DRESS

Miss Katherine Daly has as her house guest her sister, Mrs. E. Dempsey, of Astoria. On Tuesday she entertained with a small and very informal luncheon. Mrs. Dempsey sharing honors with Mrs. William Gadsby, who is up from the coast for a few days. Mrs. Neil Sullivan entertained Thursday with a small luncheon and today Mrs. Charles L. Bosa was hostess at a luncheon for Mrs. Dempsey.

Which turns to almost every period for its inspiration and, in the same mood, adopts the entire range of fabrics for its use, one may choose, with perfect aptness, either the flirty-ruffie-trimmed frock of organdie, batiste ororgette or crepe, or the slender, straight-line, loosely belted frock of Canton crepe, crepe de Chine, and be smartly and appropriately dressed for the tea hour. The frock at left has the gathered apron tunic, which is charmingly developed and pleated or taffeta, and is complemented by the lines of the curved blouse panel, cleverly cut in one piece, with its voluminous sash. Rows of insertion and pleated or fluted ruffles make an attractive trimming. An unusual, but attractive, nautical air clings to the yoked frock at the right, which has the convenience of kimono-cut sleeves and a unique collar fastening. The knotted sash may be of a contrasting color.

Hipp Mid-Week Offering Is Lively

THE show which opened Thursday at the Hippodrome is a lively affair, with something out of the ordinary to feature every act. The bill opens with the DeOnzo, a trio of equilibristes, who use bottle tops, candlesticks and glass pinnacles upon which to cavort. E. J. Moore, billed as the "Gabby Trigraster," and his rotund associate kept things disapparently and reappearing in magic fashion, and all the while Moore lived up to his title of "gabby" with a line of laughable patter.

Floyd Mack and Maybelle, his pretty partner, presented a mirthful skit staged in front of a phonograph record shop, which they called "Her Voice." Mack is a splendid soft shoe dancer, and his partner does credit to a number of pretty costumes.

The featured act on the bill is Billy Hart and a quartet of good looking girls, who dance a variety of numbers that hale from as far back as the day of the pyramids and up to the present. Hart is himself a well-known showman, and his act is enlivened by his laughable "barking." Dolly Jordan, with a captivating stage presence, enhanced by very impressive dancing, entertained for a "Few Pleasant Moments" with singing and piano music. Miss Jordan's cockney and Italian rapings was a hit. The motion picture play is a drama with an unusual theme, entitled, "It Isn't Being Done This Season." Corinne Griffith is the star.

Arthur Shattuck, Famous Pianist, Is From Wisconsin

Arthur Shattuck, eminent American pianist, who will be heard as soloist with the New York Philharmonic orchestra at the Auditorium next Tuesday evening, claims Wisconsin as his birthplace. Although he has spent most of his time during the past 15 or 20 years in Europe, he is typically an American and he incorporates "that something" into his playing. For 19 years he was a pupil of the great Leschetzky in Vienna, later making successful concert tours both in Europe and America. One of his interesting concert tours took him to Iceland and Finland last year before the great war broke out. He played in the principal cities of both these countries, meeting with enthusiastic reception. Although this is his first appearance in Portland, he will be greeted by many friends and admirers who have heard him in the East.

MANY a stout woman's tragedy is not so much "I am stout" as "I look stout." And it is all the more a tragedy because it is unnecessary, for thru proper corseting the stout woman can achieve an effect of slenderness.

Rengo Belt Reducing Corsets straighten out the hips and abdominal lines, giving the desired effect of slenderness without discomfort. Their exclusive Rengo Belt feature and their long wearing quality have earned them the reputation of being "the most economical reducing corsets ever devised."

Rengo Corsets are economically priced from $2 to $10
