

FORMER KAISERIN IS BURIED NEAR PALACE OF JOY

By Frank E. Mason
Potsdam, April 19.—(I. N. S.)—Augusta Victoria, "empress of sorrow," was laid to her last rest here today in the Antiken Tempel, an antique mausoleum just off the Palace Sans Souci, built by Frederick the Great. The old Prussian king has named it so because it was the place where he forgot his cares and sorrows.

The funeral of the ex-kaiserin was the most imposing event seen within the former German empire since the days of the Hohenzollern reign.

The special train carrying the former kaiserin's coffin arrived at Wild Park station here promptly at 10:45 o'clock last night.

At 9:15 o'clock this morning four black horses with black plumes waving from their heads, drew up in front of the railroad station with the imperial hearse, which was decorated with four bunches of black plumes.

GALA UNIFORMS IN LINE
A thousand former army and navy officers in gala uniform stood in military formation around Sans Souci palace, while others lined both sides of the avenue leading to the Neues Palais.

At 9:29 o'clock the ex-Crown Princess Cecillie, accompanied by the royal princes and princesses and former court functionaries, arrived at Wild Park station.

Picked officers of the "Queen's Own" cuirassier and fusilier bodyguards (Augusta Victoria was queen of Prussia in addition to being German empress) acting as pallbearers, assisted by former court servants, removed the coffin from the funeral car.

IMPERIAL CROWN ABSENT
The absence of the imperial crown was noticeable in the decorations. Distinguished generals flanked and followed the hearse as it proceeded to the mausoleum.

To the constant accompaniment of tolling church bells the cortege passed through a cordon of spectators organized by various patriotic societies.

Every spare room in garret or cellar here in Potsdam was rented long in advance at fabulous prices. Chairs in hotel lobby windows alone brought from 600 to 800 marks, while window seats along the line of the procession sold for as much as 2000 marks. The old imperial colors fluttered at half mast from nearly every building.

A brilliant sun shone down on the funeral procession. Leading the brilliant group of officers immediately behind the hearse walked Hindenburg, carrying the field marshal's baton, and General Ludendorff on his left. Behind them was Grand Admiral von Tirpitz.

The entire procession was afoot. The long black train of the crown princess Cecillie's mourning dress dragged in the dust. Her little sons all were clad in sailor's uniforms.

White Wife and Chinese Wife in Estate Contest

Yakima, Wash., April 19.—A white wife in Yakima and a Chinese wife in China are contesting here over the estate of Ah Bong, Chinese merchant, who recently died here leaving considerable property. Mary Bong, white, applied for letters of administration, producing a marriage license dated September 19, 1914, secured in Colfax county, New Mexico. Three Chinese from Seattle appeared here with a will which they claim was made by Bong in which all his property is left to his wife and a son residing in China. The estate consists of $2630 in cash, $300 in Liberty bonds and $2000 in a savings account.

peace resolution, Senator Lodge (R., Mass.), chairman of the committee, announced today.
