DECREASE IN SALMON OUTPUT EXPECTED TO AID TRADE SEATILE BREAKS

THURSDAY DAIRY PRODUCE San Francisco.... 361/20 Chleago 33e New York 36c

Chicken prices continue to gain in strength. As Portland has for some time past been the lowest of the leading markets in the United States considerable business has developed in the mean time.

Leading f. o. b. buyers advanced their bid on light broilers to 24c a pound net Portland delivery, this being a rise of Le over the price of Wednesday and 3c above a week ago.

California continues the chief buyer of poultry in the Portland market and country interests can secure better returns by shipting through Portland than by sending stock direct as the tradeheas is connected firmly with the southern trade and for that reuson has been able to pay the extreme price of the last few days.

Puget Sound is also a buyer of chickens in the local trade but most of its wants are being taken care of by shipments from Sputhwestern Washington.

General selling price along Front street remains Washington.
General selling price along Front street remains around previous figures but the outward movement is better.

Phose desiring special information regarding market should write the Market Editor, gon Journal, enclosing stamp for reply. BUTTER TRADE IS NOT SO FIRM While no price changes were shown here in the price of butter for the day, both prints and thes being stationary, there is a slightly weaker adertone in the market generally, with a wer price in California.

Cheese market showed no price change for the day here, although there has been gradual-improvement in the situation at practically all south Pacific coast and eastern points. Much poor cheese is on the market and this is a detri-

EGG PRICES ARE JUST HOLDING With practically no outlet for supplies of eggs here other than the home market, prevailing conditions in the trade are somewhat unsteady. Bids for current receipts are quiet at 220 a pound as the extreme top.

STRAWBERRY AVALANCHE HERE Avaianche of strawberries struck the local rade during the last 48 hours, resulting in a amplete demoralization of prices and with much verripe stock adding to the weakness. Sales re showing from 75c to $1.15 per crate.

Weather bureau advised Thursday: Protect the protect thements during the next 36 hours against the llowing maximum temperatures: Going north. 2 degrees; northeast, over S. P. & S. R. R. degrees; cast to Baker, 95 degrees, and south Ashland, 95 degrees. Maximum temperature Portland tomorrow about 85 degrees.

Big Bend Crops In Good Condition

Spokane. Wash., June 23.—A fair crep of winter wheat will be harvested by Big Bend farmers this season, while the spring crop is in good cendition, according to S. F. Hale, Spokane resity man, who has returned from a tour of the section. A good rain during the next two weeks is badly needed by farmers west of Spokane, he said.

"The crops do not look as good as I expected," Mr. Hale stated. "We have been getting high reports from all districts, but I find that the Big Bend is not standing up like the district south of Spokane."

Although the Davenport district is showing prospects of a good yield in both winter and spring wheat, the Wilbur winter crop has been hedly scorched and will fall below expectations, Mr. Hale reported.

Astoria Is Seeking Hay Market Trade

Astoria. June 22.—Astoria is making a bid for the hay trade of Hawaii. Since Astoria has a direct monthly steamship service with the Hawaiian islands and has its large Port of Astoria terminals for the storage and handling of the baled fodder, it has been decided by interested parties that this port is the logical point for the propped shipments.

At present L. F. Hunt, acting for the Oregon Haygrowers' association, is negotiating for a reduced rate on hay from Inland Empire points to the seaboard and Willamette valley points.

SOMMERSETSHIRE DUE HERE

LATE IN JULY FROM LONDON Sailing of the new British motorship Sommersetshire from London for Pacific coast ports was announced yesterday at the Merchants Exchange. She is a craft of 7445 tons and is owned and operated by the Royal Mail Packet line. She will reach Portland late in July and will take mixed cargo from here for Europe. The Oregon-Pacific company will act as local agents for the Royal Mail Packet company. The Sommersetshire is not equipped with refrigerator space and will not take fresh fruit to Europe. An equipped steamer of this same line is promised for later in the season and apples are now being lined up for September or October loading. Steamers of the Holland-American line with refrigerator space did not take apples from Portland this season as Se-
