MULTNOMAH STATION

The sensation of Multnomah Station n many a day was created Tuesday afternoon when C. Henriksen's haystack caught on fire and caused the volunteer fire department to turn out under Chief Earl Parker and Deputy Sheriff Frick. Record time was made in laying 200 feet of garden hose and a bucket line easily kept the water going that flowed at fully 24-inch pressure. Two young pigs were rescued from a fiery death just in time. Several Pyrene cans were used by the chemical force of the fire department with great effect. The loss is several hundredweight of recently cured hay, and experts are divided into two camps as to whether the fire arose from spontaneous combustion or boys' firecrackers.

By Guy T. Rockwell Special Correspondent of The Journal Cleveland, Ohio, June 25.—Resumption of building after a seven weeks' lay-off of the building trades has given employment to 20,000 or 30,000 men in the last two days. Work on the federal reserve bank building started today and as bank officials had announced it would not be begun until all details of the building strike had been settled, this is taken to indicate that all the troublesome angles have been ironed

There has been no material change in retail prices this week. An indicain the business of wholesalers and manu pany, wholesalers, standing in line at 3 the special session of the Missouri legislature to pass an anti-rent profiteering heaviest ever recorded by the firm Of French invention is a pump which which hold similar sales twice a year. One large producer of iron ore has cut the price $1 a ton, which has placed the price at the 1917 level. A statement today by the Sherwin-Williams Paint company declares that price reductions July 1 will be confined to specialties in
