Miss Hofstetter
Is Honored at Tea Today

MISS PATIENCE HOFSTETTER of Washington, D. C., who is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Edward Cookingham, was honored this afternoon at a tea for which Mrs. Morris H. Whitehouse was hostess at her home in Johnson street. The visitor is a niece of Mr. Whitehouse and of Mrs. E. L. Brown of this city.

About 50 members of the younger social contingent called during the afternoon, and for the occasion the room was fragrant with summer blossoms. During the tea hours, those who presided at the tea and coffee urns were Mrs. Lee Hawley Hoffman, Mrs. D. W. L. MacGregor, Mrs. Antonio G. Labbe and Mrs. Jordan V. Zan. Mrs. Edward Cookingham and Mrs. Albert Cooper cut the loaves. Assisting about the room were Mrs. E. L. Brown, Miss Hazel Crocker, Miss Aule Green, Miss Kathleen Brown, and Miss Suzanne Caswell.

Dr. and Mrs. T. W. Watts and family and Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Panton and family are spending the summer season at Toga, Long Beach, Wash. Little Hanna Sue Watts celebrated her seventh birthday anniversary last week. Her friends included Miss Elizabeth Panton, Miss Marjorie Panton, John Panton, and Edith Panton. Mrs. Watts is a granddaughter of Mrs. Charles Panton, who was born in Seaview with her house guest, Mrs. Sweet, and her two sons, Boater and George Earl.

Mrs. E. R. Moes has as her guest at her home in East Yamhill street Miss Margaret MacGowan of San Francisco. Miss MacGowan is a granddaughter of Major Alexander B. MacGowan, commander at Fort Independence, Cal., in the '60s, a valiant soldier in the Civil war, and an officer in the famous Seventh regiment national guard of New York city.

Mrs. C. W. McKee and Miss Mildred McKee are visitors in the city from Hollywood, Cal., and are guests at the home of Mrs. McKee's sister, Mrs. E. E. Willett, at 588 East Kelly street for the next two weeks. The visitors are on their way to Kansas City and Chicago where they will spend a short time before returning to California.

Interesting visitors in the city are Mrs. W. T. Foster of Washington, D. C., who is the guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Koester, at their home in Laurelhurst, and Mrs. Ralph Foster of St. Joseph, Mo., who is a sister-in-law of Mrs. Koester. They will spend the summer in Portland.

Mrs. A. Dr. Haseltine of Walla Walla and her daughter, Miss Elizabeth Haseltine, are visitors in the city at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gage Haseltine. Haseltine has been a student of sculpture at the Art Institute in Chicago during the past year.

Mrs. Frederick G. Wheeler was hostess for a tea Tuesday honoring her daughter, Miss Anna Wheeler, who recently returned from Bishop's school in California, and for Miss Patience Hofstetter of Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hiram Strong have been entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kerr and children the past week at their summer home, Stronghurst, on the Bluff road near Sandy.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Eberman entertained a group of friends over the week end at the country home on the Columbia river highway.

Sandy, July 13.—Mrs. Gilbert, wife of Judge W. B. Gilbert, Portland, has been spending a week here visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Purcell.

Mrs. Herbert Garr Reed and her niece, Miss Helen Reed, left the city this morning for Seattle.

A DIARY

July 11th—MY HAPPIEST DAY! I can almost feel my little baby in my arms! Today I went to the address that Dorothy gave me, on one of the quieter downtown streets. Within the shop everything was "hushy" sweet—in cool grey and clean baby pink! A sweet-faced lady led me to a comfortable chair in a secluded little grey and pink corner. "A winter baby?" she asked me. "November," I replied. "Then this is the outfit you will want," and she explained with utmost care how the winter layette is made up especially to suit the needs of the Northwest baby. There were three each of the little wearables—just enough to keep baby in changes and an extra for emergency. First she showed me the little hand-made and embroidered model garments—then she showed me the complete layette, like Dorothy's. There were 72 pieces in the set, 51 of these were ready for use—and the remaining 14 garments awaiting just that touch of handiwork that I so much want to put on baby's things! Directions for making were in every package, with thread, buttons, and everything! Of course, I bought the outfit—I can hardly wait till it comes home!

"FATTY" ARBUCKLE, rolynd comedian of the screen, who is seen in "The Traveling Salesman," his latest picture, at the Rivoli theatre this week.

By F. A. C.

"Fatty" Arbuckle is not up to the new Arbuckle standard in his new picture, "The Traveling Salesman," now playing at the Rivoli. The frenzied movie hound, given the name of the picture, and the name of the actor, and recalling certain humorous things in connection with both, immediately thinks that here, beyond the shadow of a doubt, is an able take-off on the idiosyncrasies, habits, and so forth, of the traveling salesman. And as a matter of fact it is nothing of the sort. Arbuckle disports himself in a role and in a manner which almost any other actor, given a certain redundancy of figure and cheerfulness of countenance, could emulate, and most of them could surpass. The plot is simple, the action simpler.

morning for Seattle to spend the remaining weeks of the summer. Mrs. Reed will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Alford, and Miss Dr. will visit at the home of Miss Katherine Harschberger.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Aronson returned to Portland Tuesday morning following an extended trip abroad during which they visited the principal cities in England, France and Germany, and made a brief trip to Sweden and into Italy. They have been absent about two months.

Mr. and Mrs. David E. Kellogg Jr. (Dorothy Engelhart), whose marriage took place last week at Trinity Episcopal chapel, have left the city for California and will return to make their home in Seattle.

Mrs. W. C. Ruess and two little daughters, Mary Louise and Elizabeth, have returned to the city from a visit at Hood River where they spent two weeks.

Mrs. Ira F. Powers left the city early Tuesday morning for the Y. M. C. A. camp at Spirit lake to visit her young son.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Smith have returned from a visit of two weeks in California.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Holohan will leave the city Friday for Seattle to be absent over the week-end.

Women's Clubs

BYVELLA WINNER

The women's auxiliary of Over-the-Top post No. 1, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will be entertained Thursday at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Valentine Roth, 5711 East Broadway street, corner Foster road. All members of the organization and their friends are invited to be present.

Betsy Ross tent No. 1, Daughters of Veterans, will hold a regular business meeting Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at 825 Courthouse.

The Peninsula Park Lavender club will hold its regular meeting at Peninsula park clubhouse, Thursday, at 2:30 p. m.

Robbed Bath's Clothes
Dallas, Or., July 13.—Frank Coon, 19, was arrested by Sheriff Orr, charged with robbing the clothing of bathers at the swimming pool in the city park. Coon pleaded guilty and is now serving a 30-day sentence in the county jail.

A jury of 12 men decided that Mrs. Johnson, who is 19 and comely, was bedecked in a waist that left too little to the imagination. The court fined Mrs. Johnson $5 and costs, claiming that Wilbur Glenn Voliva's mandates regarding modesty in women's dresses had been violated.

Nobleman Leaves Prison
Dublin, July 13.—(L. N. S.)—Lord Bandon, aged nobleman, who was recently seized by the Sinn Feiners, was released today.

Characteristic of Another Century
The present mode accepts, with reservations, of course, many of the details that were characteristics of another century, and two that are revived again and again are the puffed sleeves, short and shirred, and the corset and matron. The frock illustrated at the left, below, has short sleeves that are gathered at the cuff to correspond with the shirred tucker above a surprise opening, and a uniquely arranged bodice adds a complicated appearance to the simplicity of the frock. The model at the right, of plain and dotted Swiss, accents the divisions of its fabrics in a striking manner, and as though to soften the forked outlining, the sleeves adopt the most demure of puffings.

'Follies of Today'
Draws Attention to Popular Oaks Park

With a brilliant display of new costumes and rich scenic effects, "The Follies of Today," the latest revue to be offered by the Gregory Extravaganza company, opened at the Oaks amusement park auditorium Monday.

The piece has for its setting a luxurious palace. Songs and dances prepared especially for this number, combined with the excellent work of various individuals and the chorus, lend to the performance a charm exceeding that of "Venice by Moonlight," given last week.

Miss Eva Gregory, singing "There's Nothing on the Level Any More" and Marie Cletwin with a comic Irish ballad and dance, were probably most popular with the audience. Alan MacDonald, a new baritone, sings "The Nightingale" and Stanley Hicks sings "That Old Irish Mother of Mine" to an appropriate setting.

"The Way the Young Fellows Select Their Brides in Portland" is illustrated in clever pantomime. "When Rebecca Came Back From Mecca" and brought along some Oriental dances, very few clothes and a collection of extravagant beauties as her friends, Rebecca's papa, a Yiddish gentleman (Fred Cutler), gets into some embarrassing situations. The female trio leads the chorus on the runway with some catchy songs.

Comic Opera Is
Pan. Feature
For Week

WITH a good sized comic opera production, featured by catchy songs, resplendent costumes and graceful girl dancers as the headliner, Pantages theatre offers an entertainment of unusual merit this week. The "Japanese Romance," with Nace Murray, Carly Bial, Sallie Keith and George Gould as the stars, is a lively aggregation of performers. The company renders five songs each represented by distinctive costuming and grace of pose on part of the chorus that is refreshing. The gowns are a rare combination of beauty of the designer's art.

Anita Arliss, former star of the "Chocolate Soldier," supported by four "Winter Garden Boys" is a close contender for major honors, and, although not on such a lavish scale as the Japanese piece, possesses a sprightly vocal attraction. Have and Lady make good in a takeoff on "Before and After Marriage." The act is a laugh maker.

"Parisian eccentricities" Amores and Oboler, in a dance offering of gymnastic proportions, in which the French girl cavorts about with ludicrous motion that reminds one of the famous Eva Tanguay.

Lillian Ruby, concert violinist, won handsomely by her dexterous manipulation of the bow and her pleasing stage presence.

The slapstick movies and travel pictures complete the bill.

Zion Beauty Fined
$5 for Appearing in
Peek-a-Boo Waist

Zion City, Ill., July 13.—(L. N. S.)—The courts are going to hear more about Sarah Johnson's alleged "peek-a-boo" waist.

A jury of 12 men decided that Mrs. Johnson, who is 19 and comely, was bedecked in a waist that left too little to the imagination. The court fined Mrs. Johnson $5 and costs, claiming that Wilbur Glenn Voliva's mandates regarding modesty in women's dresses had been violated.
