Waverley Dance Is in Charge of Women

By Helen Hutchison
REMINISCENT of the days of the Cinderella, a club made up of the young women of the social contingent of the city some years ago, a dance will be given this evening at Waverley Country club, for which the women will be hostesses, entertaining their escorts for the affair and reversing the usual order of social custom. The dance will assemble some 200 of the society folk of the city and will be an innovation in the regular program of affairs given during the season. The music will be ready for the dancers at 10 o'clock and in place of supper a menu which will follow the lines of a breakfast party will be served at 5 o'clock.

Numerous parties have been made up for the occasion and a rule has been made through the company that none of the women are expected to invite their own husbands for the occasion. Arrangements for the affair have been made by Mrs. David Taylor Honeyman and Mrs. Josephine Smith Andrews.

The marriage of Miss Maurine Collier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Collier, and Dr. Ullrich C. Coe was solemnized Wednesday at high noon at the home of the bride's parents in Divisadero street. Mrs. Elizabeth M. Andrus, who recently returned from a trip to Australia and New Zealand, was the guest of honor at a luncheon for which Mrs. George D. Schaak and Mrs. W. H. Grindstaff were hostesses today.

The dinner for Edwin Markham, which was to have been given at the University club, has been transferred to the crystal room of the Hotel Benson at 7 o'clock Friday evening.

M., held a largely attended session Thursday night at East Thirty-ninth street and Hawthorne avenue and received an unusually large number of favorable reports from committees and balloted on candidates they recommended. 45 Colored Circus Men Are Discharged

Centrals, Wash., May 13.—Forty-five negroes were discharged by the management of the A. J. Barnes circus here for to a free fight in which Joe Brown, a colored employe, was wounded in the arm by a shot and the "sacred ox" was crippled, after Jay Anderson, another negro, was accused of insulting a white woman. Lodge Has Birthday

Pleasing Bill at Hippodrome for Week-End

AN ENTERTAINING bill throughout, and one which offers a nice variety with none of the acts stepping on any of the others' toes so far as similarity is concerned, opened at the Hippodrome Thursday afternoon. There is a sketch and a good one, too; some juggling, droll comicallies; singing and piano and novelty acrobatics. Besides this there is Buster Keaton in the latest of his screen comicallies. Perhaps you will think that "Convict 13" is funnier than his "Neighbors," perhaps you won't, but this Keaton comedy will rock you with laughing until you are ready to call it quits, anyhow.

William E. Morris, assisted by Miss Ella Clay and George L. Spaulding, enact the sketch, with Morris the featured player. The playlet is called "Did You Vote?" and while there are lots of good sketches offered, none of them are more entertaining than this clever little satire. Morris proves himself a clever character actor, with plenty of ability to amuse.

Two clever comedians, Tommy Van and Sara Vernon come in for favorable mention with an oddity. Van is a good craftsman in the fun factory and the ever smiling and the ever laughing Vernon proved an excellent foil for his funny-isms.

Frank Hartley is a rapid fire juggler and he closely lives up to the catchline under his name on the program, "The High explosive of Jugglery." Sherman, Van and Hyman are a trio of chaps who sing and are really funny. One of them presides at the piano. Introducing their novelty athletics with comedy and singing, Play and Castleton handled this end of the bill in acceptable fashion.

Willamette Co-ed Debaters Victors Over W. S. C. Girls

Willamette University, Salem, May 13.—Closing the varsity co-ed debate schedule with a victory, Willamette's teams captured both ends of the dual contest with Washington State college Thursday night. Judges for the Salem contest were Miss Cornelia Marvin, state librarian; George Hug, superintendent of Salem schools, and Principal J. C. Nelson of Salem high school.

Myrtle Mason, a senior of Boise, Idaho, who for three years has represented Willamette in forensics, debated for the institution for the last time at Pullman. Ruby Rosenkrantz, a freshman of Colfax, Wash., her colleague, was honored by a reception given by the Commercial club of Colfax while on the north trip. They won an unanimous decision.

DRESS

With the advent of the season for sports and country clothes there is an ever constant demand for apparel which is correct, yet smart, simple, yet appropriate. For golfing, tennis, walking and all the other sports of summer which do not require special costumes there is nothing more serviceable and really satisfying than the three-piece costume of skirt, crisp blouse and softly tailored coat. If the coat is developed in a different color or fabric from the skirt, as for instance, in striped blazer cloth, still more interest may be added to one's appearance. In the suit illustrated the circular skirt of flannel is topped by a semi-tailored blouse which claims as its most distinguishing feature the ability to slip on over the head. The deeply scalloped box coat needs no more than its binding of braid and two slash pockets for trimming, and the frills of the blouse do duty as a waistcoat.
