

CITY COUNCIL ENFORCE ONE-WAY TRAFFIC, DECLARES COUNCIL

Frank S. Grant, City Attorney, Renders Opinion Affecting the Rights in Congested District.

The city council has power and authority, under the police power granted to it by the city charter, to compel the street railway company to use single tracks and provide one-way traffic in the congested district; to prohibit for hire or other cars from standing on the streets; to require stage companies to establish and maintain suitable terminals at points approved by the council; to prohibit such vehicles operating within the city without a franchise first being obtained.

These are the outstanding points in a communication which City Attorney Frank S. Grant has prepared to send to the city council at its Wednesday session this week, in connection with matters that have been referred to him in consideration of traffic problems.

"It is my opinion," says Grant, "that the council has the power and authority under the police power granted to it by the charter, to reasonably regulate car traffic within the city of Portland.

"If traffic conditions develop a situation that requires, in the judgment of the council, the elimination of double tracks from any street within the city, it may require the street railway company to remove one track from such street and operate its cars only one way. . . . The council has no authority to contract away its right of future regulation and the council cannot look the franchise subject to this reserved right."

In the same opinion Grant says the council has full and ample power to designate locations and regulate stands on the streets to be used by for-hire cars or other cars, and it also has the power to prohibit such cars from standing on the streets.

He reviews the uses for which streets are intended, "for the common and equal use of all citizens, and declares that a preponderance of them from lawful purposes cannot be regarded as an execution of the trust imposed in the city authorities."

In discussing the regulation of automobile stages, Grant says:

"It is also within the power of the council to require automobile stages or busses running into and out of the city to establish a depot or depots from which these automobile stages of busses shall operate. The council also has the right to prescribe reasonable rules and regulations which will govern the operation of the same within the city, fixing a schedule of time of arrival and departure, requiring reasonable regulations as to equipment of the depots and such other reasonable regulations as will afford the travel the maximum protection."

As to requirement of franchises, Grant says:

"The council would have the right to prohibit all such vehicles from operating within the city of Portland without a franchise first being obtained from the council conferring the right to operate such vehicles in and out of the city of Portland."

Grant says that the supreme court of this state, in the case of Cummins versus Jones 79 Oregon, 276, sustained Oregon City in such regulations.

City Hall Briefs

Remonstrances have been filed at the city hall against the application of L. G. Thayer for a permit to operate a wood and fuel yard on Jefferson street between First and Second streets. The matter has been referred to Commissioner Barbur for his recommendation. Similar action has been taken on the remonstrances against granting to the North Bank Fuel company a permit to operate a wood and fuel yard at the northeast corner of Twenty-second and Pettygrove streets.

C. B. and E. Murray were granted a license by the city council Wednesday for a soft drink establishment and cardroom at 137 Russell street. The only objector was the writer of two anonymous letters. The council also overruled the license bureau's decision and granted a soft drink license to C. Cruickshank for 1125 Woodstock avenue.

The city council has denied the application of E. J. Burns to maintain a dairy at East Twenty-third and Beech streets.

By action of the city council Wednesday all proceedings are discontinued for the district improvement of Jessup street, Arnsworth avenue, Holman street and other streets lying between Killingsworth avenue and Portland boulevard. This action was taken because a large amount of vacant property within the district is not of sufficient assessed valuation to go to bond for the proposed improvement. The council will now encourage the proceedings for the improvement of the separate streets where they are built up sufficiently to allow the properties to go to bond.

Cartoonist Home on Visit Old Salem Boy Wins Fame

By F. L.

Warren Gilbert is home again. He is one of the many Oregon boys who have brought honor to their native state in the country beyond the Rockies.

Warren Gilbert is a native son of Salem. His father, A. N. Gilbert, was superintendent of the Oregon state penitentiary for many years. He also served as postmaster of Salem, when John Wanamaker, the merchant prince of Philadelphia, was postmaster general.

When Warren Gilbert was a student at Willamette university, he was more noted for the excellence of his cartoons than for his interest in higher mathematics. His cartoons of William Jennings Bryan rolled in silver dollars may not have added to his grades in his studies, but they certainly indicated the bent of his mind. Homer Davenport, Frank Bowers and several other Oregon boys had made good as cartoonists and Warren decided to make his mark in the same line. He went East on a battle train with Ed Kiddle of Island City. Frank McCully of Joseph, in Wallawa county, and Kiddle were shipping cattle to Kansas City and Warren applied for and obtained the position of chambermaid and chief waiter to the cattle on their eastward trip. He at once landed a job on the Kansas City Post in the art department.

From there he went to Denver, where he obtained a position as cartoonist on the Denver Post. He has lived in Denver for the last 24 years. The high altitude there has resulted in his acquiring an altitudinous stature. When he wants to cast a shadow, he has to stand twice in the same line. He at once landed a job on the Kansas City Post in the art department.

Al Kader Temple Postpones Purchase of Building Site for Further Investigation.

Al Kader temple, Mystic Shrine, is going to hold a picnic for the kiddies and the ladies of members of the organization at The Oaks early in July, according to a recommendation made by Herman von Borstel, chairman of the entertainment committee, and accepted at the regular monthly meeting Saturday night. It was announced by Potentate Frank S. Grant that everything would be free to the youngsters and that it would be a "big" day in the lives of the little ones.

The exact date will be named as soon as Chairman Von Borstel and his committee arrange the details but they are certain that it will not be later than July 10. The band, patrol and chanters of Al Kader will be utilized for the day.

PURCHASE OF SITE POSTPONED

At the meeting it was decided to postpone the purchase of a building site until such a time as the appointed committee has further opportunity to investigate the various available locations. The next meeting of the temple will be held Saturday night, June 25, and by that time it is planned to take definite action.

The four delegates of Al Kader temple to the Imperial council of the Mystic Shrine will leave the latter part of this week for Des Moines, where the annual convention will be held. The next convocation will take place July 14, 15 and 16. Potentate Frank S. Grant, Mayor George L. Baker, Judge George W. Stapleton and William J. Hofmann are the Imperial representatives who will journey from here.

CHIEF HABBAN TO TRAVEL

A. L. Tetu, chief rabban of the Al Kader, will make the jaunt to Des Moines to be in charge of the annual convention for next year. He is in line to be potentate of the local body and he expects to obtain a line on the situation to be held in connection with anything at San Francisco in 1922 and later at Honolulu, providing the 1921 imperial gathering grants Islam temple the Bay City and Aloha temple of Honolulu the right to entertain the annual session next year. James D. Olsen will leave with Tetu and Grant, while George L. Baker will accompany them to San Francisco to join the Islam temple special train.

Judge Stapleton has been assigned to Imperial Potentate Ellis Lewis Garretson's special train leaving Tacoma late this week. William J. Hofmann already is on the job at Des Moines making things ready for the Northwest Shrine who will be in attendance in the Iowa metropolis.

U. OF O. MEDICAL SCHOOL GETS GIFT OF $163,000 FUND

Appropriation Made by General Educational Board, Branch of Rockefeller Foundation, N. Y.

Early completion of the second unit of the University of Oregon Medical school on Marquam hill is assured by an appropriation of $163,000 made by the general educational board, a branch of the Rockefeller Foundation.

Announcement of the gift was received Friday by Dr. Richard B. Dillehunt, dean of the medical department of the university, in a telegram from Dr. Abraham Flexner of New York, secretary of the general educational board.

HAS $500,000 BUDGET

The appropriation was decided upon at the annual meeting of the board at New York last week. According to advice received by Dr. Dillehunt a sum of $112,283.50 has been appropriated to be added to an equal sum granted by the Oregon state legislature in defraying construction of the building, and an additional sum of $50,000 for equipment and maintenance.

The 1921 state legislature appropriated $27,000 for the medical department of the university, and of this amount $112,283.50 was made contingent upon securing a like amount from other sources for the construction of the second unit of the school.

The combined appropriations from the state and the general educational board, with income from other sources, gives the medical school an aggregate budget of $500,000 for the biennial period, according to Dr. Dillehunt.

OREGON SCHOOL FIRST

So far as our knowledge goes the University of Oregon medical school is the first school on the Pacific Coast to share in the financial and educational benefits of the general educational board," Dillehunt stated. "There is every reason to believe that the work accomplished through this aid will stimulate unusual enthusiasm in medical education in the Northwest and will
