KILBANE WINS BY KNOCKOUT IN 7 ROUNDS

Featherweight Champion Makes Monkey Out of Danny Frush; Challenger Is Almost Out in First; Bell Finds Him Floored.

Ringside, Dunn Field, Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 17.—(U. P.)—Johnny Kilbane of Cleveland settled another dispute over his featherweight championship here today. He won from Danny Frush of Baltimore in the seventh round by a knockout. Kilbane led all the way. Frush was knocked down twice for a count of nine and on two other occasions toppled under the terrific onslaught of the champion. Frush appeared weak after he tumbled in the first round. The referee refused to count over the challenger at that time, claiming it was a "fake" fall. Kilbane retaliated in the second round by a storm of rights and lefts to the face and body. FRUSH IS STAGGERED He staggered the Baltimore boy again in the third round. Frush was hanging on the ropes when the gong sounded. Frush attempted a comeback in the fourth session, but was unable to feaze the Clevelander. Kilbane went on the defense in the fifth and Frush benefited by the rest and came back in the sixth round and tried for a knockout. Kilbane started the last round of the fight with a rush of blood. He brought blood with left to the eye, staggering Frush with a right hook to the chin. Another hook to the chin put the challenger on the mat for the count of nine. He arose, dazed, and hung on the ropes. Kilbane battered him again with rights and lefts. Kilbane finished him under repeated lefts and rights to the jaw as Referee Kelly attempted to stop the fight. The knockout came after Kilbane landed a right across to the chin. The fight ended after one minute and 24 seconds of the seventh round. Immediately after Referee Kelly raised Kilbane's hand as a token of victory, the home crowd swarmed to the ring to greet the Cleveland champion.

HE IS STILL INSIDE LOOKING OUT ROSCOE "FATTY" ARBUCKLE as he appears in his cell in the San Francisco city prison awaiting trial on a charge of murdering Virginia Rappe. Efforts to secure the film comedian's release on bail failed when it was decided to prosecute him for murder, not manslaughter.

"FATTY" ARBUCKLE IN COURT AGAIN

By Ellis H. Martin International News Service Staff Correspondent. San Francisco, Sept. 17.—The surging crowds that yesterday fought to gain entrance to the courtroom in which Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle and his case comedian, was arraigned on a charge of having murdered Virginia Rappe, film actress, were absent today when he again faced court for arraignment on a manslaughter charge. All precautions had been taken by the police to prevent recurrence of yesterday's scenes, but the squad of bluecoats on hand today had little to do. The courtroom of Judge Harold Lauerbach was comfortably filled. Men predominated. ARBUCKLE IN COURT Arbuckle's case was tenth on the list, and he was not brought down until shortly before his case was due to be called. By agreement the case went over until Monday, September 28, in order that the preliminary hearing on the murder charge might be disposed of. The proceeding was regarded as purely routine. Article was brought into court shortly after 10:30 o'clock and his case immediately called by Judge Lauerbach. Assistant District Attorney Milton U'Ren asked the continuance and it was granted. Arbuckle appeared clad in a new suit of dark grey material and his customary light black bow tie had given way to a classy silk necktie. COMEDIAN NOT INTERESTED He sat at counsel table during the brief moments he was in court and appeared (Continued on Page Two, Column Three)

Multnomah County's Second Half of Tax Payment Is Due Oct. 5

The second half of the Multnomah county taxes is due on October 5. If they are not paid on or before that date they will begin drawing 1 per cent a month interest and after November 5, when they become delinquent, they draw 3 per cent a month interest. According to figures issued today by Chief Deputy Hucksby in the tax collection department of Sheriff Hurlburt's office, the total tax roll this year is $14,776,313. Of this amount, $7,904,895, or 47.4 per cent, is unpaid. Last year when the total tax roll was $12,907,732, the amount unpaid on this date was $5,514,437, or 46 per cent. The collections this year are considerably heavier than last year because of the larger tax roll. The percentage collected this year so far is only 1.4 less than last year at the same date. "Come early and avoid the rush," is Hucksby's advice.

Dynamite Halted at Mouth of Thresher

Wenatchee, Wash., Sept. 15.—The discovery of four sticks of dynamite in a stack of grain about to enter the separator of a threshing outfit operating near Whitlow averted a tragedy. The foreman discovered a paper wrapped parcel in a forklift of grain as it dropped to the derrick table. The attention of the hoedown was called and he threw the package out in time to prevent it from going into the machine. Sufficient dynamite to blow the entire threshing machinery and men to bits had it reached the cylinder, was found.

JUDGE SCORES THIRD DEGREE POLICE "EVIL"

Alleged Abuse of Rights of Suspects Rapped by Morrow; Judge McCourt Makes Strong Plea for More Respect for Courts.

The startling increases in Oregon and throughout the country in the number of murders, burglaries and other crimes of violence were pointed to this morning by Circuit Judge John McCourt as evidence of a growing lack of respect for the courts and the law authorities. Judge McCourt was one of the speakers at the Constitution day meeting in Circuit Judge Stapleton's courtroom. McCourt traced the moral breakdown of the more reckless members of society to the infringement during wartime of the government on the inalienable rights of the individual and continued infringement since the close of the war. "Lawyers framed the constitution of the United States," Judge McCourt concluded, "and wrote into it the inalienable rights of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." The lawyers must now protect those rights of the people as they have in the past. THIRD DEGREE ATTACKED Presiding Circuit Judge Robert G. Morrow closed the meeting with a heated attack on third degree methods of police authorities and the district attorney's office. "It rests upon the lawyers," he said, "to see that men are not arrested promiscuously without warrants, that homes are not entered unless the officers are authorized by warrant and that prisoners are not held incommunicado in the city or county jail. "What right has the district attorney to order that a prisoner be brought to his office for a trial? And what right have the police to keep a man in jail, refusing him the right to see his friends or arrange for counsel? They have no such right." Martin L. Pipes, former circuit judge, spoke on "The Meaning and Application of the Constitution." "The constitution," he said, "drew a magic circle around each person, within which the state and the government could not enter. This circle insured the inalienable rights of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. And what right could demand a trial by jury and his rights could not be forfeited without such a trial. But these are unsettled times and it is only by the force of public opinion that the rights of the individual can be protected.

200 STIFLED BY AMMONIA FUMES

New York, Sept. 17.—(U. P.)—Two hundred persons were "gassed" in New York early today when ammonia fumes spread over an area of 20 blocks on the upper east side, driving thousands from their homes. When the choking fumes rolled over the neighborhood crowds of men, women and children, many of them in night clothes or half dressed, swarmed into the streets, choking and gasping. Many fell unconscious. At one time police said there were more than 60 people sprawled in the streets. Police estimated fully 10,000 were forced to flee from their homes. "The gas wave resulted from the blow out of a cylinder held on an ice machine at the Knickerbocker ice company."

Airplane Thief Hits Tree, Falls and Is Arrested in Bargain

Chicago, Sept. 17.—(U. P.)—Chicago's first airplane thief to disappear here early today and fell into the clutches of the police a few hours after the plane he had stolen had encountered the top of a tree and crashed to the ground. Frank Stroud, a veteran flyer from Sioux City, Iowa, was arrested shortly after a plane belonging to W. C. Birmester had been found near the Evanston Golf club with bloodstains in the cockpit. Stroud confessed, according to reports, that he had been on a "barntouring" tour of various towns. Stroud was injured in the fall of the plane. He said that the radiator started smoking soon after he began his ill-fated flight and in trying to land he struck a tree.

Portland Is Chief Coast Flour Center

By Hyman H. Cohen Portland is the biggest flour milling center of the Pacific coast! This is the new title given this city as a result of the great strides made in the flour trade. With the additional steamship facilities that this city has been provided with recently, Portland's flour manufacturing industry is outdistancing all others on the coast. For the year ending September 1, Portland mills manufactured 1,055,112 barrels of flour. Tacoma was in second place in the Pacific Northwest with a total of 1,051,299 barrels while Seattle was third in the race with a total of 972,416 barrels. Portland some time ago outdistanced Puget Sound mills for a month or so at a time but this is the first time in recent history when the mills of this city ground more flour than Tacoma or Seattle for the period of an entire year. This fact has caused leading Puget Sound millers to look to Portland.

FOOD COST AGAIN SOARING IN U. S.

By James T. Kolbert Washington, Sept. 17.—(U. P.)—An upward movement in food prices is under way again, it was shown in figures made public today by the department of labor. The retail cost of food increased 4.3 per cent in August as compared with July, the department announced. The cost, however, on August 15, was still 25 per cent under the figure for the same date in 1920. Food prices are still 53 per cent above their level on August 15, 1915. ROCHESTER LEADS ALL Rochester, N. Y., with 8 per cent, led in the increases reported during August by the 51 important cities canvassed by the department of labor. Other cities with 7 per cent and Baltimore, New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Fall River, Mass., were next with 6 per cent. Salt Lake City, Portland, Or., Seattle and Denver, each showed a 4 per cent increase, and St. Francisco a 3 per cent. The cost index, 27 showed an increase in price during August; 10 articles showed a decrease and six showed no change while the rest of the index was up. "DEES ARE FIRST Potatoes led the increase with 24 per cent; fresh eggs, 18 per cent; pork chops, cheese and cabbage, 11 per cent; butter, 10 per cent; lard, 8 per cent; flour, 6 per cent; ham and oranges, 4 per cent; bacon, rice, rolled oats, oleomargarine, milk, plate beef, chuck roast and other articles increase from 5 to 1 per cent to 3 per cent. Decreases follow: Bananas, 5 per cent; coffee, 4 per cent; raisins, 2 per cent; sirloin steak, round steak and rib roast, 1 per cent; bread, baked beans, coffee, evaporated milk and corn flakes 1/2 cent change in price.

Whiskey Raid May Involve Prominent, Wealthy Clubmen

Chicago, Sept. 17.—(U. P.)—Grand jury investigation was promised today as a sequel to the seizure of several cases of liquor at the Chicago Athletic association. Assistant United States District Attorney Roy Cagan announced that a thorough probe would be made. Information that led to the raid on the club is said to have been obtained through data found in the possession of James Walsh and his wife, so-called "Lux Bottlegetters," who were arrested in Detroit several weeks ago. The Walshes are said to have shipped more than $20,000 worth of liquor to Chicago for sale to wealthy men. It was intimated today that several men well known here might be involved in the athletic club liquor case. Scores of wealthy and prominent men are members of the organization.

Arbuckle Film Is Burned in Street By Angry Citizens

Thermopolis, Wyo., Sept. 17.—(U. P.)—Hundreds of persons formed a mob here last night, attacked a motion picture theatre, seized a film portraying Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle and burned it in the streets. Police were unable to stop the demonstration. Following announcement of the theatre proprietor that the Arbuckle film would be shown Friday night, protests were made by scores of citizens. Final efforts by a purity squad to induce the owner of the show to refrain from exhibiting the film following indictment of the comedian in San Francisco in connection with the death of Miss Virginia Rappe were unavailing. When the show opened last night the mob smashed into the lobby and into the operator's cage and threw the film to the street, where it was burned.

Unemployment Cuts Into Tax Receipts Of the United States

Washington, Sept. 17.—(U. P.)—Unemployment is cutting into Uncle Sam's tax receipts. Reports to the treasury department today from revenue collectors in every section of the country show that thousands of persons, mostly those with small incomes, have asked for postponement of the payment due September 15. In many instances those asking extension pleaded inability to pay. Unemployment and general loss of income made them unable to pay.

POISON GAS DEFENDED AS WAR WEAPON

Chemical Agency Just as Good as Any Means of Killing Enemy, Say U. S. Army Experts; View Important Disarmament Angle.

By David Lawrence (Copyright, 1921, by The Journal) Washington, Sept. 17.—Poison gas as a means of warfare has come to stay. America's military experts join with those of other countries in insisting that the gas bomb is just as humane as the torpedo or the 1000-pound shell. Any idea of permanent peace as any other experts will advise the American delegation to the conference on limitation of armaments to propose the abolition of poison gases can be dismissed as out of the question. President Harding in his invitation to the other powers pointed out that it may be found advisable to formulate proposals for permanent peace in the interest of humanity, the use of new agencies of warfare may be suitably controlled. Canvass by this correspondent of military authorities develops the fact that the American army holds chemical warfare to be recognized and desirable means of warfare—that is, just as desirable as any other means of killing the troops of the enemy. The experts say they hope the time will never come when war is necessary to settle disputes between nations. They are just as anxious for permanent peace as any other Americans. But Mr. Harding himself in his speech to the army war college spoke his doubts about permanent peace and indicated that armies and navies would always be necessary. TO END WAR QUICKLY Inasmuch as the commander in chief of the army and navy feels that way, the experts declare it is their solemn duty to devise the means of such agencies of warfare as will bring a conflict to an abrupt ending. The prejudice against the use of poison gas is, however, steadily striving. When the Germans first introduced it, the same outcry was raised as against the submarine torpedo. Yet before the war was over both sides used the gas (Continued on Page Two, Column Two)

PREMIER DECLINES DE VALERA'S OFFER

London, Sept. 17.—(U. P.)—Premier Lloyd George this afternoon repudiated Eamon De Valera, saying a new conference is impossible so long as the Irish claim that Ireland is an independent sovereign state. The communication was in reply to De Valera's telegram of yesterday indicating a willingness on the part of the Sinn Fein to resume negotiations. The press conceded, with unbecoming admiration for De Valera's diplomatic tactics, that the Sinn Fein chief had astutely countered an attempt by the British premier to throw the onus of the breakup of negotiations on the Sinn Fein's shoulders. By sending the prime minister yesterday a sharply worded telegram, amounting, in sum, to saying "We are still willing," the Irish republican "president," it is declared, buried the responsibility for a break right back at Lloyd George and it is now the latter's move. It was recognized by close observers that much of the recent correspondence between the two men around whom revolves the question of peace or war in Ireland, has been for effect and that the Sinn Fein have been steadily striving for a resumption of negotiations, their influence and prestige demanded such verbal jockeying in order to allow them to enter a fresh conference with their respective "home fronts" unshaken.

Handsaker Returns To Portland From Land of Starvation

His mind filled with the unexplainable conditions of starvation and want in Southern Europe, before, during and since the World war, have left an indelible mark upon the people, says Handsaker. "Mourning apparel is seen everywhere," he said. "I'm impressed with the work being done with Armenian children, but deplores the scarcity of supplies, which makes it necessary for relief workers to refuse food and clothing to children which do not appear to have a strong vitality. Handsaker will tell the story of his trip Sunday morning in the Laurewood Congregational church, which pulpit is supplied by his wife.

Henry L. Corbett Is Round-Up Judge

Pendleton, Sept. 17.—Henry L. Corbett, Portland, banker and business man and owner of a large stock ranch, at Brittville, was today chosen as one of the judges for the Pendleton Round-Up. He was accepted. Others who will serve are Bert Whitman, stockman of Pendleton, and E. P. Marshall of this city, who for many years has been prominently identified with the Round-Up. Corbett and Whitman are new judges, but Marshall has served for three years. By Jack Veleck Germantown Cricket Club, Philadelphia, Sept. 17.—(U. P.)—Rain caused a postponement of the national tennis singles here this afternoon. Bill Tilden and Wallace Johnson were driven from the courts and a crowd of some 10,000 fans got a drenching when a brisk rainstorm halted play during the first set. The match will be played Monday afternoon, starting at 4 o'clock, and will be a steep embankment, causing serious injuries to both. They were taken to a hospital in Baker.

CIRCUS HELD UP; BANDITS GET $30,000

Robbery of Sells-Floto Money Car in Vancouver, Wash., Occurs While Payroll Being Taken to Railroad; 5 Men, Women Victims

Every citizen of Vancouver, Wash., is a self-appointed vigilante today on the lookout for the three desperadoes, who held up and robbed the treasurer's car of the Sells-Floto circus of approximately $30,000, about 8:45 o'clock Friday night. The ire of the residents of Vancouver has been roused by this hold robbery and the small city police force has been augmented by a number of private citizens. Others stand ready to form a posse should the robbers be discovered in hiding near the Washington city. Some evidence has been gathered which would indicate that the robbers were under the influence of liquor at the time of the hold-up and that they had been lying in wait around the circus grounds all day Friday planning the robbery. RICK UP CLUBS Today, when the initial excitement of the daring assault had given away to calmer consideration, the police were able to gather some details which will probably lead to the capture of the thugs. Today was supposed to be payday at the circus grounds. Sufficient money to pay off the $20,000 payroll was taken from the treasurer's car on a railroad yard to the circus grounds in the regulation treasurer's motor truck so he could have the money under personal supervision during the day. To this sum was added the receipts of the day's work. When evening came the officials directed that the money be taken back to a safer place in the railroad car and it was while the motor truck was on its way to the railroad yards that the hold-up occurred. As the truck entered a clump of trees about two blocks from the circus grounds two shots rang out and two masked men jumped into the road, ordering all of the people on the truck to the road. THIRD ROBBER APPEARS There were five men and four women on the truck and all but the driver, Mike Grace, and an aged woman, Mr. Grace (Continued on Page Two, Column One)

HUNT FOR GARDNER IS ABOUT GIVEN UP

McNeil Island, Wash., Sept. 17.—Search for Roy Gardner, escaped convict, on McNeil island was virtually abandoned today when Warden Thomas Maloney left the island with 40 prison guards who have been picketing and patrolling the interior of the island. Special agents of the Northern Pacific railroad are still working on the theory that the escaped bandit is in hiding here, but Warden Maloney apparently has given up hope of capturing Gardner—at least by the tactics used, after 12 days have passed in complete failure. All the warden will say, however, is that Gardner "might have escaped" to the mainland during the heavy fog that blanketed the island during the last two days. It is recalled, in this connection, that the days following his escape Gardner might have taken advantage of a fog also. Maloney is still maintaining his water patrol. Twenty-five guards in 15 rowboats are keeping watch around the shores of the island. In new recruiting agents of the Southern Pacific railroad are looking for Gardner in Oregon and California.

NORTHERN PACIFIC AGENT CONFIDENT HE'S ON ISLAND

Belief that Roy Gardner, theatrical bandit, is still on McNeil island and that Warden Maloney of the federal prison is in the vicinity of the escaped man is expressed by J. P. McMurray, special agent of the Northern Pacific railroad. McMurray came to Portland Friday night to attend the quarterly meeting of the North Pacific Coast Association of Railway Special Agents and Police, of which he is president. In new recruiting agents of the Southern Pacific railroad are looking for Gardner in Oregon and California. "The casual visitor to the prison gets no true idea of the wilderness that lies to the rear of the prison," said McMurray Friday night. "A few hours in the brush exhausts the searchers. If Gardner were to be seen, the warden would point to it, he can keep out of sight and still get a meal now and then from the chicken coops of the 500 or so residents. The rail operatives, when they meet this afternoon at 1 o'clock, will discuss the problem of the halo influx in the Northwest. The establishment of a bureau identification agency, the employment of a new identification agency, and the amendment of the Washington statutes regulating the prosecution of alleged train thieves.

Centralia Home Is Held Up; Cash and Papers Are Stolen

Centralia, Wash., Sept. 17.—An unmasked man Thursday night entered the home of W. T. Whalsh, 212 Southern Street, held up the housekeeper with a revolver and escaped with a small amount of money and valuable papers. Losses amounting to more than $100 were reported to the local police through short changing in the circus tent. While A. J. Palmer, driver for the Union Oil company, left his truck for a few minutes last night his trunk was broken into and $100 stolen.

Members of the leasing corporation are Eugene Blazier, M. Pailay, Lesser Cohen, former owner of the Globe theatre; Julius Saxce and Sam Saxce, managers of the Saxe theatre circuit, consisting of the New Grand and Princess theatres on Sixth street. W. F.
