FOR THE HOUSEWIFE—
The luxuries of yesterday have become the necessities of today.
We have only to think of gas, telephones, electric lights and street cars to appreciate this, and to wonder how people ever lived without them.
Thanks to our public utilities, the most efficient form of cooperative business, these services have become commonplace things of daily life. Gas service, for instance, is at our command so easily that we accept and use it as a matter of course, without a thought of how it got here.
The story of its origin, growth and place in the life of the nation is romance made reality. It shows the result of labor, investment and directing genius, all uniting to render a service so indispensable as to deserve the good-will of every community, fortunate enough to obtain it.
