A map was presented to the chairman of the site comshowing that the site was close to the center of the town and pointing out that the entire city could be seen buildings and as a recreation place.

TIGARD

The First bank of Tigard is doing a lively banking business with William Evans cashing business with William lively banking business with William Evans, cashier, and A. H. Vincent, as-sistant cashier. The deposits are greater ocally than the loans, the bank directors being compelled to seek outside invest-ments to keep the funds occupied. This is explained on the ground that most of the farmers, gardeners and poultry men and others are not seeking to borrow money because they are making money. Good prices for farm products the past two years has put many farmers in the icinity of Tigard on "easy street."
The Farmers' annual picnic at Hillso on June 8 will be attended by a neber of farmers and leading citizens in the vicinity of Tigard.

Tigard is arranging to furnish a strong delegation of pioneers of Washington county to the celebration of the Pioneers' iation in Hillsboro July 3. Some of the oldest pioneers of the county and state will be in evidence. The qualificaion for membership in the association is residence in Washington county 40 years or more.
