

LUMBERMEN STILL WRESTLING WITH TARIFF QUESTION

Washington, July 6.—(WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE JOURNAL)—Controversy over a tariff on lumber continues at a brisk rate, and it seems clear that there is to be a fight to the finish against the imposition of any sort of a duty, even though the tariff advocates have reduced their demands to a retaliatory provision on tongued and grooved lumber alone.

Republican leaders of the Mississippi valley will be satisfied with nothing less than absolutely free lumber, regardless of the kind or the Canadian duty.

FORNEY FOR IT The Southern pine and Western pine manufacturers and the retail lumbermen are against the duty; the West Coast Lumbermen's association is for it.

MAKES ARGUMENT "My principal interests are in the state of Idaho, where I am interested in three operations, and I am also interested in one operation at The Falls, Manitoba, Canada. My interests are much larger in Idaho and Oregon than they are in Canada.

It might bring our Oregon timber into the market a little quicker, but it would destroy to a very large extent that splendid trade relationship with Canada which we enjoy at the present time.

PAFMELETS FOR TARIFF R. E. Allen, secretary-manager of the West Coast association, has broadcasted congress with a pamphlet that eight years of free lumber have not reduced prices to the consumer to any extent.

Canada could not supply the normal demand of the state of New York alone, he says, if it exported all it produced; but it exports only 30 per cent, and only one-tenth of the Canadian output will be distributable under the Fordney bill.
