

Rowing Club Will Open 1921 Season With Spring Regatta Next Saturday Afternoon

PORTLAND Rowing club oarsmen, who are in training for the spring regatta scheduled for Saturday afternoon and the North Pacific regatta billed to be held next July near Vancouver, B. C. The oarsmen are: 1—Beverage, bow; Pick, stroke. 2—Abraham, bow; Thompson, stroke. 3—Beverage, bow; Pick, No. 2; Ditzum, No. 3, and Stone, stroke. 4—Lewis Mills, former Harvard crew member, who will row in the junior singles. 5—Fred R. Newell, former club captain, who will participate in the senior doubles with his partner, James Havelley. 6—Jack McDonald, veteran Portlander, who will try for the Northwest senior sculling title.

Big Regatta To Be Staged Saturday

THE spring racing classic of the Portland Rowing club, scheduled for Saturday afternoon, marks the opening of what local oarsmen believe will be one of the greatest seasons in the history of the sport on the Pacific coast.

Held back by bad weather, the scullers are training in earnest at every opportunity for the spring champion-

Trap Program to Staged During Big Rifle Shoot

Trapshooting was tried in connection with the National rifle matches last year and the trial was so successful that a definite program of trapshooting events will be conducted in connection with the National Rifle association matches at Camp Perry in August. It is not likely that the events will be registered but the events will be one of their attractions because of this. The big thing in connection with this announcement is the recognition of trapshooting by the United States government. With traps in operation during the 30 days of the rifle matches the thousand or more rifle-men are given a chance to try the trapshooting game. Adding trapshooting to the rifle shooting program will help trapshooting for those who try it will become interested and form clubs in their own cities, if there are none there now, or become members of clubs that are now active. It will provide recreation for the riflemen during the months he cannot use the .30 calibre rifle.

ships and the North Pacific regatta to be staged at Indian River park near Vancouver, B. C., in July.

EX-CORNELL MAN CAPTAIN
Captain E. A. Stevens, former Cornell oarsman, expects to get a good line on the material for the season's regular crews. There are a number of positions to be filled in the various four-oared crews this season.

Portland made an exceptionally good showing in the 1920 regatta and the club members are anxious to do better this season, as it is likely that the 1921 championship events will be staged under the auspices of the local club. The last title races held here was in 1914, just before the outbreak of the World War.

There is another objective that the Portlanders are seeking this season and that is to pit its senior four-oared crew against the winners of the California championships in the big Admission regatta to be held at San Francisco.

PROGRAM ARRANGED
The spring regatta program this season calls for the staging of junior singles, junior doubles, senior singles, senior doubles and four-oared events for light-weight and heavy-weight crews. It is likely that there will be two heats in the junior doubles and the senior doubles.

In addition to the rowing races, there will be a full program of canoe events, including singles, doubles, mixed fours and four-paddled events.

Officials of the regatta will be selected during the week. The first race will start at 3:30 o'clock on the course, which extends for the end of Hardack Island to the clubhouse, a distance of about a half mile.

A regatta dance will be staged in the clubhouse in the evening. The winners will receive their pins just before the opening of the dance.

Rowing is one of the oldest sports in Portland.

Motor Boat Club Plans For Regatta

MEMBERS of the Portland Motorboat club are making elaborate plans for the annual regatta to be held on the Willamette river during the Rose Festival next month. The regatta committee appointed by Commodore William E. Love is composed of H. H. Haynes, chairman and treasurer; Fred W. Volger, vice chairman and in charge of the admiral's staff; William E. Love, C. H. Johnston, Milton Henderson, L. M. Myers and C. W. Boost.

A rousing smoker and initiation was held in the clubrooms, foot of Woodward avenue, last night.

BEALL IS ADMIRAL
Fred W. Volger, well known motorboat and automobile enthusiast, has been appointed to revive the "spirits" of the old Astoria admiral's staff and he immediately appointed J. S. Beall as admiral-in-chief. The customary gold braid and white trousers once more will be in order at a regatta if Volger's plans are carried out.

The racecourse will be around the draw piers of the Morrison and Burrows bridges and the races will be held on June 10, according to present plans. The committee's boat will be anchored in the middle of the Willamette, opposite the Stark street municipal landing. A special free-for-all event is on the program to wind up the afternoon's aquatic entertainment and instead of traversing the smaller course the boats will be sent over a route between the Hawthorne and Broadway bridges.

SEEK FAST BOATS
This feature of the program will give the spectators plenty of opportunity to see the races from the various bridges as well as docks along the waterfront. Friday, June 10, the closing day of the Rose Festival, has been designated as Port of Portland day.

Every effort is being made to have some of the best speed boats on the Pacific coast on hand to battle for the prizes and members of the Portland Motorboat club are doing everything possible to make the 1921 regatta the greatest ever held on the Willamette river.

The opening regatta originally was scheduled for today, but it was necessary to postpone it until Decoration day, May 30. Newberg had planned on playing host to the motorboatists, but a switch in plans was made necessary on account of the Oregon Yacht club regatta. The usual races for runabouts, speed boats and several novelty numbers will be on the program.

The Decoration day program will be put on during the Rose Festival, with the exception of the free-for-all. This is being done to obtain a line on the various entries.

Big Time Is Planned for Fly Casters

DEEP SEA fishing will be one of the main entertainments planned for the visitors attending the annual national fly and bait casting tournament scheduled for August 26, 27, 28 and 29, under the auspices of the Multnomah Anglers' club. The change in date was announced by secretary Jack Herman Thursday after receiving many letters from the East asking that the dates be set ahead one week.

Because the tourney has been set for a week previous to the original dates is no sign that the elaborate program is not going to be carried out. In fact, Walter F. Backus, president of the Multnomah Anglers' club, and his many assistants, are all the more anxious to make the gathering eclipse anything similar ever attempted.

BIG PRIZE LIST

The deep sea fishing will be done off the Columbia bar, according to present plans. Salmon particularly will be sought but the committee has let it be understood that if anything else gets on the hooks everything will belong to the lucky fisherman. The trip up the Deschutes will be held. The visitors will be taken from Portland by automobile, if changes are not made before the time of departure.

The committee securing the prizes has been fortunate to date and it is said that the winner of the all-around casting championship at the 1921 session will be presented with a Ford. Never have so many prizes been secured for a tournament among the anglers and for that reason a big delegation of out of town representatives will be on hand.

CHAMPIONS TO COME

Among the champions who have signified their intentions of coming to the Rose City are Cal J. McCarthy of Chicago, holder of the world's record for fly casting, and Billy Stanley, the veteran accuracy bait caster.

The Chicago clubs say they are going to send out at least 30 men well qualified to represent the Windy City. Carl Lingenfelter, who set the record of 276 feet in the half-ounce distance bait, will be here.

All the events on the tournament program will be held at the Sellwood park casting pool. Practice gatherings will be scheduled during the summer.

Louttit Has Big Success With Boxers

UNDER the guidance of Tom Louttit, who was appointed boxing instructor last fall, the amateur ring sport at the Multnomah club regained its pre-war footing during the 1920-1921 season.

The club mitt men captured five Pacific Northwest association championships and carried off seven city titles. In addition to the championship meets, the "Winged M" boxers made very creditable showings in dual meets with the University of Oregon, University of Washington, Spokane Amateur Athletic club and the Armory Athletic association.

WON 29 BOUTS
Against outside boxers, the club men won 30 decisions and lost 3. Considering the fact that a majority of the boxers were developed under the tutelage of Louttit, the showing is quite an achievement.

Louttit claims that the club boxers made a better showing in the dual meet with the Spokane club than they were given credit. Louttit declares that Freeman was robbed of a decision over Jones, the highly touted Spokane boy and that Stengel was entitled to a fourth round as the result of his showing against Close.

WIN DOZEN TITLES

The club battlers who annexed Northwest titles are: Healy, 115 pounds; Stengel, 125 pounds; Richmond, 145 pounds; Clayton Frye, 158 pounds; and Stanley Frye, 175 pounds. Healy, Stengel, Clayton Frye and Stanley Frye also hold city championships. The other city championship held by the club was won by Richmond, Freeman and Harris.

Louttit Has Arranged the Following Table Showing the Number of Bout Wins and Lost by Each Club Boxer, in Intra-Club, Inter-Club and Championship Meets:

Boxer	W	L
Healy	12	0
Stengel	7	0
Richmond	4	0
Harris	1	0
Freeman	1	0
Stanley Frye	2	0
Clayton Frye	2	0
Close	0	1
Richmond	0	1
Freeman	0	1
Harris	0	1
Clayton Frye	0	1
Stanley Frye	0	1

Club Swimmers Preparing for Busy Campaign

WITH four big swimming meets on the calendar, Jack Cody, swimming and diving instructor of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club, expects his proteges to have a busy 1921 season. On Saturday night, May 27, the Crystal Swimming association of Seattle will stage the annual Pacific Northwest association indoor championships in the Crystal pool, but it is not likely that more than three Winged "M" entries will make the trip.

The board of directors of the club authorized the expenditure of money to charter the swimming team to two out of four meets, and inasmuch as the Pacific coast outdoor titles are to be held at Coronado Beach, near San Diego, on July 10, and the P. N. A. outdoor championships are billed for August, both the P. N. A. indoor and the indoor and the Pacific coast indoor meets may not have Multnomah entries in every event.

Jack Pobochenko is being groomed for the backstroke contest on May 27, and Dave Fall, a diver, is figured on to make the trip along with a sprinter. Just who the short distance man will be has not been determined. The Crystal pool is figuring on staging the indoor coast swimming matches some time in July, while the P. N. A. outdoor swimming meet is set for Victoria, B. C. The championship water polo team of Multnomah club will go to Victoria to defend the title, and also is planning on going to Southern California.

Motor Boat Cruise Set for May 28-29

The opening cruise of the Portland Motorboat club will be held Saturday and Sunday, May 28 and 29. It had been planned to make it a three-day affair but now that the opening regatta of the 1921 season has been set for the Oregon Yacht club moorings, Decoration day the cruising committee called off the third day's plans.

Premier, Famous Horse, Drowned In Ship Wreck

Premier, the famous dark chestnut horse, owned by J. D. Farrell of Portland, was drowned when the steamer Governor was wrecked and sunk off Fort Townsend last month. Premier won blue ribbon after blue ribbon in horse shows on the Pacific coast and held the coast jumping record for a number of years. A little bit heavier than the ordinary horse, Premier was admired by thousands for his splendid qualities.

Eastern horse authorities describe Premier as being the ideal type of a horse for an officer's mount.

Maunhe to Go South
O. C. Maunhe, director of physical education at the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club, will leave Portland soon after June 15 for Berkeley, Cal., where he will assume his duties as an instructor at the University of California summer school. He plans on being at Berkeley in time for the opening of the season, June 20, and he will remain there through the duration of the school which will be six weeks.

Additional sports will be found on Page 16, Section 3.

Franklin to Play Lincoln Cardinals Monday Afternoon

Four games are on this week's schedule of the Portland Public High School Baseball league and it may be that a postponed game or two may be sandwiched in. Monday afternoon the Franklin high tossers will have an opportunity to hand the Lincoln high athletes their first defeat of the 1921 campaign. At present the Rail Splitters are leading the circuit with two wins and no defeats.

No contest is on the boards for Tuesday, but inasmuch as bad weather caused a postponement of several engagements a week or two ago, some of the games may be played this week. The annual Jefferson high-Washington high set to be played on Wednesday afternoon, while on the following day Benson Tech and Coach Henry L. Famb's High School of Commerce contingent are down for appearance.

The final game of the week will find James John high meeting Franklin high Friday afternoon. All scheduled games will be played on Multnomah field with the exception of the James John-Franklin affair. The scene of this battle has not been decided on, but it had to be switched, due to the annual track and field meet among the grammar school teams of Portland, slated for the Winged "M" enclosure.
