STATE FACES AN IMPOSSIBLE TASK IN TUBER MOTH INSPECTION

EGG MARKET HAS AN ERRATIC TONE

THURSDAY DAIRY TRADE

	Butter.	Eggs.	Cheese.
Chicago	45c	25c	17 c
San Francisco	37c	29c	17½c
Seattle	39c	29c	.....
New York	49c	40c	29 c
Portland	39c	24c	28 c
Los Angeles	38c	28c	.....

Egg market prices are showing an erratic tone here. While f. o. b. buyers are talking of not above 18c for current receipts here, actual business is confirmed for resales along the street no lower than 20c and in some instances this price is being offered at country points.

There is more or less difficulty in establishing an egg market at this time. While New York prices are firmer and higher, Chicago has recently shown a small reduction. Some of the trade is talking of sending its eggs to Chicago, while others report that New York is the logical market.

The fact is that Chicago grading is less strict than New York and for that reason prices there are not as high. Then again some claim that the stricter grading and the more expensive freight rate to New York eliminates that market.

Receipts of eggs are not so liberal. Reports indicate that some of the country store keepers are hoarding supplies in the hope of forcing higher prices here.

Those desiring special information regarding any market, should write the Market Editor, Oregon Journal, enclosing stamp for reply.

BUTTER TRADE IS HELD WELL

The market for butter is showing a steady tone generally with all stocks cleaned up. Sales of extras were made during the 24 hours at 34 @ 35½c a pound. Prints are showing no change for the day.

POULTRY DEMAND IS STILL GOOD

While buying for the Jewish holidays appears to have subsided on account of the higher prices asked, sales of heavy weight hens were made at 33c a pound and lightweight stock at 28c during the day.

DRESSED MEATS SHOWING LOSS

Country killed meats are again weak and lower with sales of hogs at 15c to 16c for extreme tops and demand slow while veals are still arriving far in excess of demand and sales around 14 @ 15c for tops.

SPRING CHICKENS SHOW LOSS

Broilers are showing a loss in the chicken trade here because most of the stuff arriving is of small size of about one pound average. Such is selling around 35c with heavy broilers around 45c a pound.

APPLE DEMAND QUITE LIBERAL

Demand for apples in the local market continues quite liberal but prices here are unchanged. Stocks are good although most of the fruit consists of very small sizes.

BRIEF NOTES OF PRODUCE TRADE

California asparagus firmer at 15 @ 16c per pound.

Columbia river asparagus in good call around $2.50 per dozen bunches.

Splint market baskets down about 20 per cent.

Fresh salmon scarcer and higher; halibut lower.

Plenty of small sea fish available.

The MARKET BASKET — RETAIL PRICES.

By Hyman H. Cohen

Has the general public a war-time or profiteering appetite? The average retail butcher will tell you so, but I have recently talked with a number of housewives who say that the retailers are talking for effect.

For instance the butchers claim that the public's appetite is confined almost exclusively to roasts, steaks and chops and that it passes by the boiling meats that are just as good and much cheaper.

Retailers claim this is the reason why they must charge the high price for the better cuts because they find so little demand for the cheaper stock. Housewives on the other hand claim that the butchers always advance the price of the less desirable cuts whenever the public shows a demand for such stock.

In any event butchers all over the country make the same claim against the public's appetite as do the local retailers. For instance the Institute of American Meat Paackers sends out this cry of alarm:

"Although wages have been reduced, business has been contracted, purchasing power has been lessened and millions of men are reported idle, yet most consumers are still discriminating against the less expensive cuts of meat and continuing their wartime preference for steaks, chops and roasts.

"That circumstance constitutes an odd feature of the meat situation at the present time.

"It had been expected that any decrease in wages or employment would tend to increase sharply the demand for forequarter meats. Instead, the socalled choice cuts still enjoy a great preference, and meat that is equally nutritious and palatable is moving sluggishly at very much lower prices.

"This is true of beef, lamb and pork. Rarely has there been such a spread in price between popular cuts which can be prepared quickly and cuts which are used, for example, in making pot roasts, stews, etc. The housewife who knows how to cook chuck steak, corned beef, lamb stew, pot roasts and similar dishes now finds herself in position to obtain unusual bargains in those retail stores—and they no doubt are in the majority—which have adjusted their prices to the new wholesale levels.

"Explanation of the continued preference for the "choice" cuts at a time like this probably lies in the fact that wholesale meat prices have declined more than most prices, and all classes of meat, including the popular cuts, are still readily available even to those whose purchasing power has been reduced."

The following prices rule generally in retail shops for good quality. Some values are fractionally higher, inferior stuff fractionally lower.

Butter—Fresh creamery, 45c lb.

Onions—1½ @ 2c per lb.

Maximum prices on the Portland public market: Cabbage, 2c per lb.; cauliflower, 15c head; carrots, 2c per lb.; celery hearts, 15c; onions, 2c lb.; parsnips, 1½c lb.; dry beans, 7c lb.; bulk honey, quart, 90c; pint, 47c; ducks, 50c lb.; geese, 45c lb.; cottage cheese, 20c lb.; hens, 33 @ 35c lb.; fryers, 38c lb.; eggs, 26c dozen; butter, 42c lb.; milk, 11c quart.

Fruit Prices at A Lower Level In Week's Trade

Washington, April 21.—Price trends in fruit and vegetables were slightly downward the past week, according to a weekly market review from the department of agriculture. Only celery attracted higher prices. Lettuce, new onions, potatoes and strawberries declined. An abundance of cabbage this season was indicated in the statement that 1022 cars of new cabbage were shipped, compared with 853 cars in the previous week and 516 in the corresponding week a year ago. Freezing has injured the fruit crop in several sections.

Shoe Men Buck New Postal Rate And Ask Stay

Philadelphia, April 21.—A new ruling of the postoffice department has created so much confusion in the shoe business here that the Chamber of Commerce appealed to Postmaster General Hays for a 60-days stay. The ruling, which came without knowledge to most of the shoe dealers, ordered postmasters to refuse to accept for mailing shoes contained in ordinary boxes. It did not specify the kind of box that would be legal, but recommended the corrugated cardboard box.

TUBER MOTH GETS BY REGULATIONS

By Hyman H. Cohen

Indicating the stern necessity for the state of Oregon in taking strenuous measures to combat the dreaded tuber moth that comes with the California potato early in the season, is the fact that despite all precaution, tuber moth infected stock is actually being offered in the Portland market.

The embargo notice issued by the state Wednesday and published in this paper, was scarcely dry before it was discovered that no small task has been apportioned to the officials who have charge of enforcing the protective laws of the state.

The Market Editor of The Journal, just to see how the inspection was working, picked up a number of the new crop California stock. The second potato gathered showed the tell tale "hole" of the tuber moth. The potato being split showed the moth lying there as snug as possible despite the fact that this potato as well as others had been officially inspected and passed as clean and free from the dreaded insect.

No criticism is made against inspection officials for thus overlooking the tuber moth infected stock. It is impossible for the officials with their present force or even with a reasonable one, to make a thorough inspection of each shipment. To do so, every potato must be closely examined for it is not always the habit of the tuber moth to invade the very potato that the inspecor will pick up for examination.

Criticism is shown against the latest order of the state because it still leaves the question up in the air. The potato trade says that either the California stock should stop coming here or else the buyers be assured that their legitimate purchases be not condemned.

Little Change in Wheat Price at Chicago Opening

Chicago, April 21.—(I. N. S.)—Wheat closed strong and at the best prices for the day. Coarse grains rallied late, in sympathy with wheat, but values averaged lower. It was a choppy market most of the way, prices fluctuating rapidly up and down, but the undertone of the market was never weak. Provisions were uneven.

Resting prices for May wheat were at gains of 1¾, July up ¾ @ 1¼c. May corn unchanged to ⅜c lower, July ¼c to ½c off, and September ¼ @ ½c lower. May oats unchanged, July unchanged to ¼c lower, and September ⅛c up.

Most of the hogs came direct to killers Thursday but the general livestock trade showed little change for the day, either in price or sentiment.

In the hog alleys out of a total run of 755 head, 491 swine came direct to killers. Such stock from the Midwest is said to cost approximately $9.60 to $9.75 to land at Portland on the basis of current Eastern quotations while local values are much higher. Early sales in the hog alleys Thursday were around $10.75 for tops but some believed that $11 would still be available although many doubted this. In any event the market was inclined to sag and looks dangerous.

NO ACTIVITY IN COTTON AND PRICE IS QUIET

New York, April 21.—(I. N. S.)—Without being active, the cotton market was steady, unchanged to 3 points higher today. The cables were somewhat better than had been due, and Wall street commission houses and room shorts bought moderately at the state. The selling was principally for the South, Japanese and hedging interests.

At the end of the first 15 minutes the undertone remained steady, with prices 2 to 4 points net higher, late months showing the most firmness.

Continued liquidation of May caused unsettlement in the last hour. Wall street and local buying gave the cotton market a very steady tone in the late dealings with the close unchanged to 8 points lower.

Spot cotton was quiet today, 5 points lower, at 12.10. No sales.

Grain trade here is making time to some extent. Recent bulge in values, which was followed by a reaction, stopped to a considerable extent the selling at country points.

Recent heavy chartering of vessels for European loading, fully confirm previous reports in this department to the effect that Europe was literally "buying its head off" because wheat was so cheap that it was now a good speculation. The success of the British commission, otherwise known as the International clique, in thus far creating artificial conditions and prices for wheat, has caused that government to continue its hold on the grain markets much longer than any other country.

Bad crop reports from various countries and especially India, are all indicative of the fact that there is no such thing as a full crop of wheat anywhere.

Flour markets are quiet with prices generally unchanged.

Bering Sea Eliminated

San Francisco, April 21.—It was announced here today that the Alaska Codfish company has decided to confine its shipping in Alaska waters this season to its five shore stations because of the difference with its fishermen. The company usually sends four ships into the Bering sea. The proposal to cut the wages 45 per cent was rejected by the fishermen.

FORMER PORTLAND TRADERS RETURN TO LOAD WHEAT

Captain H. Jacubson and Chief Officer A. Musaens of the Danish motorship Indien, in from the Orient and under charter to Houser to load wheat for the continent, are old traders in Portland. Captain Jacubson was chief officer of the Keena in 1912 and his present mate was an A. B. with him at that time.

The Indien sailed from Yokohama for Portland April 2 and made the river in 17 days, an average speed across the Pacific of better than 200 miles a day. On the second day out from the Japanese port the Indien hit a typhoon and for 36 hours played in hard luck. The balance of the voyage was heavy weather but the wind was fair and the gas boat turned along at a goodly speed.

Captain Jacubson states that business in Japan is improving. Merchants are now able to secure satisfactory letters of credit and can buy without delay. There is a great demand in Japan for wheat and flour and lumber and with the look up in the money market there is a big chance for Oriental business from Pacific coast ports.

During the past two weeks there has been a big movement to the West Coast of South America in the cereal line and indications are that there will be a steay export trade to the Antipodes up until the time new crop grain comes in.

MUCH GRAIN BEING MOVED OVERSEAS FROM PORTLAND

With seven grain carriers in the river for grain loading within the next 10 days, two already gone and eight more for early May loading, the foreign business for the port looks well over the top of neighboring ports. The bulk of the wheat for export will go to the United Kingdom. Two cargoes are booked for Italy and one for Copenhagen in Denmark.

Houser has taken the British steamship Benledi for Portland loading about the middle of May. A drop in the shipping board rates of from 5 to 10 shillings a ton has opened up a new bunch of business and charters are looked for daily.

The shipping board made the drop to meet the competition of foreign vessels. The latter were operating on a basis of 60s U. K. while the board rate was 10s above that.

The seven vessels now in Portland for grain cargoes are: Asia, Norwegian motorship; Hanley, American steamship; Indian, Danish motorship; West Nomentum, Statesman, American steamship; Eastern Guide, American steamship; Moerdyk, Dutch steamship. The total amount of net tonnage of the seven vessels is 27,273, with a carrying capacity of 2,500,000 bushels of wheat.

SEAMEN FIRM AGAINST PAY REDUCTION, SAYS FURUSETH

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, April 21.—American shipping will be completely tied up on May 1 if the owners persist in their efforts to reduce wages, Andrew Furuseth, president of the International Seamen's union, declared today.

Furuseth, a typical "old salt," stid the seamen "will not recede one inch" from their present stand, and predicted that a strike would involve every member of the union on both coasts and the Great Lakes. There are 110,000 members, of whom about 35,000 are now idle because of shipping depression.

Winthrop L. Marvin, president of the American Steamship Owners' association, declared he was confident the seamen would come to terms before the expiration of the present wage agreement at the end of this month.

Both sides are willing for the United States government to act as intermediary providing they are unable to settle the dispute themselves. Furuseth already is making daily reports to Secretary Hoover. Representatives of two government departments will participate in the conferences of seamen and owners, which will be resumed Monday.

PETITION FOR HILL LINERS PRESENTED TO RAILROAD

Petitions asking the S. P. & S. to repurchase the steamships Great Northern and Northern Pacific from the government and replace the vessels in service between the Columbia river and California ports have been received by W. F. Turner, president of the company, and have been forwarded by him to the headquarters of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroads for consideration.

The petitions were introduced to business men of the city at the members' forum meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Monday noon. The request for return of the steamers and a pledge for support has been made by 100 of the most prominent business men of the city.

The two steamers operated on the Columbia river-California run for the Hill lines until commandeered by the government late in 1917.

MERCHANTS EXCHANGE TO OCCUPY LARGER QUARTERS

The Merchants Exchange will move May 1. Ed Wright, manager, announced this morning that the exchange would take up new and more commodious quarters in the same building and on the same floor. The rooms now occupied by the exchange will be taken by the Federal Telegraph company.

The Merchants Exchange has been in operation in Portland for the past 42 years and during that entire time has been within a few blocks of the present location. It has been located in the Board of Trade building for 14 years. Mr. Wright has managed the affairs for 27 years and Fred Clark has been assistant manager for 22 years.

WEST HARTLAND LIBELED AS RESULT OF DISASTER

Tacoma, Wash., April 21.—(U. P.)—Libel proceedings against the United States shipping board steamer West Hartland, which rammed and sunk the steamer Governor on the night of April 1 between Port Wilson and Marrowstone point, were filed in the United States district court here today by the Aubrey-Becker Sales company.

The Aubrey-Becker company brings suit to collect for a shipment of dye soap that it had sent from San Francisco to Seattle on the Governor.

ALL ALONG THE WATERFRONT

The steamship Pawlet of the Admiral line shifted to Inman-Poulsen lumber mills this morning to finish out lumber for the Orient. Captain Murray will have Robert Hall as chief officer on this voyage out. Hall was formerly in the Wawalona and succeeds Emil Olsen.

The steamship Yalza of the Nasco line in the intercoastal service arrived up this morning and berthed at Terminal No. 2. She brought 165 tons of general for Portland and will load part cargo out, finishing at San Francisco.

The McCormick line steamer Celilo sailed this afternoon from St. Helens with lumber and passengers for San Diego and way. The Multnomah of the same line is due to sail April 27.

The Steel Ranger entered this morning with a small lot of inbound freight from the Atlantic side. She cleared for San Francisco.

H. J. O'Neill Appointed

H. J. O'Neill, former freight traffic agent for the O-W. R. & N., has been named assistant freight agent for the San Francisco & Portland Steamship company, according to announcement made by Charles H. Dexter, general agent of the freight department. The position left by O'Neill will be filled by W. H. Engelke.

Tonnage Rates Firm

New York, April 21.—(I. N. S.)—Demand for tonnage remains steady and rates are firm. Wheat rates to Germany are slightly stiffened and Holland shows an advance of 2s 6d. Freights—Ocean (steam) grain, firm; United Kingdom, 7s; Germany, 27 marks; France, 25; Holland, 25-27½; General cargo, steady tonnage demand and supply about equal.
