

SCHOOL DIRECTORS INSTALLED; BOARD AIMS AT ECONOMY

Installation of the newly-elected directors of the board of education took place at the meeting held Thursday night at the courthouse. W. J. H. Clark, James E. Martin and George P. Eisman were sworn in by School Clerk R. H. Thomas as new members, while George B. Thomas took the oath on his reelection. All directors were present save William F. Woodward, who is at the beach for his vacation.

Economy was the keynote of the session. Frank Shull led the forces for a reduction of expenditure which met with the approval of the board.

TO SEEK U. S. AID

One exception was made to his program and that was the decision to send George B. Thomas east to attend the annual convention of the National Education association at Des Moines and to Washington, D. C., for getting "all or a part" of $25,000 from the federal board of vocational training for the Benson Polytechnic school.

Director Thomas assured the board there was a very good chance to get the appropriation that had been made for the school, but in some manner it had been sidetracked in Seattle before reaching Portland. Thomas will also purchase new machinery for the Benson school.

Shull alone voted against this Thomas junket. Thomas refrained from voting. The others voted in the affirmative.

Under a plan of reorganization accepted by the board the work of the district has been divided into three parts, educational, business and property. Committees were appointed by A. C. Newell, senior member of the board. They are: Education, Shull and Clark; business, Woodward and Eisman; and property, Thomas and Martin.

PROTEST IS SUBMITTED

The Federation of German Speaking Roman Catholics of Oregon submitted a resolution to the board signed by Joseph L. Franke stating "a wave of religious bigotry and intolerance" had sprung up and that the board of education had "injected religious bias in the qualifications for teaching in the public schools, discriminating against persons of the Catholic faith." The society adopting the resolutions protested this "discrimination."

Director Thomas pointed out before the resolution was indefinitely tabled that the grounds for complaint were unfounded and that the society had made the issue itself. He also pointed out that this same society had introduced resolutions before the board denouncing the efforts to prosecute "certain performers" and that one of the signers had himself been under the cloud of suspicion for obtaining passports for unlawful purposes.

The resolutions were signed by Joseph Woernle, president, and Father Gregory as well as the secretary.

TAX LEVY DISCUSSED

To provide accommodations for the new entries expected for the spring term the board discussed the advisability of presenting to the voters another 2 mill tax. Superintendent Grout pointed out that the portable buildings now installed and under contract would be inadequate for the registration calculated and that new buildings were badly needed.

Resignations from the following teachers were approved: Nellie Bell, Stephens school; Eva Catching, Woodlawn; Violet N. Johnson, Arieta; Ida Olsen, Highland; Edna M. Young, Stephens; and Selma E. Anderson, Washington high. Of the six, three gave the reason for resigning as "to be married." The board approved additional compensation for those on the election board who had to work after midnight June 18. In passing the motion the board went on record as not establishing a precedent.

Bibulous Party in Apartment Ends Up On Police Blotter

All the joy was taken out of life for four women—young—and three men—not so young—who enjoyed the hospitality of F. B. L. Vese at his apartment in the fastidious district surrounding Eleventh and Main streets Thursday night.

But the party assembled to get a "kick" out of life or moonshine or anything else that would change the process into the romantic and every member got a tremendous "wallop" when the stern hand of the law descended on the party at midnight and transferred it to the police station.

Neighbors in the apartment house complained that they thought an earthquake had hit Portland about the time the shades of night began to lower. But as the night advanced the rocking of the building was accompanied by sounds of laughter, howling and canned music.

When the party was at its height Patrolmen Burdick and Shaffer stepped in. It was "open house" night, but the new visitors were not so welcome. The patrolmen picked up a part of a quart of moonshine as evidence and one man with slightly gray hair who had difficulty in navigating on the troubled seas.

At police station this morning the blotter bears the names of the following: Harold Beach, drunk and disorderly; F. B. L. Vese, George Edwards, Mildred Johnson, Irene Jackson, Helen Childs and Marie Gomez, disorderly conduct. Each posted bail of $25.

Letter Carriers to Have Merry Time At Outing Sunday

Letters and parcels post will be forgotten Sunday while the Portland local of the National Association of Letter Carriers makes merry in an all-day picnic at Crystal Lake park. The postal clerks have been included in the plans and it is expected that at least 1000 people will gather for a day of fun.

One of the features of the program, which starts at 10:30, will be a tug-of-war between the carriers and the clerks. With backs bowed the victors will pull the opposition through the cold waters of the lake. Races, a ball game and all sorts of stunts have been arranged by the committee. W. F. Rosewell, H. D. Huffstatter, G. A. Norby, E. H. Roberts, O. Baumgarten, H. T. Day and L. A. McWhirlan have charge of the events.

Darlington Would Come In

Darlington, a suburb outside the city of Portland, is looking forward to the time when it will become a part of this municipality. The Joseph A. Strowbridge estate, owner of the property, has notified the city council that a lot 100x100 feet has been set aside for donation to the city for a fire house site in case Darlington becomes a part of Portland. The council is asked to indicate whether it would accept such an offer.
