

BOY WHO DANCED MUST PAY FIDDLER IN REFORM SCHOOL

Julian H. Corbett, the 17-year-old forger, who danced gaily in a Multnomah hotel one night recently with only a few cents in his pocket while a taxi on which the bill was over $7 waited for him outside, must go to the reform school at Salem, Judge Kanzer of the court of domestic relations decided this morning.

Julian suggested that he be allowed to join the navy but the judge thought he was not yet fully repentant and that a hitch in the service might only lead him deeper into crime.

About $100 in bad checks were passed by Julian in Portland. These will be held and he will be required to pay them when he leaves the reform school.

Julian came here from San Francisco, where his mother resides.

Marshall Fraser, charged with violation of the Oregon blue sky law, is on trial in Circuit Judge Gatens' court. Frasier is alleged to have organized the Your Transportation line in Columbia county, Wash., for the purpose of running buses between Portland and Seattle, and then selling stock in Oregon without receiving the proper permit. J. B. Lawson Jr. testified this morning that he paid $2000 on a truck and turned this over to Frasier as stock in the company. He then says Frasier skipped out and he had no truck.

While living in Nebraska, Rev. Mr. Hatch was ordained to preach by the United Brethren church, and he later affiliated with the Presbyterian denom-ination. BRITISH MINERS FIRM IN DEMAND

By Ed L. Keen
London, April 21.—(U. P.)—Striking British coal miners, stand-ing alone in their demand for prac-tical nationalization of industry, re-fused today to abandon the issue.

When union executives from all parts of the kingdom met here today, a ma-jority were under instruction to con-tinue the fight for a pooling of min-eral profits and a national wage board. There was just a hint that the demand for pooling might be altered in some par-ticulars, making it less "boldly a scheme for nationalization."

Government officers, their attention centered on German reparations, left the miners alone to debate their ques-tions.

Despite lack of strike funds, men in the mining districts were firm in their refusal to work.

Industries continued to shut down for lack of fuel and municipal officers drew up regulations for handling of the coal reserve, built up somewhat by ship-ments from America.

GERMANY TO MAKE FURTHER EFFORT FOR U. S. MEDIATION

By John Graudenz,
(United News Staff Correspondent)
Berlin, April 21.—America's reply to the German offer refusing to act as mediator between Germany and the allies has been received and it ap-pears that the way open for further approaches by Germany.

This opportunity is expected to be im-proved by the German government with important conciliatory steps. De-tails of the next German communi-cations in this campaign are secret so far, however.

The cabinet was in session when the American refusal arrived. After the message had been transmitted the members voted in favor of availing the nation of the opportunity which they discerned in the state department's plea to Seattle. It is understood that communication was forwarded through the American mission.

REPORTED GERMAN APPEAL IS LIVE TOPIC AT CAPITAL

Washington, April 21.—(I. N. S.)—Seemingly authentic reports from Berlin that the German government has addressed an outright appeal to President Harding to intervene in the reparations dispute in the role of mediator were scanned with great interest today in official and diplomatic circles here.

In the absence of official confirmation that the German appeal actually has been received, comment in high quarters was guarded. The attitude of the Harding administration on the question of reparations has been expressed only generally in the six weeks it has been in control. Secretary of State Hughes, in his recent informal memorandum to the German government, took the stand that Germany is morally responsible for the horrors of the World war and being thus guilty is obligated to pay reparations to the best of her ability.

HAYWOOD NOT PASSENGER ON STEAMER OSCAR II

New York, April 21.—(U. P.)—The Oscar II, upon which "Big Bill" Hay-wood is said to have fled from this country, did not carry the name of the I. W. W. leader on its passenger list, it was learned from officials of the Scandinavian-American line here today. For that reason it was believed Hay-wood sailed under an assumed name and possibly in disguise.

Haywood was seen here as late as the last week in March. Then he dis-appeared and was reported to have gone to Erie, Pa.

Friends of Haywood here said they understood that he has arrived in Moscow as one of seven American dele-gates to the Moscow Trades Union In-ternationale, which opens here July 1.

Mrs. George Strayer Goes for Children Deserted by Father

After a separation of six months, Mrs. George Strayer is on her way to her children, Elden and Merwin, who, ac-cording to reports of the Tacoma po-lice, had been abandoned by their father in that city. The report stated that the two boys, aged 10 and 4, were found in a cheap lodging-house Mon-day, half starved. Their father, George Strayer, is alleged to have deserted their mother, leaving nothing but a $1 bill. Mrs. Strayer went to Tacoma Wednes-day night.

Strayer conducted a mission on North Fourth street in Portland several years ago, in which he claimed to be feeding destitute men and women. About 18 months ago he is said to have deserted his wife and children, immediately fol-lowing which Mrs. Strayer obtained work in Richland, Or. In November he learned the whereabouts of his family and visited there, asking permission to take Elden and Merwin out for a walk. According to Mrs. Strayer, this was the last she saw or heard of them until Mrs. Lola G. Baldwin of the wom-en's protective division notified her of Strayer's alleged to have deserted the reported desertion in Tacoma.

"Natural gas production from several superficial borings has reached 16,000 feet, and will be marketed commercially in Kennewick and Pasco," he explained. "Nine wells are being put down now, but I regard only one of these as an ad-equate attempt to reach the deep oil-bearing sands. We propose to spend as much as $75,000 in a thorough ad-vance of this initial subscription. The gas of Benton county has a large gasoline content, and is regarded by Major Oatley as one of the best petroleum deposits. We have organized the Commonwealth Petroleum company, of which Manley B. Haynes, a large land owner of Hanford, within the anticipated oil field, is president; Walter Keene is secretary-treasurer; W. L. Gazzam, well known Seattle business man, is a director and is general man-ager. The company is proceeding at the present time, however, without any over-head expense."

Waffle-Time is Here!

WEAR-EVER ALUMINUM TRADE MARK MADE IN U.S.A.

If you do not have hot waffles at your table on cold winter mornings you are missing a real breakfast delight. Hot waffles! Crispy and brown and dripping with syrup. To make them just right—you must have a "Wear-Ever" Waffle Mold, as countless women know. Beautifully browned and deliciously crisp with the centres baked just as thoroughly as the outside. "Wear-Ever" waffles tempt the most jaded appetite.

"Wear-Ever" Aluminum Waffle Mold

requires no grease. Therefore, there is no smoke or odor to fill the house—and the waffles are far more digestible than those made with grease.

To prepare batter, mix well but avoid beating. Once batter is mixed do not stir it again.

Always add fat the last thing. Soft butter is as good, if not better than melted butter.

Pasty flour makes better waffles than bread flour. Part rice flour makes a crisp and delicious waffle.

Recipe for Making Waffles

- 1 cup pastry flour
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1/2 cup melted butter
- 1/2 cup eggs
- 1/2 cup salt
- 1/2 cup yeast
- 1/2 cup oil
- 1/2 cup water
- 1/2 cup flour
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1/2 cup eggs
- 1/2 cup salt
- 1/2 cup yeast
- 1/2 cup oil
- 1/2 cup water

NOTE: Rice flour used for 1/2 the flour makes a very tender, crisp waffle.

To regulate heat of waffle mold

1. Place mold over medium flame.
2. Brown sections. Insert a small piece of light colored paper.
3. When the paper begins to brown, the mold is ready for baking waffles.
4. Reduce the flame about one-half and bake waffles.
