In no other line has the value of specialization been ound greater than in advertising."

Conspicuous in Miss Brunn's work in recent years in the field of advertising is the planning and writing of adverisements in national publications, including Vogue, Life and Saturday Evening Post. A notice commending her work in connection with copy written for a local swimming suit appeared re-STUDIED IN NEW YORK

Eugene W. Munson To Give Lecture on Theosophy Free

Eugene W. Munson, national lecturer for the Theosophical society, will give a course of four free lectures at the head quarters of the Portland lodge of the Theosophical society, 3d floor, Central building begining Sunday night at 8

"It is the one real question of absolutely universal interest-this problem of whether we live again, or, more accuratewhether we really die at all," Munson said. "I hold that we do not; that we merely drop the physical body and continue in full consciousness in an astral body composed of matter, but a grade of matter that is invisible and impalpable.

This is no more remarkable than that we now exist in bodies that are aggre-gations of matter that is by no means so dense as it appears and that is constantly coming and going—that has no permanent relationship to the conscious-ness that dwells in it." The Hidden Side of Things" is the subject for tonight. There are no charges for admission.
