

SOCIAL WORKERS' SESSION WILL BE HELD JUNE 21-22

Much interest is evidenced throughout the state in the conference of the Social Workers' association of Oregon, to be held in Portland, June 20, 21 and 22.

A program of state wide interest has been prepared by the following committee: Ralph C. McFee, Miss Elvora Thomson, Miss Marion G. Crowe, Mrs. Harriet H. Heller, Miss Margaret D. Creech and L. A. Wiley. Topics of state, national and world interest are scheduled for discussion. The two closing sessions will be held jointly with the Northwest conference of graduate nurses. Dr. Philip A. Parsons, director of the Portland School of Social Work of the University of Oregon, is general conference chairman. Dr. Samuel C. Kohls is president of the association.

Following is the program:
Monday, 10 a. m. Morning session. Unitarian church chapel, chairman, Dr. S. C. Kohls, psychologist, court of domestic relations. Address of Acting Mayor Bigelow. Response of delegates, George Neuner, district attorney, Roseburg, Or.; Mrs. Dora F. Schlichte, La Grande, Or.; "Who in Social Work?" Mrs. Frances Saul, secretary home service section, American Red Cross, The Dalles, Or.; "The Modern Program of the Travelers' Aid Society," Virgil V. Johnson, general secretary, national association, New York City.

Wednesday, 10 a. m. Unitarian church chapel, general topic: "Social Legislation in Oregon in 1921." C. C. Chapman, editor Oregon Voter; progress to date. "What Has Resulted From the Resolutions of the Social Workers' Association During Recent Years," John Teuscher Jr., superintendent boys' and girls' aid society. Business and resolutions; introduction of new president of Social Workers' association.

City Council to Consider Permits For Two Hospitals

Two hospital building projects are scheduled to go before the city council at its session next Wednesday which will involve the expenditure of approximately $200,000 during the ensuing building season if the permits asked for are granted.

One of these is a renewal of the application of Strong & MacNaughton for a permit to erect a general hospital on lots 1 to 7, block 269, Couch addition, on Nineteenth street, between Kearney and Lovejoy streets. The other is the application of Lawrence & Holford, on behalf of the Good Samaritan hospital, for a permit to erect a new wing to this hospital, which is to be known as the Wilcox memorial. This location is on lots 6, 7, 10 and 11 of block 304, Couch addition, on Marshall street, between Twenty-second and Twenty-third streets.

When the previous application of Strong & MacNaughton was before the council there were vigorous protests made by adjacent property owners and eventually the application was withdrawn. A few weeks later it was decided to renew the application.

LAND SETTLEMENT GOAL IS TO HELP OUT NEW ARRIVALS

Almost every community of the state is expected to have a representative present at the land settlement conference which will be held in Portland under auspices of the State Chamber of Commerce Tuesday, according to replies received to invitations sent broadcast over the state to commercial, industrial and financial organizations.

The major theme of the conference will be to outline some definite plan for land settlement work. Serious consideration will be given to the formation of a program under which settlers will be enabled to make good after locating in this state. A trainload of homeseekers are scheduled to arrive in the state late in July. A tentative itinerary for the trip over the state by a special party has been made up, but this will be decided definitely at the conference where all districts of the state will have voice in the routing of these settlers.

Senator Charles Hall of Klamath Falls, president of the state chamber, who arrived in Portland yesterday, and will remain in this city until after the conference, was of the opinion that the coming conference would bring results that were more far reaching than was anticipated when the meeting was first projected. Outlying counties of Oregon which up to the present have felt more or less out of touch with the affairs of the state, would be drawn into a more close corporation in state-wide affairs, according to Senator Hall.

The first session of the land settlement conference is scheduled for Tuesday morning at 10 a. m. in the green room of the Portland Chamber of Commerce. Speakers on the program will include representatives of the railroads serving Oregon, including C. C. Gignoux of Omaha, assistant supervisor of agriculture of the Union Pacific system and other agricultural agents, William Hanley, director of the state chamber who returned last week from an investigation into conditions in the Middle West, and representatives of the outside communities of the state.

TRI-STATE MEET OF MEDICAL MEN COVERS BIG FIELD

Speakers invited to address the tri-state meeting of the state medical associations of Oregon, Washington and Idaho in Portland June 30 and July 1 and 2, will cover a wide range of subjects of interest to the medical profession, according to the program for the meeting announced Saturday, which carries the names of several Middle Western and Western physicians, nearly all of whom are widely known in medical circles.

Business sessions will claim the attention of the physicians mornings and afternoons of the three days they are in Portland, but time will be found for a trip over the Columbia river highway, a barbecue and dance at the Automobile club and a banquet at the Waverly Golf club.

MEDICAL AND SURGICAL
Physicians from all parts of Oregon, Idaho and Washington and from British Columbia will come to Portland for the meeting.

The business sessions will be divided into two sections, medical and surgical. The two sections will be in session simultaneously. A paper will be read before the medical section at the morning session of the first day's meeting by Dr. Samuel H. Hurwitz of San Francisco on "The Treatment of Asthma." Dr. Alfred A. Strauss of Chicago will read a paper at the morning session of the first day's meeting before the surgical section on "Surgical Treatment of Gastric and Duodenal Ulcer."

At a luncheon on the first day of the meeting, Celestine J. Sullivan of San Francisco will address the physicians on "The League for the Conservation of Public Health." His address will be followed by a general discussion. Other papers to be read before the meeting during the three days follow:

THURSDAY, JUNE 30
Surgical Section—"Atrophic Pylonephritis," Dr. William F. Braasch of Rochester, Minn.; "Local Anesthesia (lantern slides), Dr. Robert E. Farr of Minneapolis; motion pictures of operations under local anesthesia, Dr. Robert E. Farr of Minneapolis.

Medical Section—"Blood Transfusion in Infants and Children: With a Summary of 100 Cases," Dr. Allen Brown of the University of Toronto, Toronto, Can.; "Selective Localization in Arteriosclerosis," Dr. Frederick Bopp, Spokane, Wash.; "The Clinical Records, the Laboratory and the General Practitioner," Dr. R. E. Coleman of the Vancouver general hospital, Vancouver, B. C.

FRIDAY, JULY 1
Medical Section—"Clinical Discussion of Homotaxia," Dr. William F. Braasch, Rochester, Minn.; "The Heart in Goitre," Dr. Philip V. von Phil, Seattle; "Osteomyelitis," Dr. Alfred Strauss, Chicago; "Milder Disturbances of Endocrine Functions," Dr. J. R. Brown, Tacoma.

Surgical Section—"Ununited Fractures," Dr. Dean Lewis, Chicago; "Pre-operative and Post-operative Modifying Conditions as Affecting Hernia," Cleft Palate and Other Plastic Surgical Restoration," (with stereoscopic illustrations), Dr. G. V. L. Brown, Milwaukee; "Plastic Repair of Acquired Defects and Deformities of the Face," Dr. Viray P. Blair, St. Louis; "Super-public versus Perinatal Prostrectomy," Dr. Frank Himman, San Francisco.

"Making the Public Our Allies," Dr. Frederick Green, Chicago, representative of the American Medical association; "Hospital Standardization," Dr. W. E. Musgrave, San Francisco; Discussion on Hospital Standardization, Judge Harold M. Stephens of Salt Lake City, retiring director of the American College of Surgeons; announcement of plans and purposes by Dr. Ernest F. Tucker, regional director of Oregon, Washington and Idaho of the American Society for the Control of Cancer.

porting that a gold watch was stolen from his room between 11 a. m. and 2 p. m. Sunday.

Dr. B. G. Vinson, 961 Cleveland ave., reported his house was entered some time Saturday night between 5 and 11 o'clock. The thief took a Masonic emblem, hand bag and suit case, some clothing and about 100 pennies. Thieves jimmied an upper front window at the home of G. F. Johnson, 935 Fairview boulevard, Saturday night and stole jewelry and clothing. William Dalsiehl's home at 1004 East Yamhill street, was also robbed of clothing and jewelry Saturday night.

While attendants were working in the rear of the Laurelhurst garage, East Twenty-eighth and Burnside streets, at 12:30 Sunday morning thieves stepped into the front office and took the cash register and contents—about $10. H. W. Graff, who is employed in the Motor Inn garage, next to the Laurelhurst, said he saw a young man drive up in a Ford truck delivery. He stayed but a few minutes, according to Graff, and looked anxiously about as if he were waiting for somebody.

FIVE BURGLARIES ON WEEK-END LIST

Five burglaries were reported to the police Sunday, indicating, they say, that people are becoming careless about leaving their windows and doors open during the hot season. Apartment houses especially are easy prey for the petty thieves who operate in the summer, police say.

C. A. Willard, Northampton apartments, 407 Hall street, reported the theft of his wife's jewelry. Two strings of imitation pearls, a wedding ring, a cameo ring and a gold brooch are missing. J. V. Dusa, 311 Bellevue hotel, reported that a gold watch was stolen from his room between 11 a. m. and 2 p. m. Sunday.
