

Stage A Set for Dempsey-Carpentier Heavyweight Battle at Jersey City Next Saturday

Journal Fans Make Champ. 3 to 1 Shot

WHAT chance has the leaping French frog got with the Yankee tiger? Will Jack Dempsey knock George Carpentier cockoo in a jiffy? Or will the French idol plant his mighty right on Jack's chin and end the July 2 suspense in a mere twinkling? Or will the big international battle be a draw?

Oregon boxing fans have considered and answered these questions through slips published in The Journal and on which opinions were asked. Out of 119 replies, 84 pick Dempsey to annihilate the frog, 24 favor Carpentier, and 11 believe the fight will go the full 12 rounds without a decision. As is required by the New Jersey laws which event the outcome would be a draw, except where press opinion may be used as a determining factor.

The 84 replies favoring Dempsey pick him to win anywhere from the first to the twelfth round, with the majority favoring three, four, five and six rounds. One picks Dempsey to win in one round, 2 pick him to win in two rounds, 11 pick him to win in three rounds, 13 in four rounds, 18 in five rounds, 14 in six rounds, 6 in seven rounds, 2 in eight rounds, 1 in nine rounds, 12 in 10 rounds, and 3 in 12 rounds.

None of the answers picks Carpentier to win in either round one or two, four pick him to win in three rounds, none in four rounds, one in five rounds, six in six rounds, one in seven rounds, four in eight rounds, four in nine rounds, one in 10 rounds, two in 11 rounds, and one in 12 rounds.

The American thus appears to be about a three-to-one shot to win by a knockout.

CARPENTIER CAN'T LAST DISTANCE, SAYS JACK LAIT

By Jack Lait
(Special Correspondent Universal Service)

Atlantic City, N. J., June 25.—To the millions who have been watching the bets on the fight until I had seen Dempsey, and put my expert O. K. on him: "All right fellows—go to it."

Judged by his showing against Bull Montana and a trio of perspiring youngsters, Dempsey is fit. I think he is in better shape than he has been at any time since the Willard bust. Hastening from the ringside to the lobby of the All Haba hotel, where I am quartered, I dug up a sap from the crowd and placed two frightened dollars on Dempsey across the board. If further need there be to punctuate emphatically my sincere opinion of Dempsey, I beg to point out that a man who has $2 left in Atlantic City after being there over night is not placing it without punctuations and painful consideration. It was with mingled feelings of curious interest and gaping wonderment that I beheld Dempsey's training idea for the first time in full bloom.

POLICE CARD LIKE CASH

Of course I cashed on my Chicago police card. But there was a line and women outside the box office in the sizzling sun and the sifting sands for an hour before the portals of this place were opened, and when the nut-brown Dempsey at last romped into view there was a mighty cheer from the goodly gathering. Jack Carpentier, the big financier, reputable undertaker, famous night lifer of many metropolises, and the usual wincey of dips, yeggs, bottom dealers and toughs, all seemed to make a representative assemblage of natives such as only the fistic headlines attract.

At Toledo Dempsey wasn't a champion, so he drew a couple of hundred at two bits the passage each day—just enough to make the rubber and buy lip rouge for the sparring partners. Willard was a gloomy, unpopular mountain of cheese and nobody wanted to see him train. But here at Cover-charge, N. J., I saw a new kind of circus.

DOESN'T STOP FOR SHOW

And it was a great show at that. Dempsey first worked at the pulleys. Light and lithe as a buck, not a ripple of flesh down the front and nothing but rippled along the limbs, he was a picture. He shadow-boxed and fought imaginary Carpentiers all over the ring without stopping for water.

His breathing was rhythmic and easy, hitting on both lungs. It looked as though he could have jogged 20 miles on the road without distress. His method of training work appeared easy and intelligent.

EDDIE IS ELUSIVE

"One Eddie O'Hare, with the look of a startled rabbit, with the ring with more grace than faith. Eddie had no more reason for panic. He is a corking little boxer and he landed a tattoo on Jack, to the amusement of everyone. He is a fine little fighter and in a finish fight with Dempsey would last to the finish. Dempsey would not be so off, however, he had all the hitting ferocity of an angry fly. Dempsey showed well against this boy, who is kidding off, was no slouch at a boxer."

LARRY WILLIAMS WAS THE NEXT BLONDE

led to the sacrifice. He, like the others, including the referee, had guards and head harness of latter day training (how Sullivan would have laughed).

DEMPSEY MESSES THINGS UP

Dempsey did well to keep his ears covered, for it saved him hearing the comments of the customers. As for armor, a bullet proof jacket and diving suit would not have been a bad bet. Dempsey made an awful mess of this third and went on to Jack Hanault, a French Canadian, who is a real fighter, resembles Carpentier in method. Renault is a fine figure, molded as beautifully as Dempsey himself.

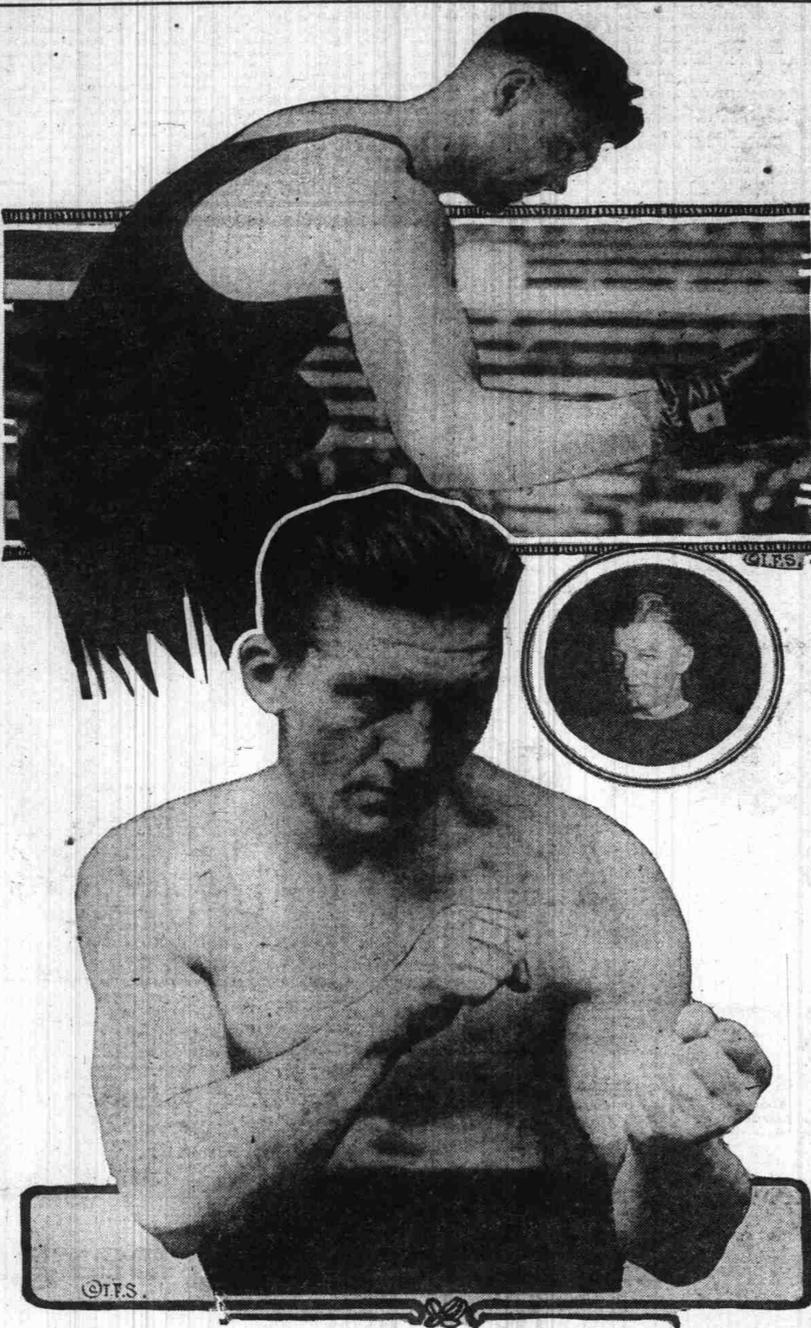

TO CHANCE FOR CARP

After this he took in Old Bull Mont. Dempsey pulled his ears, Montana having no football helmet, and for a few minutes it went on, part wrestling, part sleeping. It is a departure from training. I should classify it as a revival of that now obsolete art once known as bar-room scrapping. Of this Willie Meehan is still champion.

DEMPSEY IS UNCANNY

Dempsey all the way showed uncanny fighting. He is a fighter, not a fighter, or every clinch, instead of stepping or tripping out and is undoubtedly the greatest heavyweight arm-free-fighter ever known. Carpentier can't lick the man whom we saw here, he must be chloroformed. There is nothing in my vision of the fire-breathing Carpentier's past justifying any sound possibilities that the Frenchman can stay the limit in Jersey City.

THESE three men will be in the limelight next Saturday afternoon at Jersey City, N. J. Of course, all eyes will be focused principally on World's Champion Jack Dempsey (upper) and Challenger Georges Carpentier (lower), but should anything unforeseen happen, Harry Ertle (insert), who has been named third man in the ring, will be given plenty of attention. Referee Ertle's actions will be watched with interest in case of knockdowns during the championship battle.

Opening Games of Twilight League Set for Tuesday

SEVEN teams have entered the Portland Sunday School Twilight Baseball league and the first games will be played next Tuesday afternoon. Manager James S. Hoag has so arranged the schedule that the return matches will not take place until after July 22. He has the odd number of nine teams taking part in the games, one team will be to remain idle unless another Sunday school decides to equip a team. Call Manager Hoag at Taber 849 for further information.

Following is the schedule with the team listed as "X" to be replaced by the first Sunday school seeking admission:

Tuesday, June 28.—Anabel Presbyterian vs. Highland Baptist, (X) vs. Arleta Baptist, Woodstock Episcopal vs. Grace Baptist, Central M. E. vs. Central A. M. E.

Friday, July 1.—Woodstock Episcopal vs. Central M. E., Anabel Presbyterian vs. Arleta Baptist, First Friends vs. Highland Baptist, Central Presbyterian vs. Grace Baptist, (X) vs. Central A. M. E.

Tuesday, July 5.—Anabel Presbyterian vs. Woodstock Episcopal, First Friends vs. Arleta Baptist, (X) vs. Highland Baptist, Central Presbyterian vs. Central M. E., Friday, July 8.—(X) vs. Central M. E., Woodstock Episcopal vs. Highland Baptist, Central Presbyterian vs. Arleta Baptist, Anabel Presbyterian vs. Grace Baptist, First Friends vs. Central A. M. E.

Tuesday, July 12.—Arleta Baptist vs. Woodstock Episcopal, Highland Baptist vs. Central M. E., (X) vs. Grace Baptist, Anabel Presbyterian vs. Central M. E., Friday, July 15.—Arleta Baptist vs. Central M. E., Highland Baptist vs. Central Presbyterian, First Friends vs. Grace Baptist, Woodstock Episcopal vs. Central A. M. E.

Tuesday, July 19.—Highland Baptist vs. Central M. E., (X) vs. Grace Baptist, Central A. M. E., and postponed games. Friday, July 22.—Arleta Baptist vs. Central A. M. E., Highland Baptist vs. Central M. E., and postponed games.

"Pesky" Is Going East

A. B. Spry, captain of the University of California track team will take up business career with a New York stock and bond house.

Georges'll Think Winnecke Comet Knocked Him Out

Washington, June 25.—Georges Carpentier will last five rounds according to a reading of the stars made public today by Professor Gustav Meyers, the well-known Hoboken astrologer.

"I have come to the conclusion," he said today, "that Carpentier will retain the title of heavyweight champion of the world and will win the fight over Carpentier by a knockout within five rounds, and the stars in their courses foretell that the fight will end in a most sudden, peculiar and unexpected manner. Carpentier will think that Winnecke comet which recently passed struck him."

Motorcycle Races And Boxing Bouts Planned for Eugene

EUGENE, Or., June 25.—Motorcycle races and boxing bouts have been placed in a prominent position as a part of the program for the third annual Oregon state convention of the American Legion, which is scheduled for Eugene next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The speed demons are billed to race on the Far Western championship Saturday afternoon, while Saturday night will be taken up with the boxing bouts. The opening session of the convales will be started at 8:30 o'clock Friday morning and the election of officers and naming of the 1922 convention city will be left until Saturday. The election of national delegates also will take place Saturday morning.

Next Sunday the delegates will be taken on an automobile trip up the McKenzie river and a barbecue dinner will wind up the festivities. Ben Dorris, general chairman of the committee in charge, is ready for the visitors.

Hannes Returns to Finland

Hannes Kolehmainen has returned to Finland after 9 years' residence in this country. The Finnish government will give him a position. It is understood, as athletic instructor. Hannes this summer may try for records from five to fifteen miles.

Dempsey Will Beat Carpentier, Says Chicago Battler

By Bill Brennan
(Copyright by Universal Service)

MANHASSET, N. Y., June 25.—Carpentier can be hit. I watched four of his sparring partners poke jab after jab into his stomach recently. If Jack Dempsey takes his wallop as easily in the same spot, the Frenchman will break in half by the third or fourth round.

I came here with an open mind. This is the first time I have ever seen Georges in the ring. But after watching him for several rounds, I am absolutely convinced that he has not got the strength or fighting quality to stand up long against a bull like Jack Dempsey.

But along with it I got a feeling of smallness and of almost female grace. I don't mean that he looks it. His muscles are magnificent and he is very heavy in the legs. His shoulders and arms are fine. But that stomach of his I don't like. I think Jack will break him there.

Southern Horses To Race at Albany

Albany, Or., June 25.—A carload of race horses is expected to arrive in Albany not later than Tuesday, according to information received by Wayne Stuart, chairman of the Linn county fair board racing committee. A race meet is billed for July 4 and 5 here and the horses now on the way are from Teno, Nev., where they have been kept since the Tia Juana, Mexico, track closed.

Ring Rests Easy, Fight To Be Held

By Ring Lardner
Atlantic City, N. J., June 25.—Only a week before the fight and it looks now like it was bound to be held though there has been a couple times when I almost fainted for the fear it wouldn't.

"One of the times was when they had the argument over who was going to referee and they were danger of managers Kearns and Dempsey losing their temper and calling the fight off. In fact Mr. Kearns came out flat-footed one afternoon and announced that he was through, but luckily he had been smoking a lot and couldn't talk above a whisper.

COMPROMISE WAS EASY

Bill and Manager Deschamps wanted one expert and the Jersey fight commission was for Harry Ertle and just when it began to seem certain that they couldn't agree he was reached, the commissioners compromised by saying that if Jack and Francis would take Ertle this time, why their man could referee the Carpentier-Dempsey bout provided it was in South Dakota. Thus the clouds were dispersed by the rain of the compromise. The fact that it didn't hardly seem like they will be any more little misunderstandings.

The million dollar holocaust will come off as advertised and promoter Rickard is said to have already made up his mind what he is going to do with his share of the money. He is going to buy him a picture post-card of the arena. Tex's friends say he has revised his old opinion of this great state. He used to think the only thing that bit you here was mosquitoes.

JACK MAY BE TOO SALTY

Dope is getting pretty near as scarce here as up to Manhattan and about all I've heard about is a certain pair of Jack O'Brien's and a great fight fan figured Carpentier to win because Dempsey was training at the sea-shore, and they couldn't get a train at the sea-shore without getting himself full of salt which would ruin him as soon as he got in land. I can't say how much truth there may be in this contention, but I should think that if Jack has got salt as well as pepper it ought to make him a seasoned fighter.

After tomorrow, Mr. Dempsey won't do hardly any more work in public and the correspondents on this front may half to confine their writing to news of the gay social life of American playground.

NO HARM IN PET NAME

Like for inst several friends of "The Champ," as I have playfully called him, and myself was invited to stay to supper out to Mr. Dempsey's the other night and one of them says he didn't think it was right to refer to Mr. Carpentier as a frog and Mr. Dempsey says he didn't think it was proper and I was not because when I call a man a frog it was a pet name with me as some of my best friends is frogs and while I didn't call Mr. Carpentier that as a rule, still if I did I wouldn't expect him to get offended more than I do when people call me one or another name. I think I would be very sorry if the frog croaked, but personally I had been planning to go to the Corinthis Yacht club and punch Dempsey, who I would refer to him as a leap frog and brighten up the sporting page a little.

DEMPSEY HAS GOOD EATS

Will say at this point that the meals at Dempsey's came in just as good as those at Mr. Carpentier's.

Jack's sparring partners don't eat with him, however, but probably have their meals served on the floor, where they feel more at home.

Another item is that his honor Mayor Haged give I and Tiny Maxwell, the football referee in the famous Dempsey-Carpentier fight, a present out to the sea view golf club and we wouldn't half to pay no $10 green fees and not only that but the mayor sent us out in his own car and shot a 74 or pretty near as good as Jack Hutchinson done in Scotland though I only went out in my own car.

When Tiny is golfing he wears an inner tube around his waist and he went the whole 18 holes without using a spare. Last night when Dempsey's birthday party and the boys stayed up party late and don't feel much like writing today. Jack received telegram from Carpentier and Deschamps congratulating him on his birthday but it didn't say nothing in it about many happy returns.

(Copyright 1921 by The Bell Syndicate, Inc. San Francisco Examiner.)

PORTLAND GIRL VISTS JACK

Among the many recent visitors at Jack Dempsey's training camp at Atlantic City, N. J., was Fay King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack King of Portland. Miss King is a prominent newspaper woman of New York and at one time a member of The Journal reporter staff. She is shown in the above picture with "Philadelphia Jack" O'Brien on her right, Champion Dempsey and Mrs. Freddie Welsh on her left.

Defense Is Important Factor Georges Has 'Whiplash' Right

By James J. Corbett
Former World's Heavyweight Champion.
(Written Expressly for the International News Service.)
MANHASSET, L. I., June 25.—I talked over with Georges Carpentier about boxing.

We discussed the game pro and con, especially some of the fine points of it. We talked about boxers and their styles, and I found the French champion one who talks of boxing very intelligently.

From a number of things Carpentier said, I am convinced that he knows the game, but as far as his public exhibitions are concerned, I'm inclined to think he's a bit of a show-off.

Monday I watched him in his usual workout for the press. It was little different from any of the others. He boxed aggressively. That was about all. The outstanding thing that Georges has unleashed—and that very sparingly—has been his whiplash right. We all know he possesses a great right hand.

So far Carpentier has shown no defensive to amount to anything, yet I think and let Jack do all the fighting. He certainly impressed me in my talk with him of the fact that he realizes the value of a strong defense.

The punch will win for Dempsey, nothing more. What else does he need? He doesn't need any defensive.

"But I'll challenge the winner. I hope to be at the ringside to do it. If not, I'll write my challenge."

"What about Harry Willis' chances against Dempsey?" Johnson was asked.

"You can't have a glass jaw and be a champion," Johnson remarked. Johnson said he has an offer from a Salt Lake promoter to meet Willis there late in July. He added the proposition was too good to pass up. Johnson's sentence of a year will terminate July 7.

Hunting Season Rules Are Given Dates in Washington Prescribed

Olympia, Wash., June 25.—Rules for the regulation of hunting in both Eastern and Western Washington were issued recently by the department of fisheries and game, as follows:

The deer season in Thurston, Clallam, Lewis, King, Kitsap, Skamania, Grays Harbor and Wahkiakum counties is from October 1 to October 31. The limit is two of either sex. In Pacific county the deer season is from October 1 to October 31, with one limit of either sex. For the same period in Island, Jefferson, Whatcom, Skagit, Snohomish and Mason counties the season is from October 10 to October 15, inclusive, with one limit of either sex. In San Juan the season runs from October 20 to October 30, limited to one of either sex.

OPEN TO PROTECTED

The entire state is closed to elk, moose, caribou, mountain goats and sheep, according to Ernest Seaborg, director of fisheries and game.

The bear season runs from September 1 to October 1 in Grays Harbor, Island, Pierce, San Juan, King, Lewis, Kitsap, Mason, Coville, Jefferson, Thurston, Kitsap, Wahkiakum and Whatcom counties; from October 1 to October 30 in Clallam, Clarke and Snohomish counties; from October 1 to February 1 in Skagit county; from October 1 to November 30 in Skamania county.

RULES FOR UPLAND BIRDS

Rules controlling the hunting of upland birds in Western Washington are as follows: native pheasants, September 15 to September 30, inclusive, with bag limit two per day; season closed on any week; Chinese pheasants and quail, November 1 to November 15, inclusive, with bag limit two per day; season closed on any week; Hungarian partridges until October 16, inclusive, with bag limit five per day.

Pacific county—Chinese pheasants, native pheasants and grouse, September 15 to September 30, inclusive, with bag limit five per day or 15 per week; season closed on quail and pigeons.

Grays Harbor county—Grouse and native pheasants, September 15 to September 30, inclusive, with bag limit five per day or 15 per week; Chinese pheasants, October 20 to November 15, inclusive, with bag limit five per day or 15 per week; season closed on any week; Hungarian partridges and quail, October 1 to October 16, inclusive, with bag limit five per day; season closed on any week.

Thurston county—Grouse and native pheasants, September 15 to September 30, inclusive, with bag limit five per day, single or mixed; Chinese pheasants and quail, November 1 to November 15, inclusive, with bag limit two Chinese pheasants, five quail or 15 per week; season closed on any week; Hungarian partridges and quail, October 1 to October 16, inclusive, with bag limit five per day, single or mixed, 15 per week.

REGULATIONS IN THURSTON

Thurston county—Grouse and native pheasants, September 15 to September 30, inclusive, with bag limit five per day, single or mixed; Chinese pheasants and quail, November 1 to November 15, inclusive, with bag limit two Chinese pheasants, five quail or 15 per week; season closed on any week; Hungarian partridges and quail, October 1 to October 16, inclusive, with bag limit five per day, single or mixed, 15 per week.

Season closed on all upland

Fly Casters Will Hold Practice Sunday, July 10

EASTERN casters who plan on coming to Portland to compete in the annual national fly and bait casting tournament, under the auspices of the Multnomah Anglers' club at Sellwood park pool, August 19, 20, 21 and 22, will assemble at Chicago, Ill., and from there come to the Rose City via the Canadian Pacific. Such is the information received by Jack Herman, secretary of the Multnomah Anglers' club, and he was notified that at least two Pullman cars will be tried with visiting contestants.

The first all-day practice tournament is scheduled for Sunday, July 10, at Sellwood park, and at that time the entire program which will be run off during the national gathering will be gone over in order to give Portlanders an opportunity to get a line on what can be expected in real competition.

To further the interest in the all-day affair, a telegraphic casting tourney will be conducted between Tacoma, Seattle, San Francisco and Portland and the scores from each city will be sent to Secretary Herman. The Northwest will be represented in Portland August 19, 20, 21 and 22 and quite a number of Californians have signified their intentions of journeying North.

MEETING CALLED

No monthly meeting of the Multnomah Anglers' club will be held during the summer but President Walter F. Backus has issued instructions for the finance and tournament committees to meet with him Wednesday noon at Meier & Frank's. At that time, reports will be made showing the progress that has been made in arranging the details for the coming four-day convention.

Around 200 entries will compete here in August. Judging from the way requests have been coming in for entry blanks, all parts of the country are being interested in the tourney through various casting clubs and practically every winner of the 1920 plans on defending his national title in Portland.

The way some of the new comers at the Sellwood park pool have been performing of late gives hopes that the Rose city will develop some contenders during the next six weeks. Practices have been held every Wednesday evening and anyone with the desire to learn to cast is invited to receive instruction free of charge.

The all-day program, July 10, will be open to everyone and the first number called around 9 o'clock, according to present plans.

Civic Clubs' Teams Play Close Games In Volleyball Meet

THE Portland Ad club has one more cup for its trophy case as a result of the outcome of the Portland Civic clubs' Volley Ball league. The Ad club volleyball boys won the 1921 championship of the circuit in the Young Men's Christian Association gymnasium Wednesday night and the M. M. Ringler trophy was the prize.

There were six teams in the circuit and each squad played five contests. At the end of the regular schedule the Rotary club tied with the Ad club and in the playoff the Ad players won, 15 to 3. The final standings of the team follow:

W. L. Peat	W. L. Peat
Ad club... 5 1 531	Rotary club... 3 2 260
Cham. Com. 3 2 600	Prof. Busan. 0 5 000

The lineup follows: Charles E. Conche, captain; Frank Kerr, Roy Eklund, Dr. George Hoffman, Roy T. McVay, Lynn Corson, Walter Ad club—Charles S. Barton, captain; W. B. Shroy, W. H. Anderson, Ed. Blair, W. B. Pionobrandt, H. E. Anderson, A. E. Larimer, A. E. Carlson, C. C. Chapman, Charles E. Short, William Lester, John Tomlinson, A. C. Miller, Frank A. Joy, Dr. E. W. Green, J. Berry, H. E. Williams.

Chamber of Commerce—Oscar Heintz, captain; Arthur Southwick, E. J. Munnell, J. V. Whigg, H. W. E. Randall, L. Johnson.

Rotary club—Rudolph A. Johnson, Harold Junack, H. W. Jones, T. C. Blunsard, J. Louis McWilson.

Progressive Business Men's club—H. T. Smith, captain; F. C. Hawthorn, E. J. Nelson, Ed. Hanson, Ernest Sellers, C. O. Trip, George A. Brown, Jack Day, R. E. Brennan, C. E. Johnson.

Rotarians to Hold Shoot Chehalis, Wash., June 25—The Chehalis Rotary club has challenged the Centralia Rotary club to a tournament match to be held on the Chehalis Gun club grounds for Rotary trophy.

Base Ball Portland vs. San Francisco

Goldenale, Wash., June 25.—Joe McKay, Pacific Coast pitcher with a heat record of 2:08 made at Springfield, Ill., two years ago, and owned by Al Harden of Glenwood, Wash., will be raced on the Ohio state and the grand circuit in the stable of H. H. Stokes, according to word received here. Another Washington owned horse, Lou Hal, owned by D. E. Will of Lyle, is being prepared for the Ohio tracks.

Harden also will have a string of pacers and sitters to go on the Northwest circuit during the 1921 campaign. Sam Bush. Local horsemen have put several of their horses under the guidance of Charles Archer, Amos, one of the horsemen who have horses in training for the Klickitat county fair are: J. H. Corfield, H. H. Clausen, William Feackel, T. Tefft, Clay Barnes, Al Harden and Mel Hoyt.

DOUBLE HEADER TODAY AT 1:30 P. M.