EGG BREAKERS... TUESDAY DAILY TRADE... BUTTER... EGGS... CHICKENS... VEAL... SMALL VOLUME OF MOHAIH... POTATO BUYING IS STILL STRONG... BRIEF NOTES OF PRODUCE TRADE... WHOLESALE PRICES IN PORTLAND...

By Hyman H. Cohen... Consumers should not overlook the opportunity they have today of securing canned goods at prices that will probably be lower than what similar goods of the next season's pack will be selling at.

Such prices are shown in practically all lines of fruits and vegetables. Canned corn especially has sought a very low level and peas and beans are extremely cheap.

Canned pineapples has not been so chosen for many years and there is every reason to believe that prices will not dip so low for a long time again after present stocks are cleaned up.

Canned fish with present prices in instances below the normal, is likely to be somewhat higher next season because of the fact that many of the canneries will not be operated during the 1921 season.

The word therefore is to shop around and pick up a few of the many bargains now available in canned goods in retail shops.

The following prices rule generally in retail shops for good quality. Some values are fractional.

Butter—Fresh creamery, 4 1/2 lb. cans, 12 to 15 lbs. cans, 12 to 15 lbs. cans, 12 to 15 lbs. cans, 12 to 15 lbs. cans.

EXPORT AND RETAIL PRICES

The market for prunes today indicated a better tone than at any time during the season to date. While the season is rather late and there is danger from this source, the low prices now in effect are forcing activity for prunes from various parts of the world.

Export demand for prunes today is very good. There is good business coming in at Atlantic and Pacific ports, and while prices are still liberal, buyers feel that it is better to clean up low rates now than to hold the 1920 crop over into the new season and risk additional losses.

One of the features of the present prune trade is that California is lower in the large sized stock, while Oregon is lower on the smaller sizes. This is just the reverse of what happened usually in the past.

The following are the bulk basis prices named by the Oregon Growers' Cooperative Association and the California Raisin & Prune Growers' Association for the various sizes:

Size 40 to 45... 1 1/2 lb. Oregon... 40 to 45... 1 1/2 lb. Oregon... 40 to 45... 1 1/2 lb. Oregon...

Reports from New York are to the effect that the market for prunes is still active. Prunes will be held there April 20.

'BONNIE II' WILL BE LAUNCHED FOR PORTLAND FISH CO.

'Bonnie II' will be launched from the foot of Ash street May 1. She will be commissioned as a fish tender for the Portland Fish company and will operate between Portland, Oregon City and Mount Coffin.

'Bonnie II' has been constructed under the direction of Captain J. K. Larson. She is 29 feet between perpendiculars, 10.5 feet beam and nine feet depth of hold.

The new product of the Portland Fish company is unique in that she is a home built product and every employe of the fish company has had a hand, one way or another, in the construction of the craft.

From a marine standpoint the Bonnie II is a peculiar boat. The hull is in the 'V' type with heavy deck and two hatches, one forward and one abaft the engine room.

With only a nominal run in the alleys for the day, there was little activity in any line at North Portland Tuesday.

Hogs showed an undertone of weakness, cattle were steady and good sheep and lambs held stationary.

Only the lack of arrivals is holding the price of hogs from falling to the toboggan at North Portland at this time.

One of the features of interest was the scant call for feeder pig, prices being lower, with an average bid market range:

General hog market range: $10.75 to $11.00. Smooth heavy, 250 to 300 lb., $10.50 to $10.75.

WAREHOUSE ALASKA CANNERY

Frank M. Warren of Alaska Portland Packers association has declined to operate one cannery in Alaska this season and has sent the American ship Berlin to Portland for supplies.

The fishermen's union decided to accept the reduced wage scale proposed by the cannery. The fishermen demanded 9 cents a fish and $200 for the trip.

Pressure Forces a Cotton Reduction

New York, April 19.—(I. N. S.)—Spot cottons along front street, with light volume of the market today, and with southern opening on late Monday, brought about lower quotations.

The cotton market price today is in the late deal, closing at a net decline of 22 to 40 points.

Lack of Support For Wheat at Chicago Opening

Chicago, April 19.—(I. N. S.)—Grains firmed up at the last, but registered a sharp decline at the opening today. Ideal weather conditions, combined with a fairly liberal movement of wheat from the interior, were the weakening factors.

Resting prices for May wheat were at declines of 2 1/2 to 3 1/2. July dropped 2 1/2 to 3 1/2.
