

NEW PLANT WILL INSURE POWER FOR 1925 EXPOSITION

A program of construction that will insure ample electrical current to make it possible for the 1925 fair to be an electrical fair, has been outlined by engineers of the Northwestern Electric company. To this end the company plans immediate erection of a second power plant on the White Salmon river, just below the present plant, that will furnish one third the amount of power generated by the first unit.

Engineers have discovered a natural rock lined canyon distant from below the first dam, where they will construct the second dam, thus curtailing expenses immensely.

TO USE ENERGY WISELY
A dam and generating plant usually cost several million dollars, but it has been estimated that the lower plant can be erected for $600,000 owing to the natural advantages that will be secured.

The company also owns two other sites farther up the White Salmon river which may be developed later.

The capacity of the present plant on the White Salmon river is 20,000. The ultimate capacity will be at least 25,000 horsepower, with a possible 45,000 horsepower when the two upper projects are developed.

PLANT OTHER PLANTS

The shares will be $100 and will be sold at 45¢, either for cash or on time, the lowest terms being $10 down and 45¢ per month.

NATION IS BEHIND BIG PORTLAND EXPOSITION

build three transcontinental highways. Representatives McArthur and Sinnott made effective speeches, the former outlining what the exposition is designed to accomplish, while Sinnott told of Western resources, particularly water-power, that the West wants to show the world at Portland.

GARRETT CHANGES VOTE

Representative Garrett of Tennessee, minority leader, said he would if permitted by the rules, move to postpone action until December. He did not wish to seem narrow, he said, but saw no harm in delay and could not escape the feeling that under existing conditions it would be wise to postpone for a time.

TEXT OF RESOLUTIONS

The resolution invites participation of foreign governments, and was passed by the senate June 5. It reads as follows: "Resolved * * * That the president of the United States is hereby authorized and requested to invite foreign countries to participate in an exposition to be held in the city of Portland, state of Oregon, in the year 1925, to celebrate the completion of transcontinental and Pacific highways, the centennial of the invention of the electro-magnet, and to exemplify the development of hydro-electric energy. Provided, That the United States government shall be put to no expense by reason of the extending of the invitation."

authorizing the president to invite foreign countries to participate in the Portland 1925 exposition gives additional impetus to the popularity of the plan.

Officers of the fair board firstly are gratified with the prompt and efficient manner in which Senator McNary, Representative McArthur and their colleagues pushed the matter to a successful conclusion in congress.

At a meeting of the finance committee Wednesday afternoon at which Julius L. Meier presided, an informal discussion was had on ways and means of raising the requisite funds.

"The ultimate and lasting benefit to city and state from the 1925 exposition is recognized as the cornerstone of the enterprise. With the 'See America First' idea growing by leaps and bounds, with increased motor tourist traffic resulting in increased income to the state, development, with the new importance attaching to the Pacific Northwest because of its proximity to the Orient, the fair state of California is bound to be a magnet of general attraction."

Every line of merchandise manufactured or jobbed through Portland is represented among the merchants who will attend the event.

Hundreds of retail furniture dealers will visit the permanent exhibit of North-western manufacturers at East Stark, in the lobby of the court house, where the big thought back of the event, Strauss stated, was to convince the people of the Northwest that Portland is the jobbing and distributing center of an area of 254,000 square miles.

COURT DECISION FAVORS SEAMEN

Seattle, July 23.—(U. P.)—In a decision by Federal Judge Jeremiah Neterer, filed yesterday, the government loses the second round in its fight against the seamen's unions in connection with the walkout on shipping board vessels.

The court grants the motion of six seamen's unions for dismissal of an action brought against them by District Attorney Robert C. Sanders, in which a permanent injunction against the unions was sought and damages in the sum of $10,000 a day from May 1, the date of the walkout.

The first round was won by the government when a temporary restraining order was granted forbidding union men to interfere with the sailing of vessels and from trespassing on shipping board property.

Permission was granted for the government to amend the original complaint filed by District Attorney Sanders. Sanders was unable to state this afternoon what action he would take.

WATER LOW, DAM BUILT

Yakima, Wash., July 23.—The Naches river is dropping so rapidly that the Pacific Power & Light company has been compelled to build a wing dam at its intake in the Fruitvale section to keep the head on its supplementary power canal.

WILL ACCEPT ORDERS

Though orders for goods will be accepted with alacrity by merchants and manufacturers, the exposition idea predominates in preparations under way for Buyers' week. Elaborate arrangements have been made to show processes of manufacture in the woolen goods line and by the flouring and cereal mills. One of the principal entertainment features on the program is luncheon at 11:30 Thursday morning at the Olympic cereal mill at East First and Washington.

Headquarters of the committee in charge of Buyers' week have been established on the first floor of the Oregon building. Visiting merchants will register with the secretary in the room at the right of the main entrance on Broadway street, credentials will be distributed and visitors assigned to hotels.

The first round was won by the government when a temporary restraining order was granted forbidding union men to interfere with the sailing of vessels and from trespassing on shipping board property.

IDEA GROWS

Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock visiting merchants and their friends will be given a dinner at the Portland Chamber of Commerce in the Oregon building. Saturday afternoon at 1 and 2 o'clock automobile sightseeing trips will leave Buyers' week headquarters for tours of the city and surrounding country.

TAXATION OF LAND VALUES IS URGED

By A. O. Hayward
Washington, July 23.—(I. N. S.)—Declaring that the present system of federal taxation is responsible for the existing business depression because it has reduced the purchasing power of the people, a delegation representing the committee of manufacturers and merchants on federal taxation appeared today before the house ways and means committee and urged the repeal of all excise, excess profits and corporation taxes, the increasing of inheritance taxes and the establishment of a tax on all land not actually used for agriculture.

"The delegation contended that the taxation of land values would not injure business and that it would 'promote building, solve the housing shortage and provide wide employment for hundreds of thousands of workers and stimulate all the building trades.'"
"Land is the only thing, the use of which is stimulated by taxation," the delegation told the committee, "tax business too heavily and business ceases because unprofitable. Tax land values and the land must be used to provide the tax. If the owner is unwilling to use the land, the necessity of paying the taxes induces him to part with the land to some one who will use it."
"A proposed bill which provides for land taxation imposes a tax of 1 per cent on the privilege of holding land and natural resources valued in excess of $10,000 after deducting the value of all improvements."
