MANHASSET, L. I., June 27.—Fran-cois Descamps has drawn what you might almost call a curtain of mystery over the doings on this plantation to prevent Jack Dempsey from stealing Georges Carpentier's signals.

Loud thumpings as of Paul Journee falling a great distance, a great many times, were heard in the barn Saturday. but Sunday all was quiet along the Man-hasset pike and Uncle Paul was out, perfectly innocent of any work, secret

Georges was away on the sound on the power yacht Lone Star, boxing six fast rounds with the compass and using his hook on the poor fish abounding in these waters.

WORK VERY, VERY SECRET

When he returned he just loafed about the premises, put away some nutriment and decided to stand pat on his road work of the early morning as the only workout of the day. This took him through the woods of Louis Sherry's place over yonder a piece where, among the ivy and the brambles, he took a few quick, secret jabs at his shadow.

The Frenchman is doing some very secret work Monday when three heavyweight sparring partners will go around and around with him out in the barn. Francois Descamps wouldn't tell who these fellows are. Dempsey detectives were reported to be picketing all roads to get the information, feeling that Jack is bound to lose the fight unless he knows whom Georges works out with and how much he pays for his shirts.
Things are getting very opaque.

If Carpentier won't lead and Dempsey won't either, it will be a rotten fight for half a million dollars.
