

The beaches and mountains beckon the city dwellers this midsummer day. You will find in The Journal's resort column, page 7, section 4, today, a competent guide in making a selection.

Portland and vicinity—Sunday, fair and warmer; northwesterly winds. Oregon and Washington—Sunday, fair, warmer; except the coast; moderate westerly winds.

DR. BRUMFIELD SEEN HERE ON WAY TO EAST

Sheriffs Convinced Brumfield Was Recognized by Garage Man at East 52d and Sandy.

Was Traveling With Man in Soldier's Uniform; Roseburg Jitney Driver Said to Be Missing.

Sheriffs of Multnomah and Douglas counties were convinced last night they have struck the trail of Dr. R. M. Brumfield, Roseburg dentist accused of the murder of Dennis Russell.

They believe they have traced the dentist from Roseburg through Portland and in the direction of Eastern Oregon. Spurred on by the announcement of Governor Olcott yesterday afternoon that he would recommend the payment of a reward of $1000 for the capture of Russell's slayer, regular and amateur detectives throughout the Northwest are taking up the hunt for Dr. Brumfield and the chances of his finally getting away are lessening hourly.

SEEN BY GARAGE MAN

W. F. Waldorf, manager of the Rose City garage, Fifty-second and Sandy boulevards, gave the first information relative to Brumfield being seen here. Waldorf told Chief Jenkins that a man answering the description of Brumfield and resembling the publisher of the Roseburg dentist, had purchased gasoline at his place Thursday night and had inquired regarding roads and garage facilities along the Columbia river highway to Hood River.

Waldorf added that a second man, clad in soldier's leggings and trousers, was in the automobile. He said he did not make note of the make of car in which the men were riding and would not have thought further about the episode had it not been for the murder and seen the published picture of the supposed slayer.

Portland officers have been informed that a jitney man who took Dr. Brumfield, has been missing since the disappearance of the dentist.

(Continued on Page Two, Column One)

Alibi Traffic Plans Of Gang of Crooks Bared by Detectives

San Francisco, July 16.—Inside details of the "alibi traffic" by which San Francisco crooks have succeeded in robbing commercial houses of huge sums here without fear of conviction, were given out here today by County Detective George Heims, in the implementation of William Abernethy, last of the notorious "Thirty gang."

Heims said that members of the gang had posted or bribed "straw" men on several large plants, who easily cleared members of the gang accused of theft by showing the "fixed" records of the firm to prove the men were working at the time the robbery took place.

"It was a form of crook insurance," said Heims, "the crooks operating fearlessly because they knew they could easily get off if captured."

Supposedly Lost Copy of Versailles Treaty Recovered

Washington, July 16.—(I. N. S.)—The treaty mystery is solved. An official statement was made today that the American copy of the treaty of Versailles, which has been reported missing, is now reposing in the safe of Secretary of State Hughes.

Heretofore officials of the state department denied any knowledge of the whereabouts of the treaty and the White House had been noncommittal. Officials today talk in off-hand explanation of the mystery with which they have veiled the whereabouts of the document.

Foreign Ministers Agree on Alliance

Copenhagen, July 16.—(I. N. S.)—The foreign ministers of Lithuania, Letonia and Estonia have agreed upon the basis of a defensive economic alliance, said a Kovno dispatch to the Politikin today.

This Ought to Be Some Game Northcliffe Versus Harding

By Robert J. Frew
Universal Service Staff Correspondent
London, July 16.—There are going to be great happenings in Washington after next when Lord Northcliffe meets President Harding in single combat on the Washington golf links.

The great golfing match between Lord Northcliffe and President Harding is being played today in London today expressing the hope that he would be able to retrieve the laurels shown from the British golfers at St. Andrews, where Jack Whitehouse lifted the open championship.

This morning, only two hours before the boat-train was due to leave, Lord Northcliffe was still on the Tottieridge course getting himself in the best possible trim for the match with the president. He has arranged for apparatus which will permit him to practice driving on the upper deck of the Aquitania while at sea.

The meeting, preliminaries of which have been arranged by both

Mrs. O'Hare To Prosecute Legion Men

Socialist Speaker to Seek Federal Indictment of Twin Falls Kidnapers.

Girard, Kan., July 16.—(U. P.)—Federal indictment or prosecution in state courts will be sought against the 23 American Legion members of Twin Falls, Idaho, who kidnaped Kate Richards O'Hare, Socialist speaker, and carried her in an automobile to Montello, Nev., to prevent her from lecturing at Twin Falls, Mrs. O'Hare announced here tonight, following conferences with attorneys.

A nation wide fund of several thousand dollars, of which several hundred has been already collected, will be raised to "save" the most prominent attorneys of the nation to push the case, Mrs. O'Hare said.

The most likely source of prosecution to be followed, it was indicated, will be to seek federal indictments on grounds that carrying Mrs. O'Hare across a state line on the 150 mile ride across desert and mountain, in the Twin Falls to Montello places the affair in jurisdiction of the federal courts.

JOURNAL AIRPLANE MAKES FAST DASH

Pilot Roth, in Express Service Between Portland and Beach, Covers Lap in 62 Minutes.

With ideal flying weather favoring the journey, Pilot Archie Roth made a quick and satisfactory flight Saturday from Portland to Astoria and the Clatsop beaches in The Journal seaplane express service. Taking off from The Journal's slip in the Willamette river at the foot of Yamhill street at 1:15 p. m., Roth reached the proposed new Astoria landing basin at Tongue point at 2:35. Finding he had anticipated the Astoria arrival, he took the express to the old basin, where he unloaded the heavy cargo of early afternoon editions of The Journal.

Taking 20 minutes at the Seaside landing basin in the Necanicum river, arriving at 3:15, 20 minutes after leaving Astoria.

By flying as high as he did, Roth was able to avoid the lower air currents that buffet with his pilot flaps as he whirled in and out of the wind. The return trip was 83 minutes, the final observation being made when he set foot on the dock as the seaplane was being taxied.

By flying as high as he did, Roth was able to avoid the lower air currents that buffet with his pilot flaps as he whirled in and out of the wind. The return trip was 83 minutes, the final observation being made when he set foot on the dock as the seaplane was being taxied.

Roth watched the fire that is raging in the great Astoria mill, north of town, and said he would have gone nearer for a better view had he been in a land plane.

(Concluded on Page Nine, Column Four)

2 Men Are Injured In Auto Accidents; 2 Drivers Sought

Two men were painfully injured in auto accidents Saturday night and in both cases the drivers alleged to have been responsible escaped without revealing their identity. One driver, who was driving a 1920 Buick, was said to have refused to lend assistance and to have driven rapidly away.

Densel was on a motorcycle on Sandy boulevard, turned it around and entangled his car with a 1920 Buick. The accident occurred at 8:30 o'clock.

James C. Dore of 530 Gray street, stopped his car on the side of the road a mile below Linton to change a tire, at 9:45 o'clock. The lights on his car were burning. A passing car struck his machine, turning it around and entangling him in the wheels. At the Good Samaritan hospital his injuries were reported to be painful.

The striking went for a doctor but before his name could be secured, according to witnesses. The license number on the car was reported to be dealer's license 101L, which is in the name of Ralph E. Larraway, Eugene.

Ex-Soldier Refuses To Join I. W. W. and Shot Dead by Gang

Huron, S. D., July 16.—W. D. Henderson, ex-soldier man of Casper, Wyo., was shot through the heart and instantly killed here late today by a man said to be a member of the I. W. W.

Henderson was on a freight train bound for the harvest fields in North Dakota. On the same train were about 600 alleged I. W. W. They demanded that Henderson become a member of their organization and when he refused, according to reports, a number of men attacked Henderson and threw him from the train.

As he fell to the ground one of the alleged I. W. W. fired a revolver at Henderson, the bullet piercing his heart.

Indian, Released, to Face Murder Charge

Seattle, July 16.—(U. P.)—Eugene Sol Louis, Indian, was released from McNeil island penitentiary yesterday, where he had served 25 months of a 36 year sentence for kidnapping his wife to death in May, 1915. Louis was at once rearrested and will stand trial in Idaho for murder. His federal sentence was set aside on the grounds of lack of jurisdiction.

STARKLER PUTS THROUGH DYE ENBARGO

Protection of "Nth Degree" Is Given Dyes by House Vote of 122 to 106; Argument Bitter.

Washington, July 16.—"Nth degree" tariff protectionists won another victory in the house today when an embargo against the importation of all dyes that can be successfully made in this country was retained in the Fordney tariff bill by a vote of 122 to 106.

This action marked one of the few times in American tariff history that a bill upon embargo on any article has been voted, although in many instances tariff rates have been so high as to prohibit nearly all importations.

Representative Fish, New York, declared that if the dye embargo were left in the bill it would be "another schedule K to split the Republican party."

"With reference to the protection for the dye industry in this country, it can be stated that the coal tar products, of which dyes are the most important at present in peace, are the basis of production for the dye industry."

A letter from General Pershing stating it was important to maintain the coal tar industries as a means of national defense was read by Representative Longworth. Pershing said most of the high explosives and gases come from dye plants.

"The protection for the dye industry in this country, it can be stated that the coal tar products, of which dyes are the most important at present in peace, are the basis of production for the dye industry."

"The protection for the dye industry in this country, it can be stated that the coal tar products, of which dyes are the most important at present in peace, are the basis of production for the dye industry."

"The protection for the dye industry in this country, it can be stated that the coal tar products, of which dyes are the most important at present in peace, are the basis of production for the dye industry."

"The protection for the dye industry in this country, it can be stated that the coal tar products, of which dyes are the most important at present in peace, are the basis of production for the dye industry."

"The protection for the dye industry in this country, it can be stated that the coal tar products, of which dyes are the most important at present in peace, are the basis of production for the dye industry."

"The protection for the dye industry in this country, it can be stated that the coal tar products, of which dyes are the most important at present in peace, are the basis of production for the dye industry."

"The protection for the dye industry in this country, it can be stated that the coal tar products, of which dyes are the most important at present in peace, are the basis of production for the dye industry."

"The protection for the dye industry in this country, it can be stated that the coal tar products, of which dyes are the most important at present in peace, are the basis of production for the dye industry."

"The protection for the dye industry in this country, it can be stated that the coal tar products, of which dyes are the most important at present in peace, are the basis of production for the dye industry."

"The protection for the dye industry in this country, it can be stated that the coal tar products, of which dyes are the most important at present in peace, are the basis of production for the dye industry."

"The protection for the dye industry in this country, it can be stated that the coal tar products, of which dyes are the most important at present in peace, are the basis of production for the dye industry."

"The protection for the dye industry in this country, it can be stated that the coal tar products, of which dyes are the most important at present in peace, are the basis of production for the dye industry."

"The protection for the dye industry in this country, it can be stated that the coal tar products, of which dyes are the most important at present in peace, are the basis of production for the dye industry."

"The protection for the dye industry in this country, it can be stated that the coal tar products, of which dyes are the most important at present in peace, are the basis of production for the dye industry."

"The protection for the dye industry in this country, it can be stated that the coal tar products, of which dyes are the most important at present in peace, are the basis of production for the dye industry."

"The protection for the dye industry in this country, it can be stated that the coal tar products, of which dyes are the most important at present in peace, are the basis of production for the dye industry."

"The protection for the dye industry in this country, it can be stated that the coal tar products, of which dyes are the most important at present in peace, are the basis of production for the dye industry."

"The protection for the dye industry in this country, it can be stated that the coal tar products, of which dyes are the most important at present in peace, are the basis of production for the dye industry."

"The protection for the dye industry in this country, it can be stated that the coal tar products, of which dyes are the most important at present in peace, are the basis of production for the dye industry."

"The protection for the dye industry in this country, it can be stated that the coal tar products, of which dyes are the most important at present in peace, are the basis of production for the dye industry."

"The protection for the dye industry in this country, it can be stated that the coal tar products, of which dyes are the most important at present in peace, are the basis of production for the dye industry."

"The protection for the dye industry in this country, it can be stated that the coal tar products, of which dyes are the most important at present in peace, are the basis of production for the dye industry."

"The protection for the dye industry in this country, it can be stated that the coal tar products, of which dyes are the most important at present in peace, are the basis of production for the dye industry."

Mohammedans Give Aid to Kemal Pasha

Money Sent Turkish Rebel for Promise That He'll Help Overthrow Britain.

By C. F. Bertell
Universal Service Staff Correspondent
Paris, July 16.—More than 1000 British Mohammedans have collected a fund of $8,000,000 rupees to aid the Turks in their fight for liberty, in return for which Mustafa Kemal Pasha, the Turkish leader, has pledged the support of his army to aid in the overthrow of British rule in India.

British secret service experts are said to have exhausted their resources in trying to prevent money from reaching the Turks, but were completely unsuccessful.

The same dispatches state that Kemal Pasha has established four munition factories and two airplane factories at Samsoun, Erzerum and Kharport. They continue that he now has an army of 800,000 Kurds and Tartars, officered largely by former German and Russian regulars.

The informant states that General Kemal is preparing a smashing drive on Constantinople, meanwhile merely "playing" with the Turks.

British secret service experts are said to have exhausted their resources in trying to prevent money from reaching the Turks, but were completely unsuccessful.

The same dispatches state that Kemal Pasha has established four munition factories and two airplane factories at Samsoun, Erzerum and Kharport. They continue that he now has an army of 800,000 Kurds and Tartars, officered largely by former German and Russian regulars.

The informant states that General Kemal is preparing a smashing drive on Constantinople, meanwhile merely "playing" with the Turks.

British secret service experts are said to have exhausted their resources in trying to prevent money from reaching the Turks, but were completely unsuccessful.

The same dispatches state that Kemal Pasha has established four munition factories and two airplane factories at Samsoun, Erzerum and Kharport. They continue that he now has an army of 800,000 Kurds and Tartars, officered largely by former German and Russian regulars.

The informant states that General Kemal is preparing a smashing drive on Constantinople, meanwhile merely "playing" with the Turks.

British secret service experts are said to have exhausted their resources in trying to prevent money from reaching the Turks, but were completely unsuccessful.

The same dispatches state that Kemal Pasha has established four munition factories and two airplane factories at Samsoun, Erzerum and Kharport. They continue that he now has an army of 800,000 Kurds and Tartars, officered largely by former German and Russian regulars.

The informant states that General Kemal is preparing a smashing drive on Constantinople, meanwhile merely "playing" with the Turks.

British secret service experts are said to have exhausted their resources in trying to prevent money from reaching the Turks, but were completely unsuccessful.

The same dispatches state that Kemal Pasha has established four munition factories and two airplane factories at Samsoun, Erzerum and Kharport. They continue that he now has an army of 800,000 Kurds and Tartars, officered largely by former German and Russian regulars.

The informant states that General Kemal is preparing a smashing drive on Constantinople, meanwhile merely "playing" with the Turks.

British secret service experts are said to have exhausted their resources in trying to prevent money from reaching the Turks, but were completely unsuccessful.

The same dispatches state that Kemal Pasha has established four munition factories and two airplane factories at Samsoun, Erzerum and Kharport. They continue that he now has an army of 800,000 Kurds and Tartars, officered largely by former German and Russian regulars.

The informant states that General Kemal is preparing a smashing drive on Constantinople, meanwhile merely "playing" with the Turks.

British secret service experts are said to have exhausted their resources in trying to prevent money from reaching the Turks, but were completely unsuccessful.

The same dispatches state that Kemal Pasha has established four munition factories and two airplane factories at Samsoun, Erzerum and Kharport. They continue that he now has an army of 800,000 Kurds and Tartars, officered largely by former German and Russian regulars.

The informant states that General Kemal is preparing a smashing drive on Constantinople, meanwhile merely "playing" with the Turks.

British secret service experts are said to have exhausted their resources in trying to prevent money from reaching the Turks, but were completely unsuccessful.

The same dispatches state that Kemal Pasha has established four munition factories and two airplane factories at Samsoun, Erzerum and Kharport. They continue that he now has an army of 800,000 Kurds and Tartars, officered largely by former German and Russian regulars.

The informant states that General Kemal is preparing a smashing drive on Constantinople, meanwhile merely "playing" with the Turks.

British secret service experts are said to have exhausted their resources in trying to prevent money from reaching the Turks, but were completely unsuccessful.

The same dispatches state that Kemal Pasha has established four munition factories and two airplane factories at Samsoun, Erzerum and Kharport. They continue that he now has an army of 800,000 Kurds and Tartars, officered largely by former German and Russian regulars.

The informant states that General Kemal is preparing a smashing drive on Constantinople, meanwhile merely "playing" with the Turks.

DISARM JAPAN TALK SOLELY UP TO JAPAN

President Harding's Plan for a Conference Hangs in Balance While World Waits on Tokio.

By A. L. Bradford
United Press Staff Correspondent
Washington, July 16.—The complete success of President Harding's proposed disarmament conference in Washington still hangs in the balance tonight. The cause is Japan.

Whether Japan's hesitance to come into the joint disarmament and pacific conference will be won over or will result in the definite refusal to discuss Far Eastern questions in this conference, depends on negotiations which are expected to ensue during the coming week in Washington, London and Tokio.

The crux of the question of whether President Harding's proposed conference will go ahead smoothly, now revolving about Japan, was summed up as follows:

ACCEPTS IN PART
Japan has accepted "wholeheartedly" President Harding's proposal for a "disarmament conference," but wants to know more about the scope of the proposed discussion of Pacific questions, whether these questions are to be taken up in the conference or in a broad discussion of policies and principals or are to be discussed separately.

Secretary of State Hughes has replied, informing Japan that specific questions to be taken up by the conference, of course, will have to be argued by the power concerned, but this cannot be made a condition of Japan's acceptance; in other words, that Japan must either accept or reject the plan for the conference before the agenda of discussion before the agenda of the conference is argued upon.

DEFINITE ANSWER NECESSARY
"This seems to put the question up to Japan in a way that makes necessary a definite answer agreeing or refusing to discuss Pacific and Far Eastern problems in the forthcoming conference in Washington," says a French source. "Japan may be a week or more in coming."

"Japan's answer will largely depend, it is thought, upon the pressure brought to bear in the conference upon the more favorable attitude of the United States proves to Japan's position regarding the proposed discussion of Far Eastern questions in the disarmament conference."

NEGOTIATIONS ALREADY BEGUN
These developments will come out of negotiations which have already begun and will continue in the United States, Great Britain and Japan.

Negotiations are already going on between the United States, Great Britain and Japan.

Negotiations are already going on between the United States, Great Britain and Japan.

Negotiations are already going on between the United States, Great Britain and Japan.

Negotiations are already going on between the United States, Great Britain and Japan.

Negotiations are already going on between the United States, Great Britain and Japan.

Negotiations are already going on between the United States, Great Britain and Japan.

Negotiations are already going on between the United States, Great Britain and Japan.

Negotiations are already going on between the United States, Great Britain and Japan.

Negotiations are already going on between the United States, Great Britain and Japan.

Negotiations are already going on between the United States, Great Britain and Japan.

Negotiations are already going on between the United States, Great Britain and Japan.

Negotiations are already going on between the United States, Great Britain and Japan.

Negotiations are already going on between the United States, Great Britain and Japan.

Negotiations are already going on between the United States, Great Britain and Japan.

Negotiations are already going on between the United States, Great Britain and Japan.

Negotiations are already going on between the United States, Great Britain and Japan.

Negotiations are already going on between the United States, Great Britain and Japan.

Negotiations are already going on between the United States, Great Britain and Japan.

Negotiations are already going on between the United States, Great Britain and Japan.

Negotiations are already going on between the United States, Great Britain and Japan.

PACIFIC NORTHWEST GRAIN CROP

	Bushels
	Wheat	Oats	Barley
Oregon	28,230,000	7,000,000	3,000,000
Washington	45,180,000	4,000,000	3,100,000
Idaho	23,900,000	5,000,000	3,000,000
Total, 1921	97,310,000	16,000,000	9,100,000
Total, 1920	79,355,000	18,000,000	7,790,000
Total, 1919	80,425,000	24,100,000	10,800,000
Total, 1918	58,000,000	25,401,000	12,230,000

IRISH PARLEY TO RESUME MONDAY

Ulsterites and Sinn Feiners Confer Separately on Arguments to Be Advanced.

By Robert J. Frew
Universal Service Staff Correspondent
London, July 16.—Six members of the Ulster cabinet conferred with their premier, Sir James Craig, in London house today. It is understood that they were summoned to discuss "President" De Valera's proposal of a single Irish parliament which would provide special guarantees for the Northern counties.

No statement was made and the proceedings were strictly private. There have been no new developments in the situation as far as the Sinn Fein is concerned and some is expected until Monday, when Premier Lloyd George and De Valera meet again to continue their negotiations for an Irish settlement.

DE VALERA SEES VIZIER
De Valera's Irish vizier, Sir John Lavery, in his studio this morning and inspected the noted artist's Irish paintings. He agreed to sit for the famous portrait painter as soon as he can spare the time. He spent the rest of the day with the Sinn Fein delegation and is visiting friends in London.

Erskine Childers, today described as Secretary of the Daily Express story, called to America yesterday by Universal Service, in which the parliamentarian correspondent of the Express stated that "De Valera has offered Ulster at the lowest, all the powers possessed under the home rule act."

However, despite this denial, I understand that he is substantially accurate and that peace is working out on the lines of the Canadian dominion government.

SECRETARY MAINTAINED
Both British and Irish leaders maintain "a strict secrecy" concerning the negotiations, but in the confidence of Sir James Craig admit that Universal Service's exclusive account of the framework for work, was not a social last Sunday, holds good.

The Sinn Fein delegation is very much perturbed over the statement cabined from the Sinn Fein in London. De Valera is as follows:

"We renounce the idea of a separate Irish republic if we can get the equivalent."

It is denied that the president ever made such a statement.

A Dublin message draws attention to the fact that a "strict secrecy" parallel in Irish history that De Valera and his colleagues have no critics in their own party and no audible ones outside save in Ulster. A general feeling of optimism prevails in Dublin.

ROUND TABLE EXPECTED
There is talk of a round table conference in Downing street Tuesday at which all parties interested in the negotiations will meet for the first time. The Sinn Feiners are unable to confirm this report, although they admit that the present delegation is empowered to remain here for work, without returning for instructions.

A meeting of the Daily Express, however, would have to be held eventually to approve the terms.

Lord Queenborough To Marry Society Girl of New York

New York, July 16.—(U. P.)—Lord Queenborough of Berkeley Square, London, and Miss Edith Starr Miller, 23, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Starr Miller, are to be married next Tuesday. They secured a license this morning at the city clerk's office.

Lord Queenborough, who is better known as Almerich Hugh Paget, is the son-in-law of the late William C. Whitney. He was a member of the New York society and is a member of one of the most exclusive families in New York.

Lord Queenborough, who is better known as Almerich Hugh Paget, is the son-in-law of the late William C. Whitney. He was a member of the New York society and is a member of one of the most exclusive families in New York.

Lord Queenborough, who is better known as Almerich Hugh Paget, is the son-in-law of the late William C. Whitney. He was a member of the New York society and is a member of one of the most exclusive families in New York.

Lord Queenborough, who is better known as Almerich Hugh Paget, is the son-in-law of the late William C. Whitney. He was a member of the New York society and is a member of one of the most exclusive families in New York.