

MRS. J. G. KAMM DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS, AGED 29

Mrs. Florence Bonnell Kamm died at her home at 562 Montgomery drive Thursday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock following an illness of several months. Mrs. Kamm, who was the wife of Jacob Gray Kamm and a daughter-in-law of Mrs. Jacob Kamm of 488 Main street, was Miss Florence Bonnell before her marriage several years ago. She made her home for a time with an aunt, Mrs. Jessie Glenn, in this city, and spent several years prior to her marriage with Mr. and Mrs. D. M. McLaughlin. She was a student at Allen's Preparatory school and later attended the University of Oregon, where she became affiliated with the Chi Omega sorority. She was graduated from the university in the class of 1913. Mrs. Kamm, who was 29 years of age, was a young woman of great personal charm, had a wide circle of friends in the city, where she was a member of the Portland chapter of the Junior League, and was interested in the work of the Portland Fruit and Flower Mission. She is survived by her husband and two children, Carolyn, aged 3 years, and Kathryn, aged 1 year. Funeral services, at which Dr. Harold Bowman of the First Presbyterian church will officiate, will be held at Finley's chapel at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Interment will be at River-view cemetery.

MRS. EUNICE POND ATHEY, SUFFRAGE CHAMPION, DIES

Mrs. Eunice Pond Athey, who came West in 1889 to take charge of the woman suffrage campaign in Idaho, and who was given credit by Susan B. Anthony for securing suffrage there, died Thursday at her home in Portland. Mrs. Athey was born in Hazel Green, Wis., in 1847, and was 73 years old at the time of her death. She was the wife of Morrison C. Athey who was the third white child born in Oregon. She is survived by four children, Mrs. Lenora E. Coover, assistant supervisor of music in Portland schools; Lynton E. Athey, formerly with the Baker Stock company, but now in New York city; Mornay C. Athey, editor of the Hermiston Herald, and O. W. Athey, head of the printing department, Benson Polytechnic school. She was a member of Martha Washington chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, and Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic. Funeral services will be held at Finley's chapel Saturday at 3:30 p.m. Sergeants Report for Duty Sergeants Frank M. Hager and George T. Walks reported this morning for duty at the Portland marine corps recruiting office. Both men were formerly attached to the station and have returned to take the places left vacant by Sergeants

HEADS OF METHODISM IN AMERICA ASSEMBLE HERE TODAY

From the left, front row—Bishop Homer C. Stunts of Omaha, Bishop Joseph C. Hartzell of Cincinnati (retired), Bishop Thomas Nicholson of Chicago (presiding bishop at this session), Bishop William F. McDowell of Washington, D. C., Bishop Luther B. Wilson of New York city (secretary), Bishop John W. Hamilton of Washington, D. C. (retired), Bishop Thomas B. Neely of Philadelphia (retired), Bishop Charles B. Mitchell of St. Paul. Second row—Bishop Frederick B. Leete of Indianapolis, Bishop William O. Shepard of Portland, Bishop William Burt of Buffalo, N. Y., Bishop Francis J. McConnell of Pittsburgh, Bishop Charles Mead of Denver, Bishop Theodore S. Henderson of Detroit. Third row—Bishop Adna W. Leonard of San Francisco, Bishop Robert E. Jones of New Orleans, Bishop E. L. Waldorf of Wichita, Kan., Bishop William F. Anderson of Cincinnati. Fourth row—Bishop Ernest G. Richardson of Atlanta, Ga.

James Henry and Ensell Todd, both of whom have been discharged.

Liquor Operations Charged Lawrence Perry, Arnold Wilson and Hershel Wagner were arrested by the police Thursday night for federal authorities following the discovery of alleged illegal liquor operations. The boys are charged with manufacturing a "fake" brand of whiskey using grain alcohol and flavoring oils.

METHODISTS PLANNING PORTLAND HOSPITAL

(Continued From Page One) ored bishop on the board, were strong supporters of recommendations made by Bishop Leete.

Bishop Charles B. Mitchell of St. Paul presided this morning and Bishop E. L. Waldorf of Wichita, Kan., in the afternoon, when the much debated question of the proper course of study for young preachers was discussed. High school boys are to be invited to conferences of the Methodist church in an effort to induce them to hear the report of this bishop. The shortage of pastors has become so acute that the board of bishops last year delegated a bishop to investigate. The report of this bishop, Theodore Henderson of Detroit, Mich., was being widely discussed today, following his remarks at Thursday's session. He cited the small salaries paid against the high cost of living as the chief reason that young men seek employment outside the pulpit. Bishop Henderson was appointed at the last meeting of the board to visit the conferences of the various bishops and find men for the ministry. He reported the problems he met. A committee of seven bishops was appointed to bring in a report on the accomplishments of the centenary movement before the session adjourns. The First Methodist church was crowded Thursday night and an overflow meeting was held at the White Temple, the occasion being the formal reception to the board of bishops. Dr. W. W. Youngson, superintendent of the Portland district, presided. GOVERNOR HAS PRAISE Governor Ben W. Olcott welcomed the heads of Methodism to the state, paying high tribute to the work of the pioneer Methodist preachers and especially to Jason Lee. He said the "rigorous teaching of children in Methodist families has paid large dividends." He referred to Willamette university as the "cradle of learning in the Northwest," and invited the bishops to visit Salem and view the many landmarks which Methodism has in and about the capital. Speaking from the standpoint of a layman, Mayor Baker requested the board to give careful consideration to the juvenile problem. He recited several instances where boys of 11 to 17 years of age had been caught robbing. He also hinted that good church members could not "go to church on Sunday and patronize bootleggers on Monday."

BISHOPS WELCOMED The mayor welcomed the distinguished guests to the city. Dr. Joshua Stansfield, pastor of the entertaining church, welcomed the bishops on behalf of the clergy of this area, and Robert A. Booth on behalf of the laymen. Booth expressed a hope that the bishops would give a message before they left that would help lift the world out of its selfish state and help it to become a more royal brotherhood. A glowing tribute was also paid to the late Bishop Matthew Simpson Hughes by Governor Olcott. Following the addresses of welcome Bishop Edwin H. Hughes of Boston, the bishop farthest removed from this area, and a brother of the late Bishop Matt Hughes, gave the response. The rostrum from which he spoke was also the last Oregon pulpit which his brother occupied. Bishop Hughes agreed that Oregon has a fine Methodist history, but literally "wrote" the glory, stating that these men all came from New England. After giving his impression of the grandeur of this western country he said, closing: "What a tragedy it will be if Oregon cannot raise men that will match her mountains." Bishop William F. McDowell of Washington, D. C., addressed the overflow meeting at the White Temple. Following the services an informal reception was held in the Sunday school temple. In the receiving line were: "Dr. W. W. Youngson, Dr. Joshua Stansfield, Bishop John W. Hamilton, Bishop Joseph C. Hartzell, Robert A. Booth, Bishop William F. McDowell, Bishop William Burt, Amedeo M. Smith, Bishop Luther B. Wilson, Bishop Thomas B. Neely, J. D. Lee, Bishop William F. Anderson, Bishop Edwin H. Hughes, J. R. Ellison, Bishop Frank M. Bristol, Bishop Homer C. Stunts, F. S. Aikin, Bishop S. Henderson, Bishop William O. Shepard, Dr. Richmond Kelly, Bishop Francis J. McConnell, Bishop Frederick D. Leete, J. W. Day, Bishop Thomas Nicholson, Bishop Adna W. Leonard, Dr. J. L. Hewitt, Bishop Charles B. Mitchell, Bishop Ernest L. Waldorf, Norman L. Coleman, Bishop Ernest G. Richardson, Bishop Charles W. Burns, E. S. Collins, Bishop Charles L. Mead, Bishop Robert E. Jones, Dr. R. L. Steves. DINNER PLANNED Epworth Leaguers of Portland have arranged a big rally for 7:45 o'clock tonight at Centenary-Wilbur Methodist church, when Bishop Adna W. Leonard will speak. The Rev. E. E. Kirkpatrick, pastor of the First Methodist church at Salem and president of the board of control of the Epworth league of Oregon, will preside. Bishop chapter attending is expected to greet the leader with a special "stunt." Saturday noon Methodist laymen, both men and women, will have dinner with the bishops in the Oxford parlors of First church. Tickets must be secured in advance. Bishop McConnell of Pittsburg addressed the students at Reed college Thursday during the chapel hour, and Bishop Leonard will speak Monday noon at the same place. Bishop McDowell addressed the City club this noon at the Benson hotel on "The Winning Temperament." Bishop Leete of Indianapolis will speak before the Civic league Saturday noon at the Benson hotel on "The Winning Temperament." Bishop Homer C. Stunts of Omaha has been selected to address the Chamber of Commerce forum Monday noon. His topic will be "Foreign Trade Relations."

GASOLINE IS CUT 2 CENTS IN PORTLAND

(Continued From Page One) on oil and the reduction of 20 cents a barrel in marine carrying charges, announced by the Standard Oil company about a week ago. Attorney Laing said he thought a re-

COMMISSION PROMISES CUT IN LOCAL PRICE OF GAS

Salem, Or., May 13.—Still further reductions in the price of gas to patrons of the Portland Gas & Coke company are promised by the public service commission in a statement issued this morning by Chairman Fred A. Williams, based upon another announced reduction of 25 cents per barrel in the price of crude oil. This last reduction will be considered in connection with the reduction of 20 cents per barrel in the price of oil announced a week ago, in determining the extent of the reduction in the price of gas to the consumer, the statement sets out. "The commission has just been advised of a further reduction in oil prices to the Portland Gas & Coke company of 25 cents per barrel," the statement of the commission said. "This will require further investigation and readjustment of the present figures and calculations of the commission begun immediately after the announcement of the 20 cent reduction a week ago. "It is our information that the company fortunately did not purchase a cargo of oil at the preceding quotation and, therefore, we are of the opinion that the rates hereafter to be fixed can equitably take into consideration the total of the two reductions, namely, 45 cents per barrel. However, we cannot make an exact and definite statement until we have completed the investigations which we are now pursuing, nor is it possible to fix at this time the effective date. Nevertheless, the patrons can rest assured that they will get the full benefit of every cent of reduction on the price of oil, properly distributed among all classes. "A substantial reduction will be made effective in ample time to take advantage of the lower cost of oil so that patrons will have the benefit of cheaper oil until the present supply is exhausted."

SAFETY IN LOCAL PRICE OF GAS

Salem, Or., May 13.—Still further reductions in the price of gas to patrons of the Portland Gas & Coke company are promised by the public service commission in a statement issued this morning by Chairman Fred A. Williams, based upon another announced reduction of 25 cents per barrel in the price of crude oil. This last reduction will be considered in connection with the reduction of 20 cents per barrel in the price of oil announced a week ago, in determining the extent of the reduction in the price of gas to the consumer, the statement sets out. "The commission has just been advised of a further reduction in oil prices to the Portland Gas & Coke company of 25 cents per barrel," the statement of the commission said. "This will require further investigation and readjustment of the present figures and calculations of the commission begun immediately after the announcement of the 20 cent reduction a week ago. "It is our information that the company fortunately did not purchase a cargo of oil at the preceding quotation and, therefore, we are of the opinion that the rates hereafter to be fixed can equitably take into consideration the total of the two reductions, namely, 45 cents per barrel. However, we cannot make an exact and definite statement until we have completed the investigations which we are now pursuing, nor is it possible to fix at this time the effective date. Nevertheless, the patrons can rest assured that they will get the full benefit of every cent of reduction on the price of oil, properly distributed among all classes. "A substantial reduction will be made effective in ample time to take advantage of the lower cost of oil so that patrons will have the benefit of cheaper oil until the present supply is exhausted."

SAFETY IN LOCAL PRICE OF GAS

Salem, Or., May 13.—Still further reductions in the price of gas to patrons of the Portland Gas & Coke company are promised by the public service commission in a statement issued this morning by Chairman Fred A. Williams, based upon another announced reduction of 25 cents per barrel in the price of crude oil. This last reduction will be considered in connection with the reduction of 20 cents per barrel in the price of oil announced a week ago, in determining the extent of the reduction in the price of gas to the consumer, the statement sets out. "The commission has just been advised of a further reduction in oil prices to the Portland Gas & Coke company of 25 cents per barrel," the statement of the commission said. "This will require further investigation and readjustment of the present figures and calculations of the commission begun immediately after the announcement of the 20 cent reduction a week ago. "It is our information that the company fortunately did not purchase a cargo of oil at the preceding quotation and, therefore, we are of the opinion that the rates hereafter to be fixed can equitably take into consideration the total of the two reductions, namely, 45 cents per barrel. However, we cannot make an exact and definite statement until we have completed the investigations which we are now pursuing, nor is it possible to fix at this time the effective date. Nevertheless, the patrons can rest assured that they will get the full benefit of every cent of reduction on the price of oil, properly distributed among all classes. "A substantial reduction will be made effective in ample time to take advantage of the lower cost of oil so that patrons will have the benefit of cheaper oil until the present supply is exhausted."

SAFETY IN LOCAL PRICE OF GAS

Salem, Or., May 13.—Still further reductions in the price of gas to patrons of the Portland Gas & Coke company are promised by the public service commission in a statement issued this morning by Chairman Fred A. Williams, based upon another announced reduction of 25 cents per barrel in the price of crude oil. This last reduction will be considered in connection with the reduction of 20 cents per barrel in the price of oil announced a week ago, in determining the extent of the reduction in the price of gas to the consumer, the statement sets out. "The commission has just been advised of a further reduction in oil prices to the Portland Gas & Coke company of 25 cents per barrel," the statement of the commission said. "This will require further investigation and readjustment of the present figures and calculations of the commission begun immediately after the announcement of the 20 cent reduction a week ago. "It is our information that the company fortunately did not purchase a cargo of oil at the preceding quotation and, therefore, we are of the opinion that the rates hereafter to be fixed can equitably take into consideration the total of the two reductions, namely, 45 cents per barrel. However, we cannot make an exact and definite statement until we have completed the investigations which we are now pursuing, nor is it possible to fix at this time the effective date. Nevertheless, the patrons can rest assured that they will get the full benefit of every cent of reduction on the price of oil, properly distributed among all classes. "A substantial reduction will be made effective in ample time to take advantage of the lower cost of oil so that patrons will have the benefit of cheaper oil until the present supply is exhausted."

SAFETY IN LOCAL PRICE OF GAS

Salem, Or., May 13.—Still further reductions in the price of gas to patrons of the Portland Gas & Coke company are promised by the public service commission in a statement issued this morning by Chairman Fred A. Williams, based upon another announced reduction of 25 cents per barrel in the price of crude oil. This last reduction will be considered in connection with the reduction of 20 cents per barrel in the price of oil announced a week ago, in determining the extent of the reduction in the price of gas to the consumer, the statement sets out. "The commission has just been advised of a further reduction in oil prices to the Portland Gas & Coke company of 25 cents per barrel," the statement of the commission said. "This will require further investigation and readjustment of the present figures and calculations of the commission begun immediately after the announcement of the 20 cent reduction a week ago. "It is our information that the company fortunately did not purchase a cargo of oil at the preceding quotation and, therefore, we are of the opinion that the rates hereafter to be fixed can equitably take into consideration the total of the two reductions, namely, 45 cents per barrel. However, we cannot make an exact and definite statement until we have completed the investigations which we are now pursuing, nor is it possible to fix at this time the effective date. Nevertheless, the patrons can rest assured that they will get the full benefit of every cent of reduction on the price of oil, properly distributed among all classes. "A substantial reduction will be made effective in ample time to take advantage of the lower cost of oil so that patrons will have the benefit of cheaper oil until the present supply is exhausted."

SAFETY IN LOCAL PRICE OF GAS Salem, Or., May 13.—Still further reductions in the price of gas to patrons of the Portland Gas & Coke company are promised by the public service commission in a statement issued this morning by Chairman Fred A. Williams, based upon another announced reduction of 25 cents per barrel in the price of crude oil. This last reduction will be considered in connection with the reduction of 20 cents per barrel in the price of oil announced a week ago, in determining the extent of the reduction in the price of gas to the consumer, the statement sets out. "The commission has just been advised of a further reduction in oil prices to the Portland Gas & Coke company of 25 cents per barrel," the statement of the commission said. "This will require further investigation and readjustment of the present figures and calculations of the commission begun immediately after the announcement of the 20 cent reduction a week ago. "It is our information that the company fortunately did not purchase a cargo of oil at the preceding quotation and, therefore, we are of the opinion that the rates hereafter to be fixed can equitably take into consideration the total of the two reductions, namely, 45 cents per barrel. However, we cannot make an exact and definite statement until we have completed the investigations which we are now pursuing, nor is it possible to fix at this time the effective date. Nevertheless, the patrons can rest assured that they will get the full benefit of every cent of reduction on the price of oil, properly distributed among all classes. "A substantial reduction will be made effective in ample time to take advantage of the lower cost of oil so that patrons will have the benefit of cheaper oil until the present supply is exhausted."

COMMISSION PROMISES CUT IN LOCAL PRICE OF GAS

Salem, Or., May 13.—Still further reductions in the price of gas to patrons of the Portland Gas & Coke company are promised by the public service commission in a statement issued this morning by Chairman Fred A. Williams, based upon another announced reduction of 25 cents per barrel in the price of crude oil. This last reduction will be considered in connection with the reduction of 20 cents per barrel in the price of oil announced a week ago, in determining the extent of the reduction in the price of gas to the consumer, the statement sets out. "The commission has just been advised of a further reduction in oil prices to the Portland Gas & Coke company of 25 cents per barrel," the statement of the commission said. "This will require further investigation and readjustment of the present figures and calculations of the commission begun immediately after the announcement of the 20 cent reduction a week ago. "It is our information that the company fortunately did not purchase a cargo of oil at the preceding quotation and, therefore, we are of the opinion that the rates hereafter to be fixed can equitably take into consideration the total of the two reductions, namely, 45 cents per barrel. However, we cannot make an exact and definite statement until we have completed the investigations which we are now pursuing, nor is it possible to fix at this time the effective date. Nevertheless, the patrons can rest assured that they will get the full benefit of every cent of reduction on the price of oil, properly distributed among all classes. "A substantial reduction will be made effective in ample time to take advantage of the lower cost of oil so that patrons will have the benefit of cheaper oil until the present supply is exhausted."

SAFETY IN LOCAL PRICE OF GAS

Salem, Or., May 13.—Still further reductions in the price of gas to patrons of the Portland Gas & Coke company are promised by the public service commission in a statement issued this morning by Chairman Fred A. Williams, based upon another announced reduction of 25 cents per barrel in the price of crude oil. This last reduction will be considered in connection with the reduction of 20 cents per barrel in the price of oil announced a week ago, in determining the extent of the reduction in the price of gas to the consumer, the statement sets out. "The commission has just been advised of a further reduction in oil prices to the Portland Gas & Coke company of 25 cents per barrel," the statement of the commission said. "This will require further investigation and readjustment of the present figures and calculations of the commission begun immediately after the announcement of the 20 cent reduction a week ago. "It is our information that the company fortunately did not purchase a cargo of oil at the preceding quotation and, therefore, we are of the opinion that the rates hereafter to be fixed can equitably take into consideration the total of the two reductions, namely, 45 cents per barrel. However, we cannot make an exact and definite statement until we have completed the investigations which we are now pursuing, nor is it possible to fix at this time the effective date. Nevertheless, the patrons can rest assured that they will get the full benefit of every cent of reduction on the price of oil, properly distributed among all classes. "A substantial reduction will be made effective in ample time to take advantage of the lower cost of oil so that patrons will have the benefit of cheaper oil until the present supply is exhausted."

SAFETY IN LOCAL PRICE OF GAS

Salem, Or., May 13.—Still further reductions in the price of gas to patrons of the Portland Gas & Coke company are promised by the public service commission in a statement issued this morning by Chairman Fred A. Williams, based upon another announced reduction of 25 cents per barrel in the price of crude oil. This last reduction will be considered in connection with the reduction of 20 cents per barrel in the price of oil announced a week ago, in determining the extent of the reduction in the price of gas to the consumer, the statement sets out. "The commission has just been advised of a further reduction in oil prices to the Portland Gas & Coke company of 25 cents per barrel," the statement of the commission said. "This will require further investigation and readjustment of the present figures and calculations of the commission begun immediately after the announcement of the 20 cent reduction a week ago. "It is our information that the company fortunately did not purchase a cargo of oil at the preceding quotation and, therefore, we are of the opinion that the rates hereafter to be fixed can equitably take into consideration the total of the two reductions, namely, 45 cents per barrel. However, we cannot make an exact and definite statement until we have completed the investigations which we are now pursuing, nor is it possible to fix at this time the effective date. Nevertheless, the patrons can rest assured that they will get the full benefit of every cent of reduction on the price of oil, properly distributed among all classes. "A substantial reduction will be made effective in ample time to take advantage of the lower cost of oil so that patrons will have the benefit of cheaper oil until the present supply is exhausted."

SAFETY IN LOCAL PRICE OF GAS

Salem, Or., May 13.—Still further reductions in the price of gas to patrons of the Portland Gas & Coke company are promised by the public service commission in a statement issued this morning by Chairman Fred A. Williams, based upon another announced reduction of 25 cents per barrel in the price of crude oil. This last reduction will be considered in connection with the reduction of 20 cents per barrel in the price of oil announced a week ago, in determining the extent of the reduction in the price of gas to the consumer, the statement sets out. "The commission has just been advised of a further reduction in oil prices to the Portland Gas & Coke company of 25 cents per barrel," the statement of the commission said. "This will require further investigation and readjustment of the present figures and calculations of the commission begun immediately after the announcement of the 20 cent reduction a week ago. "It is our information that the company fortunately did not purchase a cargo of oil at the preceding quotation and, therefore, we are of the opinion that the rates hereafter to be fixed can equitably take into consideration the total of the two reductions, namely, 45 cents per barrel. However, we cannot make an exact and definite statement until we have completed the investigations which we are now pursuing, nor is it possible to fix at this time the effective date. Nevertheless, the patrons can rest assured that they will get the full benefit of every cent of reduction on the price of oil, properly distributed among all classes. "A substantial reduction will be made effective in ample time to take advantage of the lower cost of oil so that patrons will have the benefit of cheaper oil until the present supply is exhausted."

SAFETY IN LOCAL PRICE OF GAS

Salem, Or., May 13.—Still further reductions in the price of gas to patrons of the Portland Gas & Coke company are promised by the public service commission in a statement issued this morning by Chairman Fred A. Williams, based upon another announced reduction of 25 cents per barrel in the price of crude oil. This last reduction will be considered in connection with the reduction of 20 cents per barrel in the price of oil announced a week ago, in determining the extent of the reduction in the price of gas to the consumer, the statement sets out. "The commission has just been advised of a further reduction in oil prices to the Portland Gas & Coke company of 25 cents per barrel," the statement of the commission said. "This will require further investigation and readjustment of the present figures and calculations of the commission begun immediately after the announcement of the 20 cent reduction a week ago. "It is our information that the company fortunately did not purchase a cargo of oil at the preceding quotation and, therefore, we are of the opinion that the rates hereafter to be fixed can equitably take into consideration the total of the two reductions, namely, 45 cents per barrel. However, we cannot make an exact and definite statement until we have completed the investigations which we are now pursuing, nor is it possible to fix at this time the effective date. Nevertheless, the patrons can rest assured that they will get the full benefit of every cent of reduction on the price of oil, properly distributed among all classes. "A substantial reduction will be made effective in ample time to take advantage of the lower cost of oil so that patrons will have the benefit of cheaper oil until the present supply is exhausted."

Snoqualmie Pass Opened Spokane, Wash., May 13.—Official announcement was made of the opening of Snoqualmie pass Thursday by the Inland Empire Auto association.

COURSE OUTLINED IN ALBERS CASE

Washington, May 13.—(WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE JOURNAL)—Senator McNary has outlined the course he expects to pursue in asking the United States supreme court to reinstate the case of Henry Albers on its docket. He will present a motion on behalf of the Oregon Bar association that it be made party as amicus curiae, and if that be granted he will move that the attorney general's confession of error be set aside and the case reinstated for argument on appeal. This motion, it is expected, will be presented in open court on May 31, supported by a brief to be filed with the court. The motion will be based on the claim that the department of justice should not itself assume to pass judgment upon the law, but should let the case take its course through the supreme court.

Oregon City's Tax On Outside Delivery Trucks Is Resented

Convinced that business men of the state are being discriminated against in Oregon City through the passage of an ordinance demanding a $10 monthly license fee from trucks making delivery in that place, a committee of Portland business men left at noon today to confer upon the possibility of changing the measure. On April 29 the city council of Oregon City adopted an ordinance fixing the tax upon trucks from outside places making deliveries in that place. The purpose of the ordinance was to protect local business from outside competition, according to those who introduced the measure. Thursday a driver for the Pacific Coast Biscuit company was arrested at Oregon City while delivery was being made. This was the first intimation Portland business men had that the ordinance was to be strictly enforced. Through the Chamber of Commerce this morning a committee of manufacturers, wholesalers and jobbers was gathered together to go to Oregon City and discuss the measure with the business men. It is pointed out that the measure is discriminatory in that trucks from Vancouver, Wash., or other points outside the state are not forced to pay this fee because they are engaged in interstate business. While the measure may protect Oregon City business men from outside competition in some lines of industry, they will suffer from the tax in other lines. If trucks are forced to pay the $10 license fee upon deliveries, it is pointed out by Portland business men that the consumer of Oregon City will have to absorb that difference and that in the end the consumer will suffer. The committee from Portland was headed by P. Hetherton, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. Woman Editor Goes to Poland Seattle, Wash., May 13.—(U. N. S.)—Anna Louise Strong, associate editor of the Seattle Union Record, has departed for Poland, where she will take charge of the publicity and investigation work for the Society of Friends, doing relief work in Central Europe.

Family Row, With Knife and Guns as Features, Dismissed

With the evidence of two family factions diametrically opposed, District Judge Bell Thursday afternoon dismissed the "assault with a deadly weapon" charge against James and Herman Neufeld and Herman's brother-in-law, Herman Stuckey. John Neufeld, a brother of James and Herman, had charged that the three men went to Columbia slough where he was fishing last Sunday and attacked him with knives. He claimed that he was saved from death by the quick action of his wife, Susie, in drawing an unloaded revolver and forcing the assailants to put up their knives. James and the two Hermans, however, testified that John asked them to go to Columbia slough and when they got there John said, "Now I am going to settle with you," and started fighting. John's wife had a gun in her hand ready to help her husband, they claimed. James and the Hermans and John and John's wife, Susie, were all thrown out of court and warned not to have reason to come back again.

Borden's MALTED MILK. Has a flavor all its own—you'll like it. The protein content is the highest in any Malted Milk.

MAJESTIC TOMORROW. "The Witching Hour" with ELLIOTT DEXTER TODAY. COLUMBIA. "THE GOOD-BAD WIFE"

LIBERTY LIBERTY LIBERTY. DIRECTION JENSEN - VON HERBERG. STARTING TOMORROW.

THE OATH. מן מרים קופער. איון ר. א. נוולש פראדאקטש.

"FATTY" ARBUCKLE. LAST TIMES TODAY. Clarke-Brower Optical Co. 112 1/2 Sixth St. Main 3186 Just North of Washington.

READING. If your eyes feel strained or drawn when reading, and it is difficult to follow the lines without special effort, it is a sign of eye weakness. We manufacture our glasses in our own laboratory; consequently, when we adjust them to you, we know they are correct. We guarantee all glasses regardless of cost. You incur no obligation by having us adjust them, no matter where purchased. Clarke-Brower Optical Co. 112 1/2 Sixth St. Main 3186 Just North of Washington.

FEATURING A PRICE $35.00 SUITS for MEN and YOUNG MEN. Come UPSTAIRS and see the wonderful values in the latest styles at this new low price. My Hat's in the Ring—I challenge anybody in Portland to show me where they're selling SUITS anywhere near the QUALITY and VALUE of these Suits at this price. These suits are made up in the latest SPORT MODELS, the new 2-button single and double-breasted, and the more conservative models. Others as Low as $25.00 PORTLAND'S ORIGINAL UPSTAIRS CLOTHIER. JIMMY DUNN BROADWAY AT ALDER ST.