J. S. COOPER, WHO CAME TO OREGON IN 1863, IS DEAD

James Shelby Cooper, long a resident of Independence, and who came to Oregon in 1863, died Sunday at the King Hill apartments in Portland at the age of 80 years. He had lived here since January.

Mr. Cooper was for many years active in business at Independence, where he organized and headed the First National bank. He disposed of his banking interests in 1900 to engage in hop growing.

ACTIVE IN POLITICS

In 1888 Mr. Cooper was a delegate to the Republican national convention, which nominated Harrison for the presidency and he always took a keen interest in local and state politics. In 1905 he represented Polk and Lincoln counties in the legislature.

Born in Lawrence county, Missouri, in 1841, Mr. Cooper came to Oregon by the way of San Francisco. Accompanied by a sister, he left his home in Missouri in 1860 for the West with an ox team. He settled on a cattle ranch in California, later teamed into Nevada and afterwards came north to Oregon, locating near Salem. There he farmed and attended McMinnville college.

WIDOW SURVIVES

Mr. Cooper married Frances Graves, a daughter of C. B. Graves of Independence, a pioneer of 1844. Three children were born to them, all of whom are living. They are Mrs. George M. Parker of the Canal Zone, Panama; Mrs. W. D. Moreland of Tacoma and Mrs. C. E. Ireland of Klamath Falls.

Following the death of his first wife Mr. Cooper married Mrs. Jennie McNeal Logan of Dallas. Four children were born to them. They are J. S. Cooper Jr. of Portland, Miss Genevieve Cooper of Portland, Mrs. George M. Williams of Centralia and Mrs. John Kraus of Aurora. Mr. Cooper is survived by his widow.

The funeral will be held Tuesday from the family residence in Independence under the auspices of the Masonic order at 2 o'clock. Mr. Cooper was a charter member of the Independence chapter of the Royal Arch Masons.

Mrs. M. C. Engle

Mrs. M. C. Engle, wife of Howard Engle, died Sunday at the family home, 51½ East Union avenue, at the age of 52 years. She was born in Portland in 1869 and had lived in this city all of her life. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Walters. Funeral arrangements have not been made yet.

Woman Takes Poison And Dies in Room in Hotel; Body Is Found

Mrs. Mary Hill White, reputed wife of a colored man, committed suicide at the Clyde hotel Sunday by drinking poison.

The suicide was discovered at 7 p. m. when the manager, after failing to get a response to telephone calls, and knowing her to be in her room, opened the door and found her stretched lifeless on the bed. A city physician, who was called, declared she had been dead six hours. The body was taken to the morgue.

Mrs. Hill had attempted to reach by telephone her husband, James Hill, lately a waiter at the Spokane club, Spokane, Wash., at 12:30 p. m., Sunday. After being informed that her husband had not been at the club for weeks and that the authorities had no knowledge of his whereabouts, Mrs. Hill sent a bellboy out to buy poison, the manager stated.

Mrs. Hill registered at the Clyde hotel on June 30. J. F. Powel, who had known her, told the police that she had been at the Monte Carlo hotel until that date. He also testified that she had asked him to get $42 worth of jewelry out of pawn on Saturday, a request to which he responded. The jewelry was found in the woman's room. Powel also said that a brother and sister of Mrs. Hill lived in St. Helens.

Mrs. Hill was employed as a saleswoman for a complexion soap. She carried receipts made out to "Mrs. Mary Dulley, Coquille, Or.," indicating that she had been married twice.

PALATIAL HOME OF L. J. SIMPSON BURNS

Marshfield, July 4.—Shore Acres, the palatial home of L. J. Simpson, on his 2000-acre estate two miles ane one-half south of Coos Bay, was completely destroyed by fire early Sunday morning. Simpson was a candidate for governor of Oregon at the last election.

The fire spread to garages and outbuildings, destroying them. It had such a start that use of fire fighting equipment was futile.

Simpson was not in the house when the fire broke. It was about 2 oclock. the fire broke out about 2 o'clock. The night was bright and Simpson, restless and unable to sleep, went for a walk.

Loss of the house alone is estimated at $150,000. Valuable paintings, silver, equipage and family heirlooms were all destroyed.
