

Teaching Corps Of Lincoln Has Several Changes

By George Watkins Story
 LINCOLN high school opened for the 1921 fall term on Tuesday, September 6. A number of new faces appeared among the teaching corps and the freshmen class this semester is one of the largest in many years. Miss Christina Macdonell, who taught in the local school for more than 40 years, is missed this term, having tendered her resignation to the school board.

Mr. Patton, who was a member of the Lincoln high faculty as well as coach of the 1921 baseball team, was a visitor to the school last week. He resigned at the end of the school year and he expects to leave for the East shortly to do some research work at Chicago. He was the Hi Y's adviser for two years and he has been succeeded by H. Henri Labbe, former president of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club.

The opening assembly of the season was held in the school auditorium last Tuesday morning at which time Professor Boyer led the students in singing. Mr. Ingram, who has been in charge of musical affairs of Lincoln high for some time, announced that the boys' and girls' glee clubs would meet as scheduled last year and that the band would meet for practice Friday afternoon. He also said that the orchestra would meet every Monday and Thursday afternoon under the direction of Carl Denton. T. T. Davis, principal of the school, addressed the students and made a very impressive speech.

Paul Wapato, a former Willamette university all-around athlete and now with the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club football team, has been secured to coach the Rallsplitters this campaign. He had the gridiron stars out for practice Tuesday for the first time and he plans on holding daily workouts until the schedule of the Portland Public High School league opens. The prospects for a winning squad seem brighter this year than for many seasons.

All of the school organizations, including the debating societies, held their first meetings the last week. At the next gatherings the election of officers will be the principal form of business.

At the meeting of the school board Thursday night Bill Hart, president of the Hi Y's, and Paul R. Krause, president of the January '22 class, presented a petition signed by practically every boy in Lincoln high school asking for the retention of Norman C. Thorne as vice principal.

The January '22 class is planning a get together party to take place very shortly and a committee has been appointed to secure a class play. Mr. Schwarztrauber was elected an honorary member of the class to succeed Mr. Patton.

The Hi Y's gave a dancing party at the home of President Bill Hart on Friday evening. The music was furnished by Lincoln's jazz orchestra and many Lincoln alumni were present. Very Plyn, editor of The Cardinal, the official publication of the school, is assembling his staff preparatory to issuing the first number of the book.

Three large dressed hogs were destroyed recently when the Vehrs slaughter house at Condon burned to the ground.

New Teachers of Franklin High To Be Honored

By Helen Smith
 THE Parent-Teacher association will give a reception Tuesday evening in the gymnasium of Franklin high school, in honor of the members of the faculty. A large attendance of patrons of the school is desired to greet the former members and to welcome the new members of the faculty. Mr. R. B. Walsh is in charge of the music, which insures a splendid program. Refreshments are to be served.

The Hi-ki-ki held its first regular meeting Wednesday. The election of officers resulted in Helen Bartholomew being elected president; Catherine Martin, vice-president; Elizabeth Rauch, secretary-treasurer. Miss Nukirk is faculty advisor. Catherine Martin and Kathryn Miller were elected as delegates to attend the meeting of the "Oregon Outing Council." Much enthusiasm is being shown in the plans for hikes which are to be taken this fall.

Mrs. Ella Ehmson Wilson, dean of girls, has just returned from New York city, where she took post graduate work at Columbia university this summer.

An assembly was held Friday observing Constitution day. G. W. Gearheart was speaker of the day. The Glee clubs gave several selections which were appreciated by all.

A meeting of the Radio club was held Wednesday. Earl Henry was elected president, Fred Bargfeld, vice president; Donald Peterson, secretary; Charles Savage, treasurer. Mr. Eymold is faculty adviser. A committee was appointed to design an antenna which will be submitted to the school board for inspection. If possible, the school board is going to give the club an antenna either under the club's name or under the name of the science department of the school.

A receiving set has already been installed and a transmitting set is being planned. A station license is expected to be secured in about a month as there are quite a few licensed members in the club.

On Thursday a meeting was held of the Drama club. Outlines for the coming year were discussed. It is hoped that this club will renew its activities this year.

Among the teachers who are not back with the faculty are: Miss Lucile Davis, Miss Margaret Gesner, Mr. Stewart, Mr. Honaska, Miss Harriett Gaylord, Mrs. Mamie Wilson, Miss Blanche Ross.

Among the graduates who have been visiting are Ruth Le Van, Ruth Gentry, Dorothy Robinson, Corinne Powers, Mildred Boon, Violet Miller, Hortense Binderup, Jeston Quesinberry, Bernice Kerns, Olive Reed, Camilla Cloverlo, Helen North, "Bill" Grashorn, Geraldine Root, Katherine Freeman, Lin Anderson, Ray Hazilip, "Bell" Poulsen, Esther Wellington Thomas, "Johnny" Kolkana, "Chappy" King, Helen Ewer, Martha Kallender, Donald Lawson, Kenneth Patterson, Grace Jasper, Helen Harper, Mildred Bartow, Thaxter Daniels.

Commerconians To Keep Out of Secret Societies

By Marian R. Sibley
 EVERY student at Commerce high was required to sign a pledge card pertaining to secret societies and fraternities. The cards contained promises to ignore any secret society which may exist in the school, and that if at any time the students hear of the existence of such a society, they will report the matter to the principal.

Many additions have been made to the school library. A group of books of much interest are the popular stories in shorthand form. These books are: "Rip Van Winkle," Washington Irving; "The Sign of the Four," A. Conan Doyle; "The Great Stone Face," Nathaniel Hawthorne; "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow," Washington Irving; "Tales from Shakespeare," Charles and Mary Lamb; "The Great Stone Face," Nathaniel Hawthorne; "A Christmas Carol," Charles Dickens. Other books of interest are: "Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court," Samuel Clemens; "Lord Jim," Joseph Conrad; "David Balfour, Master of Ballantyne," Robert Louis Stevenson; "Unknown Quantity," Henry Van Dyke; "Short Talks on Psychology," Bernard Shaw.

The January '22 class held its first meeting of the term, Thursday at 2:30 in room 4. The meeting was plainly a business one and much was accomplished in the way of planning to increase the number of activities in the school. Ruth Barrett, chairman of the motto committee, submitted a number of interesting mottoes, which will undoubtedly be voted upon later. At present each member of the class has been detailed to obtain a good motto.

The activities of the High School of Commerce are again demanding the attention of the students. The classes are now fully organized and the Commerconians are earnestly endeavoring to accomplish something. Attention is now being given to the numerous clubs of the school, which have been called to order with the express purpose of trying to do commendable things in the line of promoting pride in the school.

Football will hold the center of attention for the next few weeks. The boys have been extremely fortunate in obtaining as their coach W. W. Williams, previously coach of the freshman class in the Oregon Agricultural college, and a former member of the Iowa State university. A number of last season's players are again included in the line-up this term. Last term's players who have reported for diligent practice this season are: Marcus Schriederman, Mix Grider, Ted Gurian and John Keppinger. Other boys out for practice are John Ferrett, Walter Hutchinson, Isaac Davis, Herbert Cople, Edward Cheney, William West and Harry Schriederman. Dunway park is being used at present for the practice field.

There have been a few additions to the faculty of the High School of Commerce. Vera G. Albin, who was previously a teacher in bookkeeping and business correspondence in Behke-Walker's business college, is now in charge of the mathematics classes in Commerce. Genevieve Courtney, a former English teacher in Commerce, who left the school to hold the position as head of the children's department in the Ellison-White Chautauque, is back again teaching of-taing as it was punctuated by numerous poems rendered in a pleasing and effective manner. Her delivery of James Whitcomb Riley's "Almost Beyond Endurance," supplied much amusement. The subject of her address might truly be called "Be good and you'll be happy," for she expended most of her efforts in telling girls what they should do in order to be good, and what they should not do. Every girl present was glad of this opportunity of hearing Mrs. Carl.

A number of Miss Elizabeth J. Cornell's typewriting students have been awarded their June certificates for proficient work, done on the Underwood and Remington typewriters. Those who were awarded Remington certificates are: Helen Taylor, Edith Slingerland, Arden Pangborn. Those who received Underwood certificates are: Pearl Ecklund, Lillie Sax and Esther Wienstein. Fall certificates, enabling the students to become members of the January '22 class, have not yet been issued. Miss Nettie Mae Rankin, the class adviser, spoke to the members of the class very effectively on the importance of their position as leaders in the school. She attempted to encourage the students to be sure that the examples they set were good ones. The class is planning an elaborate career, but its members are not yet willing to divulge their plans.

The United States employment bureau at Yakima reports 545 calls for labor last week and 478 workers sent out.

MRS. THOMAS M. HURLBURT, wife of Sheriff Hurlburt, who left the city last week for an extended trip east during which she will visit relatives in St. Paul, Duluth, Chicago and St. Louis before returning to Portland.

Large Company Sees Wedding Of Miss Parelius

ONE of the interesting weddings of the week was that of Miss Florence Parelius, who became the bride of Mr. Verne F. Everett Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Parelius, in East Twenty-third street. The service was read by the Rev. W. E. Brinkman in the presence of a large company of friends and relatives.

Mrs. Harold Wheeler sang the bridal hymn preceding the ceremony and Miss Marian Grebel played the wedding march. The bride was handsomely gowned in ivory-toned satin and old lace, her veil held in place with a bandeau of orange blossoms and lace. Her bouquet was of bride roses, orchids and valley lilies. Mrs. Dolph Phipps, who was matron of honor, was gowned in turquoise blue georgette crepe and silver. Miss Jennie Parelius, sister of the bride, and Miss Mary Flannagan were bridesmaids. Their gowns were of flame colored charmeuse and their flowers were roses and sweet peas. Mr. Fred Rahm was best man.

At the reception which followed the ceremony Mrs. M. J. Blagen, Mrs. George B. Cellars, Mrs. Harry Palmer and Mrs. James Frankland of Tacoma, Wash., presided at the table. Assisting about the rooms and in serving were: Miss Alice Flannagan, Miss Agnes Flannagan, Miss Bernadine Grebel, Miss Paxiline Porteous, Miss Joy Gross and Miss Gladys Everett. Mr. and Mrs. S. I. Everett, parents of the bridegroom, received with the bridal party.

The ballroom of the Multnomah hotel was the scene of a large sorority dance Friday evening, when the chapter and Gamma Phi Beta entertained in honor of a number of girls who will enter the University of Oregon this fall. Alumnae members assisted the active girls in receiving the guests. Patrons and patronesses included Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Close, Mr. and Mrs. George N. West, and Mr. and Mrs. Tat H. Allen.

Miss Getta Wasserman is leaving this city today for Colorado Springs to attend the annual convention of the Two Hundred club, an organization of the New York Life Insurance company. Miss Wasserman will be the only woman delegate from the Pacific coast.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. McCoy (Sue Akers) left the city for the East, and after a brief visit in Kansas City will make their home in Chicago.

The Home Social club will meet at the residence of Mrs. C. Martinson with Mrs. Wester as assisting hostess at 121 East Sumner street next Wednesday.

Delightful Tea Given Saturday By Miss Hulme

A DELIGHTFUL tea was given Saturday at the home of Miss Elizabeth Hulme in Schuyler street. About 100 guests called during the afternoon. The callers were received at the door by Little Miss Agnes Hulme, cousin of the hostess. Mrs. C. K. Zilly presided at the tea urn and Mrs. J. W. Sweeney cut the loaves. Assisting about the rooms were Miss Lenore Thomas, Miss Dorothy Dant, Miss Maud Neighbor and Miss Mildred Seufert.

The marriage of Mrs. Elsie L. Brown of Harrisburg to Mr. Scott R. Cotton of Vancouver, Wash., was solemnized Saturday at high noon at the attractive new home of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. McCune in Laurelhurst. The rooms were handsomely decorated with ferns, gladioli and mid-summer flowers. The ring service was read by the Rev. O. P. Avery in the presence of close friends of the bridal couple. The bride wore a traveling costume of midnight blue tricot with a chic hat to match. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the Multnomah hotel. After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Cotton will be at home in Vancouver, Wash., where Mr. Cotton is engaged in the mercantile business.

Miss Elizabeth Bacon and her sister, Mrs. C. T. Olmsted, of Ann Arbor, Mich., arrived in the city Sunday and are at the home of their aunt, Mrs. Dallas Bache. Miss Bacon has been visiting her sister and brother-in-law for the past six months. Mrs. Olmsted was accompanied by her young son, Peter Bache Olmsted. She will remain in Portland several weeks during the completion of her new home in Ann Arbor.

Congratulations are being received by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wesley Erskine of Bend upon the arrival of a son born Monday morning at the Woman's hospital. Eighteenth and Hoyt streets. Mrs. Erskine, who is the daughter of Mrs. Alexander Thompson, has a wide circle of friends in Portland, Bend and The Dalles, her former home.

Miss Marie Louise Feldenheimer, daughter of Mr. Charles Feldenheimer, has been a visitor in Medford at the home of Miss Marian Voorhies at Eden Valley Orchards. Miss Feldenheimer and Mr. Elmer Feldenheimer motored home together about the middle of last week.

Honoring Miss Nettie Reidt, bride-elect of Mr. Norman Hunter, Miss Agnes Basher entertained in her home in Irvington, Friday, with an afternoon of parties. Honors were won by Mrs. Lawrence Brown (Mildred McClung).

"If you don't know furs— you do know stores."

Out of the moth balls

AN OLD FUR, relegated to the attic because of its lack of style, may become the season's latest fur mode if brought to our Fur Remodeling Department.

An expert in the department on the first floor will gladly give you an estimate at the lowest possible figure for the highest class of workmanship.

Your own pelts dressed, dyed and made up to your order.

And speaking of furs—

Women are buying Liebes furs with enthusiasm—for good reasons.

Furs were never more fascinating, nor more varied in mode. Added to this is the modesty of our charges—for so much of beauty, warmth and comfort.

Fur coats have a new silhouette, and even the smallest neckpiece has a chic, new look.

of the custom-tailored type suited to figures of every type at unusually moderate prices

Tailoring was so much a matter of concern in the selection of these suits that scarcely any of them need altering. Shoulders are quite snug, making for smartness . . . many of the coats are long, making for slenderness. And there are few duplicates, regardless of price!

The straightline suit is here, and the suit with the slight flare which conceals the hipline. The Lanvin flare—a rippled mode—is among those present. And the box coat model—beloved of mademoiselle—will also be found.

Every fine, new fabric is represented—and much fur. Linings are hand-felled—button-holes hand bound. Styles are invariably conservative, so that one may wear them indefinitely. Sizes are 14 to 44.
