

SUPPLY OF ICE IS DECLARED AMPLE; PRICE UNCHANGED

With summer weather now fairly on, demands for ice have begun. No likelihood of an ice shortage is seen by ice makers, who joined in saying that the supply would be more than ample to meet all demands when hot weather really sets in.

The National Coal & Ice company last winter built an addition to its plant carrying a capacity of 50 tons daily and giving it a daily capacity of 150 tons. The ice made by this firm will more than offset the shortage of a year ago, dealers declared.

Ice factories supplying the wholesale and retail trade have a combined capacity of more than 200 tons. All say they are in a much better position this summer than last to take care of their customers.

Prices have not changed since the summer of 1920. For that matter, according to the ice manufacturers, prices have not changed for years.

"We did not raise our prices during the war and therefore do not have to reduce," one manufacturer declared today.

"Ice is selling for 80 cents a hundred in the residential districts when customers purchase coupon books. We sold ice at that price back in 1914 and dealers were getting the same prices as far back as 1902."

Restaurants and refreshment parlors are paying 50 cents a hundred pounds, while most of the downtown stores and markets have their own refrigeration systems.

Extradition Denied In Case of Alleged Theft of Airplane

Salem, Or., June 28.—Governor Olcott Tuesday refused to honor the requisition of the governor of California for the return to that state of A. W. Weaver of Eugene, wanted in San Francisco to answer to a charge of stealing an airplane.

According to Weaver's story, told to the governor at the extradition hearing this morning, the airplane company had failed to insure the plane, although he had paid them the money for this purpose. This fact, he declares, he did not discover until the plane was wrecked when he was unable to recover any damages. The motor, which he had salvaged, had been stored in the basement of his sister's home in San Francisco. He stated, pending the filing of an action for damages, which he intended to bring against the company as soon as he could earn enough money to prosecute the case.

The governor said he believes Weaver was acting in good faith and that he had no intention of concealing the motor. Weaver gave the California official an order for the delivery of the motor in dispute when the governor refused to send him back to that state to stand trial.

Officers Find Still Hidden Deep in Cave

Astoria, June 28.—A complete copper still hidden deep in a cave dug in an embankment back of the ranch of John Isaacson, near old Fort Clatsop, was discovered by officers Monday night. Isaacson was arrested. Several quarts of moonshine also were found. The only entrance to the location of the still was by a narrow underground tunnel. The officers, who were searching the Isaacson farm house, were directed to the still by the actions of a girl, who was seen signalling to persons in the woods. The officers are on the trail of a man alleged to have been a partner in the enterprise.

Work is being done on the west side.

C. M. Hall Produce Co. Assets $80,000 Short of Liabilities

Assets of the C. M. Hall Produce company are almost $80,000 short of the liabilities, according to a schedule filed in the federal court Tuesday by Hall who confessed bankruptcy on June 4, after creditors had filed an involuntary petition against him the previous day.

Hall enumerates the firm's debts as follows: Taxes due the government, $27,043.39; taxes due the state and county, $87.36; wages due, $272; secured claims due, $34,161.06; unsecured claims, $46,638.27; total, $85,563.08.

Assets of the firm total $3865.29 and are as follows: Cash, $23.70; open accounts due, $54.59; stocks in trade (eggs), $165; furniture and fixtures, $22; vehicles, $300; stocks and implements, $200.

The unsecured creditors are people living all over Oregon who have not received money for dairy produce shipped the local house. Creameries in the Willamette valley are the heaviest losers. Nearly all the secured credits are represented for eggs, which are held by the Ladd & Tilton bank.

Hall was formally declared a bankrupt on June 7. The petitions filed today are in keeping with the orders of the court issued June 7.

One incentive for 71 years

Away back in 1850, Folger's Coffee was supplied to the early builders of the Pacific Coast empire. It was liked; it was considered good coffee.

But we were far from satisfied with this pioneer product. We constantly sought ways and means for improving it—for bringing out the best coffee flavor and for keeping that flavor absolutely uniform.

This incentive—the incentive of striving for something better—has dominated the Folger organization for seventy-one years. That is why we know you will like Folger's Golden Gate Coffee. It is the best coffee this long experience and skill in coffee roasting have produced.

You will find that it is smooth and rich;—and its fine flavor is kept for you in the vacuum tin. You will like Folger's Golden Gate for it is "Different in taste from other coffee and better."

Ask your grocer for it.
