Portland Tennis Player Suffer Defeat in East :. Milwaukie Boxing Card Completed

Johnston Is Given Thrill By Richards

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 14.—(U. N.) The two great tennis Bills—"Big Bill" Tilden of Philadelphia, world's singles champion, and "Little Bill" Johnston of California—will meet here Wednesday in the fourth round of the national singles championship tournament.

Tilden had an easy time surviving the third round Tuesday, defeating Zenso Shimidzu, the Japanese Davis cup player, in three straight sets, 6-4, 6-4, 6-1. Johnston, after being badly outplayed by the 18-year-old phenomenon of the courts, Vincent Richards of New York, losing two sets, came back and won the match, 2-6, 2-6, 6-3, 9-7 and 6-2.

In the first two sets Richards seemed certain to win. He was faster and more accurate in every move than Johnston and his spectacular tennis had the gallery of 10,000 enthusiasts in almost continuous bursts of applause.

Richards was cheered wildly as he left the courts, undefeated. He had proved unable to maintain the pace, whereas Johnston seemed actually to gain strength with the realization of the size of the task before him.

Phil Neer, Portland, Or., player, was eliminated in the third round by Willis Davis of San Francisco in a four-set match.

Following are the point scores of the two important matches on Tuesday's schedule:

Too Dark to Finish Doubles Contest So Final Set Postponed

TWO long drawn out matches, both full of exciting moments, were played on the Irvington club courts Tuesday afternoon in the men's doubles section of the annual city championship tenns tournament. In fact, so long was the final match that it was 5:45 o'clock when the fourth set had been played, and it was deemed advisable to postpone the deciding set until 4 o'clock this afternoon. It was difficult to follow the ball and all concerned, both players and spectators, were satisfied to call off hostilities for the time being.

In the semi-final round, W. A. Goss and Eddie Murphy met their Waterloo in Kenneth Smith and Herbert Swett, but only after the fifth set had been staged. The veteran Goss and his partner, who was the boys' city champion last year, took the first and third sets, 6-3, 6-2, but dropped the second and fourth, 3-6, 3-6. The deciding set went 9-7 before Smith and Swett triumphed.

In the final match, Smith and Swett met Henry Stevens and Max Wood and it was a great series of games while it lasted. The Stevens-Wood combination won the first, 6-2, and the third, 6-3, losing the second and fourth sets by 6-4 scores. The one remaining set is billed for this afternoon.

Tuesday's results follow:

Men's doubles—Kenneth Smith and Herbert Swett defeated Walter Goss and Eddie Murphy, 3-6, 6-3, 2-6, 6-3, 9-7.

Henry Stevens and Max Wood played Kenneth Smith and Herbert Swett, 6-2, 4-6, 6-3, 4-6 (unfinished).

Mixed doubles—Mrs. J. P. Mulder and Walter Goss defeated Olin Lewis and Mrs. Wentworth, 6-3, 6-4.

Indian Athlete To Coach Lincoln Football Squad

Paul Wapato, the big Multnomah Amateur Athletic club all-around star and formerly of Willamette university, has been engaged to coach the Lincoln high school football squad for 1921 season. Wapato took his proteges out on Multnomah field Tuesday afternoon for the first time, and while prospects are ont as bright as they might be, he is confident that he will be able to mould a fairly strong aggregation.

The first meeting of the fall term of the Portland public high school league board of directors will be held next Tuesday afternoon at Lincoln high. T. T. Davis, principal of Lincoln high, is president of the circuit, with Hugh J. Boyd of Washington high as secretary. The annual election is set for next week and at that time Principal Boyd will automatically become president, with Hopkin Jenkins, principal of Jefferson high, as secretary.

Whitman College To Play Club Team In Portland Oct. 1

"ACCEPT your proposition. Will have the Whitman college football team in Portland ready to battle Multnomah October 1."

This was the telegram received by Harry Fischer, manager of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club gridiron squad, from Coach R. V. Borleske of the Walla Walla institution in response to the message sent Tuesday offering Whitman a game against the clubmen for Multnomah field Saturday, October 1.

All of this means that Coach George W. Philbrook will be forced to work his club athletes harder than ever to get them in shape for such an early game. The nightly workouts are down to a serious trend and the squad is nearing completion. By Sunday morning, the full list is expected to be on hand and then will come the gruelling scrimmage.

The Multnomah stars were out under the arc lights Tuesday night and they'll be out there again tonight as well as Thursday night. Two full teams and then some have been working out at each session, and Bill Steers put in his appearance Tuesday night. He looks to be in good condition already and he fully expects to be ready to play brilliantly against Whitman two weeks from Saturday.

The second game for Multnomah will be played October 8 at Corvallis against the Oregon Agricultural college. The nightly workouts on Multnomah field will be started at 7:45 o'clock, with the Sunday morning sessions scheduled for 10:30 o'clock, rain or shine.

SEATTLE, Sept. 14.—Seattle won from Portland 6 to 2. Except in the second inning, when they scored twice, the Beavers were unable to do much with Brenton's twisters. The locals, on the other hand, pounded Pillette at will from first to last. Both sides turned in a faultless fielding record. The score:

BOXING

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 14.—(I. N. S.) Lew Tendler, Philadelphia lightweight, won a newspaper decision off Sailor Friedman of Chicago last night. Friedman fought hard against the local southpaw but Tendler's experience earned him the verdict.

New York, Sept. 14.—Leo Flynn, manager of Bill Brennan, received by wire today an offer of $12,000 from Promoter Paul Ding of Philadelphia for Brennan to fight Fred Fulton, heavyweight of Rochester, Minn., in an eight-round bout at any convenient date. Flynn turned down the offer, figuring he can get more money by having a Brennan-Fulton battle at one of the big clubs in the state.

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 14.—(U. P.)—Danny Frush, who meets Johnny Kilbane for the featherweight title here Saturday, laid away his gloves today and devoted himself to road work and to taking off an extra pound of weight. He will do no more boxing until he goes into the ring Saturday.

Chicago, Sept. 14.—Pal Moore, Memphis bantamweight, and Midget Smith, New York, will meet in Aurora, Ill., September 23 in a 10-round bout.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 14.—Mike Gibbons won another victory Tuesday night, outclassing Young Fisher of Syracuse in a 10-round bout Tuesday night.

Chandler Egan To Cover St. Louis Golf for Journal

Golfers! Here's a big treat for you. H. Chandler Egan, one of the foremost golfers in the United States, will write a series of articles for The Journal on the United States Golf association's amateur championship tournament, scheduled to begin Saturday over the course of the St. Louis Country club.

Egan's first article, dealing with form shown by Northwest players in practice rounds, appeared Tuesday. Other articles will appear before the start of the national event.

The Journal is prepared to give the golf followers the best possible service on the national championship.

Golf Course Will Be Laid Out on Old County Poor Farm

"UNLESS something unforseen happens that might intervene with our plans," declared Commissioner Piper, "the work of converting the old county poor farm into an 18-hole golf course will be started this winter.

"The poor farm is ideally adapted for a golf course and the tremendous growth of the game in Portland during the past couple of years and the crowded condition at the Eastmoreland course reveal the necessity of an additional course."

The county poor farm contains 202 acres, most of which is rolling land. According to C. P. Keyser, superintendent of parks, the cost of putting in the course would not be near as much as it cost to put the Eastmoreland links in shape to play. A building on the farm could be easily converted into a club house.

It is the present plans of Commissioner Piper and C. P. Keyser to start the work on the first nine holes during this winter, which means that they will be ready for play about the latter part of next summer.

N. W. Stars Draw Good Partners

Egan Warns Followers of Game

By H. Chandler Egan
(Former National, Western and Pacific Northwest Golf Champion.)

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 14.—The Northwestern team has been fortunate in drawing good partners for the preliminary qualifying round Saturday. The only two players that I am not familiar with being A. M. Loeb of the Ravisloe club of Chicago, who is paired with Russell Smith, and H. R. Johnston of St. Paul, who qualifies with Ben Stein.

Lee Steil is to play with Stuart Stickney of the St. Louis club. Stickney, while not a champion, is a very good player and a fine fellow. He should make a good partner. Clark Spiers is paired with Jesse Sweetzer of the Siwanoy club of New York. I met Ned Sawyer, a former western champion and last year's metropolitan champion, who told me that Sweetzer is a boy wonder, only 19 years old, and that he will bear watching in this tournament on account of the excellent golf that he has been playing back East. Sawyer is on a business trip and not playing in the tournament. Dr. Willing will tee off with H. K. B. Davis, who needs no introduction to Northwest golf fans. I have heard conflicting reports regarding Davis' recent play.

WILSON TO PLAY OUIMET

Biggerstaffe Wilson draws Francis Ouimet of Boston. Everyone knows Ouimet's ability, but all do not know that he is a most pleasant partner in a qualifying round. Guy Standifer is paired with J. D. Standish, the Detroit star. Those who saw the games in the Northwest in 1918 may remember Standish as a member of that team. Von Elm is to play with J. F. Manion, the champion of Kansas City. Rudolph Wilhelm drew Robert Gardner, twice American amateur champion and runner up in the 1920 British amateur event. Gardner is a very fine fellow and one of the most popular champions that this country has ever had. I drew Arthur Stickney of the St. Louis Country club, and brother of the man who plays Lee Steil. I used to play with the Stickney brothers as long ago as 1902 and consider myself when with them as being among old friends.

In Tuesday's practice play, Biggerstaffe Wilson was the star, scoring a fine 73 in a match in which he and Dr. Willing defeated Lee Steil and Cochran, the Kansas champion. None of the rest of us were scoring well today, which I think is a good sign. Wilhelm did score a 74, but it was erratic golf.

Wilhelm and Von Elm were beaten by Bon Stein and Clark Speirs, whose best ball was of merit enough, though their individual scores were indifferent.

Tommy Armour, the British player, made a brilliant 69 this afternoon. In the morning he and Russell Smith defeated Guy Standifer and Von Elm. The morning game between Stein and Steil against Wilson and myself was full of much needed practice. The Seattle boys beat us one up. This afternoon I played with Russell Smith against Guy Standifer and Gilbert Nichols, the professional. We won by three up, but I must confess it was not to our credit.

WARNS NORTHWEST FANS

The Eastern golfers are beginning to arrive and it is hoped that our matches can be definitely arranged for Saturday. Bobby Jones arrived Monday and Ouimet Tuesday. Gardiner is due Wednesday.

Evans will be unable to compete on any team against us, as his business will not permit his arriving here before Saturday morning. Ouimet will endeavor to pick eight or 10 men from the Atlantic coast, and Bob Gardner one from the Middle West.

I wish to warn the golf fans of the Northwest that this climate, with its intense humidity, is liable to have an adverse effect on our fellows' games. We have made a good impression so far, but I rather believe we will show our best golf next week if we are fortunate enough to last that long.

Philadelphia, Sept. 14.—(I. N. S.)—Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory defeated Mrs. Gilbert Harvey of the Philadelphia Country club in a keenly fought match in the first round of the women's Middle States tennis tournament at the Philadelphia Circuit club Tuesday, 6-0, 6-1.

Mrs. Harvey previously defeated Miss E. Sherwood in a brilliant preliminary round.

Miss Eleanora Sears, the Boston star, defeated Mrs. A. Sauers, 6-1, 6-2.

Danish Swimmer Will Try to Swim English Channel

New York, Sept. 14.—(U. P.)—Miss Millie Gade, the Danish swimmer who swam from Albany to New York last week, announced Tuesday night she will attempt to swim the English channel next year in September, which is said to be the best time of the year for such an attempt.

If Miss Gade succeeds she will be the first woman to perform the feat.

Women Swimmers Plan to Build Up Strong Team for '25

A 1925 WOMEN'S swimming team is the plan of Louise Schumacher, who has been president of the Jantzen team of women swimmers for the past year. Almost four years' time to train an all-round championship team that will hold all titles in Portland and aid the publicity committee in their work are more of the little mermaids' plans.

Louise Schumacher has gained quite a name in the swimming world as an all-round water expert. She is a speedy sprint swimmer and an expert life saver. She has trained a little team of girls that are well known as efficient swimmers.

The new plans of the mermaid although now only tentative, are well formed and will materialize into a champion swimming team. Swimmers under 16 years of age will be chosen and trained to compete with all comers.

"Although the 1925 exposition is still four years off, it will take all of that time to train a team out of novices. I will not try to get experts," said the little mermaid, "but will train girls who are willing to spend two or more days with an hour period each week under my coaching.

Miss Schumacher has been elected captain of the women's swimming team of the Portland Social Turn Verein.

McCarthy to Box G. McKay At Milwaukie

By George Berts.

SIGNING Tommy McCarthy, the Marshfield slugger, to battle Gordon McKay, the Utah middleweight, in the semi-windup attraction, Frank Kendall, matchmakeg of the Milwaukie Boxing commission, has completed the card for the smoker to be staged September 21.

This bout will mark the first appearance of the Utah battler before the Portland fans, McKay has fought several sensational battles in Idaho, meeting Al Sommers, Mike Gibbons and others. He has been in training in Portland for several weeks and will, no doubt, be in top condition when he steps into the ring.

"Denver" Ed Martin will get his second test in his "come-back" in the main event of this card being matched to box "Tiny" Herman. The winner of the bout will be given an opportunity to meet some eastern battler October 5. It is rumored that Harry Wills would box at Milwaukie, but this is absolutely out of the question, as Wills is too good, far too good, for any of the battlers in the Northwest section at the present time.

Three other bouts, which will bring together Muff Bronson and Willie St. Clair, Mickey Dempsey and Mike De Pinto and Charley Helman and Bud Vance, are also scheduled on the card.

EVANS' PLACE AS MATCHMAKER IS MUCH SOUGHT POSITION

There are five known candidates for the position as matchmaker of the Portland Boxing commission. Bobby Evans' successor will be named at Wednesday night's meeting of the commission, which will accept the resignation of Walter B. Honeyman as secretary and Evans as matchmaker.

Those who seek the matchmaker's job are: Harry Hansen, former athletic director of the Oregon National Guards and at Camp Lewis; Ralph Gruman, official referee of the ring body; Abe Matin, Dr. Leslie Clough, former physical director of the Multnomah club, and M. C. Hill.

Hansen and Matin have had previous experience in making matches, the former having staged smokers for the Armory club for a number of years. Matin, while most of his dealings in the ring game have been in the role of a manager, has aided matchmakers in other cities to arrange their cards. Matin is well known along the coast.

Ralph Gruman has a number of supporters for the position.
