WEATHER FORECAST

Portland and Vicinity—Saturday fair; winds mostly northerly.
Oregon and Washington—Saturday fair; gentle winds, mostly northerly.

WEATHER CONDITIONS

The dominant feature of today's map is a high pressure area, which is central in Saskatchewan and covers the entire Northwest. Two shallow low pressure areas are apparent, one central in Arizona and the other in the Upper Lake region. Precipitation has occurred in parts of British Columbia, and over an irregular area reaching from the Northern Plains region eastward to the Atlantic coast and southward to the Gulf of Mexico. The heaviest rainfall reported was 1.98 inches at Washington, D. C. The weather is much colder in the extreme northern Plains region and is much warmer in parts of Oregon, Washington and Montana. Light frost is reported from Western Nebraska and freezing temperature has occurred in North Dakota and the Western Canadian provinces.

Relative humidity at Portland: Noon yesterday, 41 per cent; 5 p. m. yesterday, 40 per cent; 5 a. m. today, 90 per cent.

Precipitation since January 1: Total, 22.24 inches; normal, 21.61 inches; excess, 0.63 inch.

EDWARD L. WELLS.

All Offices Filled By Portland Girls

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, May 13.—Portland co-eds will fill every office in Omicron Nu, home economics honorary sorority, for next year, as a result of elections held Monday, the returns of which have just been announced. Alice Feike heads the list as president, Alice Gilstrap is vice president, Winnifred Jones, secretary, and Alma Scharf, treasurer. All are members of the junior class.

Indictments Charge Attempted Robbery Of Troutdale Bank

Archie McCoy is charged with attempting to loot the Troutdale State bank on the morning of April 20, in two indictments returned Thursday by the Multnomah county grand jury. McCoy will face charges of attempting to rob the bank and carrying concealed weapons. He was arrested a few miles from Troutdale the afternoon the bank was wrecked by explosives and has since been confined in the county jail.

The grand jury, in an indictment against John Mason, alias James Dean, who is charged with tampering with the block signals of the Portland Railway, Light & Power company, endangering property and the lives of street car passengers. He is said to have cut the bond wires at East Fiftieth street and Powell valley road.

An indictment against W. T. Pearce charges a statutory crime on April 12.

Not true bills were returned in the cases of Fred Harris, attempted burglary, and Lee Wong and Sam Eng, robbery. Five of the grnad jury indictments are secret.

State Law Attacked In Action Brought By Nucoa Nut Co.

Request for injunction was filed in the United States district court Thursday afternoon to restrain I. H. Van Winkle, attorney general of the state, and C. L. Hawley, dairy and food commissioner from ordering discontinued the sale of Nucoa Nut margarine by the Corvallis Creamery company, and prosecuting in event of its continued sale.

The product, manufactured and shipped to Oregon by a corporation in California, is alleged to be sold in violation of the state dairy law against the use of the words "butter," "milk" and similar terms on goods not containing such ingredients. The product as set forth in the request for injunction is marketed as a "butter" made from nuts.

An attack upon the constitutionality of the state law is made in the request. It states the law grants privileges to a certain class of citizens and further places an undue burden on commerce between the various states of the union.

School Needs First In Bond Investment

Salem, May 13.—Funds of the industrial accident commission in the amount of $150,000 will be invested in bonds by the state bond commission at a meeting May 18. According to a previously announced policy of the board, bonds of school districts will be given first consideration, with county bonds second. All bond dealers in the state have been notified of the meeting but the board declares its purpose to buy direct if bonds are available in that manner.
