland before the opening of the season, Wallis Butler will be started at second base.

KRUG STILL OUT
Pitchers Nofsiger, H. Ross, Zink and Connel and Outfielder Fredericks have been released to the Regina club. Billy Spears, regular manager, left for Portland Sunday night to plan for the opening of the 1921 training season at Salem.

It is stated that he is going to hold out until he is given satisfaction for the treatment he received at the hands of the Salt Lake owners last year. He has written Secretary Wenzel asking that he be declared a "free agent," but as yet no word has been received from the East.

Manager Wait is of the opinion that the former Beav will show up just before the boys depart for San Francisco, where they open the 1921 Pacific Coast League season at San Francisco on Saturday night to plan for the opening of the 1921 training season at Salem.

The game with the Pacific fleet squad ended yesterday had to be called off at the last moment and the Oilfield delegation substituted.

Beaver Camp Notes

SANTA MARIA, Cal., March 25.—Jimmy Poole, the big first sacker of the Beavers, appears to be a much better player than Ray Grimes, who is likely to start on the initial corner for the Chicago Cubs.

Grimes did not play in the Chicago-Vernon game of Tuesday, March 23. He is not as fast as Poole nor is he as steady. He is a most sensational fielder, however, and he will have to try to beat Poole in digging them out of the dirt.

Eddie Bogart, the Portland boy who is trying out for a position with the Los Angeles club, has picked up a lot of weight but is not likely to win a regular berth with the Angels, as Kille has five other fly chasers in camp.

George Maise, captain of the Portland club last season, has clinched a berth in the Chicago lineup. He will play center field and flank in right. Maise is in the pink of shape and is much faster than when with Portland. He gave the Vernon fans a thrill in the Cub game of March 22 by making four great catches, his last effort, a dive catch, saving the game for the Cubs.

Dallas Locker, who played with the St. Helens club of the Columbia River Shipbuilders' Baseball league, has been working out with the Vernon Tigers all spring. He looks like a classy first sacker now and chances are that Essick will release him to Billy Spears' Regina club, with a string attached. Essick believes that Locker will make him a good first sacker next year.

Los Angeles sport critics are loud in their praise for "Pep" Young, the youthful Los Angeles boy who is trying out for the short patch position with the Beavers. Young has shown remarkable fielding ability, but is a little shy on hitting. McCredie believes, however, that Young will develop into a good hitter as soon as he changes his style at the plate.

Vernon Tipton, the Los Angeles youngster who was with the Beavers two days last season, appears to be a much better hurler this season, but there's a little chance of his breaking in as a regular with Bill Essick's group of giant hurlers.

Three of the four players, Willie Mitchell, Art Fromme, and "Stubby" Edington, who were going to quit this year, are back in uniform. Edington has not signed his contract as yet, however. Fromme, so the Tigers say, appears to be in great shape this season.

Tommy Long will likely be Vernon's regular rightfielder this season. Long was indispensible last year on account of having some trouble with his teeth. During the winter he had them fixed up, and Essick is expecting great things of him this season.

Chet Chadbourne, former Portland outfielder, who has been an important cog in the pennant winning machines of the Vernon Tigers, appears to be in great shape this season. He is fast as ever and is still cracking them on the nose.

Outfielder Lay, the Colorado boy McCredie tried to sign a couple of seasons ago, wants to join the Portland club this year, but with so many promising youngsters lined up it is not likely that McCredie will send him to contact.

Arleta Smoker Is Set for Wednesday

The wrestling bouts under the auspices of the Arleta camp, Woodmen of the World, will be held Wednesday night instead of Tuesday night as reported. The main event will feature Oscar Butler and Walter Arndt in a finish match. Two preliminaries are on the card and to reach the hall take the M. Scott car and get off at Arleta station.

BEAVER SQUAD IN TRAINING AT SANTA MARIA, CAL.

With the final week of the 1921 training season at hand, all the veterans and recruits will be battling harder than ever for positions on the Portland payroll. In the photograph, reading from left to right, are: Back row—Poole, Woffler, Connel, King, Brogan, Pillette, Wilson, Herman Ross, Stobener, Kallio, Polson and Doc Metkic, trainer. Middle row—Talt, Bong, Nofsiger, Fredericks, Zink, H. Johnson, catcher; Fisher, Pop Young and Gemlin. Front row—Benedict, Messali, Goforth, Kingston, Butler, Baker, Cox, Faton, Johnson and Sam Ross.

'Phenom' May Bolster Browns Pitching Staff Air Tight

ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 25.—(U. P.)—Discovery of a probable phenom for second base in Bill Gleason and the prospect of a light pitching staff make the Browns a formidable candidate for this year's American league pennant.

Two young catchers—John Heving and Dennett Tate—are due for experience in the minors, leaving Severid, Billings and Collins to take care of the receiving end.

The roster shows 16 pitchers, which means that at least five will pass out of sight. As the staff sizes up at present, Shocker, Davis, Sothoron, Bayne, Burwell, Debery, Van Gilder, Cullup, Palermo, Kolp and Boehler will be retained.

Before going to the post, the Browns are catalogued in this fashion:
Another terrific hitting club—last year they topped the league with a record average of .308—and the prospect of an improved pitching staff. Weak in left-handed pitching, last year, the club apparently has picked up two regulars in Nick Cullup and Palermo. They are not youngsters, as both have had major league experience.

Pohls has refused to pick a position for the Browns and his slogan is "let the critics and the fans do the picking and we will try to hit the mark."

The infield shows Sisler, Gleason, Gerber and Earl Smith, with Jimmy Austin Lee and McManus as subs. The latter two youngsters will be retained.

Polo Enthusiasts Given Real Thrill
Del Monte, Cal., March 25.—The opening play for the Pacific coast polo championship in the tournament here Sunday produced a whale of a match. The undefeated four came through victorious over a team representing the Coronado club, but only by the narrow margin of 11 to 10. Midway got a handicap of 3 goals in the circuit event and needed the tie to beat Coronado, which was fighting for the tying goal when the final whistle sounded.

"Headlock" Not to Be Used
New York, March 25.—Ed "Strangler" Lewis, world's champion catch-as-catch-can wrestler, will not use his punishing headlock when he tackles John Pesek, the former tumbler from Omaha, here tonight. This is the first time since Lewis won the championship that he will wrestle without his favorite grip in New York.

Charles Hollocher appears to be the best player on the Cub machine. The ex-Beaver is still playing a sensational game at short and is cracking the ball hard.

Charley Paddock's Efforts Bring Him 2 World's Records

SAN FRANCISCO, March 25.—That the world record of 20.4-5 seconds in the 520 yard dash made by Charley Paddock of the University of Southern California in competition against the University of California Saturday will receive the support of P. A. officials in the expected fight for recognition by the A. A. U. was indicated today. He ran the 100 yard dash in 9.3-5 seconds, equalling the world record.

Regarding the claim that the 220 yard race was run with the wind officials of the meet say the start was called durable a hull and that Paddock was not helped by the breeze.

Official action cannot be taken until the report of the officials at the Berkeley, Cal., meet, where the record was made Saturday, has been filed.

Three of the timers' watches caught Paddock's time at 20.4-5 and one at 20.3-5 seconds. The former record of 20.4-5 seconds was held jointly by B. J. Wefers, B. C. Craig and D. F. Lippincott.

Washington Loses Two Star Athletes

SPokane, Wash., March 25.—The Kelso club defeated the Multnomah Box & Lumber Co. bowling team of Portland in a five game match at the Kelso club Saturday night by a score of 4121 to 4021. T. P. Fleke of the Kelso team made the best scores of the evening. The teams were: Multnomah Box & Lumber Co.—L. W. Fries, W. L. Fries, C. E. Baker, F. A. Madigan and A. E. Kent. Kelso—Bert Taylor, T. P. Fleke, R. L. Parrish, Jesse Schwartz and F. A. Furbush.

Coach was a three-year "W" winner in basketball and was picked as all-conference guard for two years of that time. He did not play on the Sun Dodge five during the season just closed, as he had already won three basketball letters. Abel was granted an L. L. B. degree by the school of law. Cook received a B. E. A. degree from the school of business administration.

Rifle Teams to Compete
Spokane, Wash., March 25.—E. K. Klemle, secretary of the Manito Pistol and Rifle club, announced that the local organization would contest in the Washington State Rifle league matches during the spring season to determine the civilian and national guard team championships of Washington.

Mrs. Hurd Expected To Retain Title

Pinehurst, N. C., March 25.—(U. P.)—Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd of Pittsburg is expected to retain her title in the annual women's north and south golf championship in progress over the Pinehurst links. Mrs. Hurd was scheduled to meet Mrs. Hope Gibson of Canada, today. Other matches scheduled follow:
Miss Louise Elkins, Oakmont, vs. Mrs. J. N. Fritchard, Midlothian; Mrs. John D. Chapman, Greenwich, vs. Miss Sarah Fowkes, Oakmont; Miss Dorothy Richards, Mayfield, vs. Mrs. A. C. Letts, Onwentsla.

Pheasants Are Released

ALBANY, O., March 25.—A carload of pheasants was freed Friday upon the Propet tract east of Albany, a part of the Grand Junction game preserves. The birds were brought from the state game farm at Corvallis and liberated under the auspices of the Sanitium Fish and Game association of Linn county. Further shipment are expected later.

Going Right After Indicted Men and Bring Them to Time

CHICAGO, March 25.—(U. P.)—The state plans on sending the alleged "dirty Sox" to the laundry.

"We will lose no time in getting the 13 White Sox players and gamblers indicted by the Cook county grand jury today in connection with the 1919 baseball scandals," said Assistant State's Attorney George E. Gorman.

"We shall extradite them if necessary and compel them to furnish bond before granting them release after the right thing," Judge K. M. Landis, baseball's supreme dictator, said.

Eight separate indictments were returned against the 18 defendants. Bond in each case was set at $3000.

New indictments were returned against the 13 ball players and gamblers named in the original indictments voted last fall. They follow:
Eddie Cicotte, Claude Williams, George Weaver, Fred McMullin, Oscar Felsch, Joe Jackson, Charles Risberg and Chick Gandil, ex-White Sox players, and Hal Chase, former New York Giant; Sport Sullivan, Rachel Brown and Abe Attell, gamblers, and Bill Burns, pitcher.

Carl Zork and Benjamin Franklin of St. Louis, Ben and Louis Levi and David Zeigler of Des Moines.

Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney, last week annulled the indictments voted against the Sox players last October with the exception of Gandil.

"I will ask that the trial of the defendants be held immediately," Ahern said. "The players have been presented with white sweaters and purple monograms."

Huggins Can't Decide First Team Players

NEW YORK, March 25.—(U. P.)—The famed old lady who lived in a shoe had her problems. She had nothing on Miller Huggins, manager of the Yankees.

"Tug" has so many ballplayers he scarcely knows what to do with them. He has 10 players bidding for every job around the infield, and a squadron fighting for outfield berths.

Selecting the right players for the right positions is the big task that rests on the shoulders of the "midget manager" today, and he never carried a heavier burden.

On Huggins' selections, according to present indications, will depend the success or failure of the Yankees in the coming pennant race. The New York club has talent galore. It figures to make a neck-and-neck race with the Cleveland Indians for first place next October, but should "Tug" fall to get his best possible combination in the field at an early date his chances might suffer a hard blow.

As far as battery men go, Huggins has nothing to worry about. With Wallie Schang to do the bulk of the catching, and a pitching staff of undoubted strength, there is no problem to solve here.

Ruth, Roth, Bodie, Meusel, Connelly, Wingo, Hawke and Christensen have been ranging the gardens for the Yanks, not to mention Wallie Pipp, who may ultimately be played in an outfield position.

Ruth, Pipp and Meusel have been used at first base; Fawcett, Peck, Mike McNally and Young Skinner at second; Johnny Miller and Peck at short, and Ted Meredith and the youngsters put up such a grueling six-round contest that they too have been rematched for next Wednesday night's smoker. Their bout calls for eight rounds.

"Tug" is mixing 'em up. He had to. And he is far from a definite decision, as constant changes in the lineup indicate. If Baker does a real comeback, he will no doubt hold down third base, which would drive out Aaron Ward. This, had, because of both his hitting and infighting ability, is almost too valuable to be left out of the lineup every day. He might be sent to second and Fawcett to the outfield.

These are just a few of the angles to "Hug's" riddle and the season comes on apace.

South Parkway A. C. Reelects Pander

By unanimous vote, Henry L. ("Peanuts") Pander was reelected manager of the South Parkway Athletic club basketball team at a banquet held at the Benson hotel Sunday night. Thirty members of the club were present to honor the quintet which won the 1920-21 Portland City league championship.

A countless list was staged on the Columbia park grounds, between the Canadian veterans and the Standifer Shipbuilding corporation representatives of Vancouver, Wash. The contest was featured by many rallies on the part of both teams, but neither was able to annex a point. The final games of the regular schedule are set for next Sunday afternoon. A postponed Standifer-Clan Macleay setto is billed for the following week.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 25.—(U. P.)—With Alexander on the mound, the Cubs trounced Vernon here yesterday, 4 to 1. The regulars play Sacramento at Sacramento tomorrow.
