WEATHER FORECAST
Portland and vicinity—Tuesday generally fair; mostly clear.
Oregon—Tuesday fair; cooler east portion tonight; moderate westerly winds.
Washington—Tuesday probably showers; cooler east portion tonight; moderate southwesterly winds.

WEATHER CONDITIONS
Three rather unimportant high pressure areas are shown, one central in Manitoba, one straddling the Gulf states and lower Missouri valley, and the other approaching the middle Pacific Coast. Over the remainder of the country the pressure is generally moderately low. The principal depression is central in the northern Rocky Mountain region. Precipitation has occurred on the North Pacific coast, in the southern plains states and locally in North Dakota and Illinois. The heaviest rainfall recorded was 1.22 inches at Roswell, New Mexico. The temperature is generally above normal, the greatest excess being in Southeastern Idaho.
Relative humidity at Portland: Noon yesterday, 59 per cent; 3 p. m. yesterday, 51 per cent; 5 a. m. today, 65 per cent.
Precipitation since January 1: Total, 22.88 inches; normal, 23.60 inches; deficiency, 0.72 inch.

Cherry Trees Are Dying—Numerous cherry trees in many parts of Portland are dying. Walter H. Gerke, city arboriculturalist of the bureau of parks, has investigated the situation and finds that the damage is due to the peach tree bark beetle and low state of vitality of the tree, resulting from the big freeze of over a year ago. Many trees which suffered from the cold are partly or wholly destroyed.

Dr. C. McKay, pioneer physician of Umatilla county, who died January 2, 1892, at the Umatilla Indian agency, where he was employed as doctor for the Indians, is to be erected at his grave in Olney cemetery through the efforts of the Pioneer Ladies' club of Pendleton. Dr. McKay was one of the earliest residents of Eastern Oregon and was highly respected by every one who knew him. He was a son of Tom McKay, the noted trapper and Indian fighter, and a grandson of Dr. John McLoughlin, who raised and educated him.

Our Free School System—As American citizens, regardless of religious or political faiths, our attitude is that of protecting and defending our public schools—the little red schoolhouse—from the un-American tendency to force upon it sectarian influence and domination, especially by a religious organization that does not believe in our public school system. That is why George B. Thomas, J. E. Martin, N. J. R. Clark and George E. Eelman are so loyally supported by the Oregon Federation of Patriotic Societies, Inc.—Paid adv. by Oregon Federation of Patriotic Societies, Inc., by W. C. Eford, secretary.

Mayor Wants Commission Government—Recommendation that Seattle adopt the Portland form of government, with a mayor and four commissioners headed by the councilmen at $2000 or $5000 a year, is contained in the annual message of Mayor Caldwell, sent to the city council last week. One of the reasons put forth for the change, which would require a vote of the people, is that control of the city's utility business, amounting to more than $40,000,000, is lodged among the council, the mayor and board of public works.

Schools to Address Rotary Luncheon. President Schools of Reed college will be the speaker before the Rotary club at the Benson hotel Tuesday noon, his subject, "The Price of Liberty." Short talks will be made by George C. Mason and James H. McKinlay. R. J. Huntington will be chairman and J. R. Ellison will preside in the absence of A. J. Bale, the president, who is attending the international Rotary convention in Edinburgh, Scotland.

To Address Kiwanis—S. W. Lawrence, district second lieutenant-governor of Kiwanis, will address the Tuesday luncheon of the Portland Kiwanis club at the Multnomah hotel. Lawrence recently completed a survey of the towns of the state and will tell of the plans for the extension of Kiwanianism. The club has been invited to attend the opening of the Columbia Gorge hotel as a guest of Henry Thiele Saturday night, June 18.

To Perfect Permanent Organization—At a meeting to be held Tuesday night at the Mount Tabor club will perfect a permanent organization and elect the officers. The club expects to choose a board of directors of 13 members. The personnel of the board will be selected from among 21 candidates nominated. The meeting will be held at the Presbyterian church, East Fifty-fifth and Belmont streets.

Horses Saved From Fire—Fire in the transfer barn of J. C. Helser at 187 Adams street Sunday morning threatened destruction of five horses stabled there. Quick work of Joel Hines and P. P. Fosdick, who discovered the fire, resulted in getting the animals out with only a slight scorching. The fire, which was discovered at 10:22 a. m., is believed to have been started by careless smokers. Little damage was done to the barn.

Going Out of Business

Selling Out Absolutely Everything

STORE TO BE DISMANTLED! WE QUIT FOREVER!

Why We Are Closing Down

Our lease will terminate July 31st. We could not secure another store room at a reasonable rental—nor could we secure a room in a suitable location. For months we have been trying to find a new home for this well established store, but we could not find a store to suit our requirements. That is the reason we have delayed to nearly the last minute, but now we have decided to give up entirely and go out of business. The Groves store will be no more. For years this store has been one of Portland's smart shops for women's apparel. We have catered more to quality than to price, although our prices were always reasonable, quality considered. We are now going to sell out this fine stock and store equipment for whatever cash we can realize out of it.

Store Has Been CLOSED

to mark down the stock. As our time is limited we are going to make quick work of it.

Fixtures For Sale

The entire equipment of this fine store is offered for sale. No reasonable offer will be refused. Show Cases, Cabinets, Racks, Electric Fixtures, French Figures, Window Fixtures, Display Stands, Tables, Chairs, etc.
