

LIVESTOCK SHOW AT NORTH YAKIMA SMASHES RECORD

Yakima, Wash., Sept. 21.—Record exhibits in all departments mark the twenty-fifth Washington state fair, in progress here. The livestock show far outclasses anything the state has ever held. It has been necessary to put up tents to house the overflow of the barns, both for dairy and for beef cattle.

Today is Yakima day and the opening day of the bench show put on this year by the Yakima Kennel club, a new feature. Interest centers in the competition in the hunting dog classes, where most of the Yakima valley entries are made.

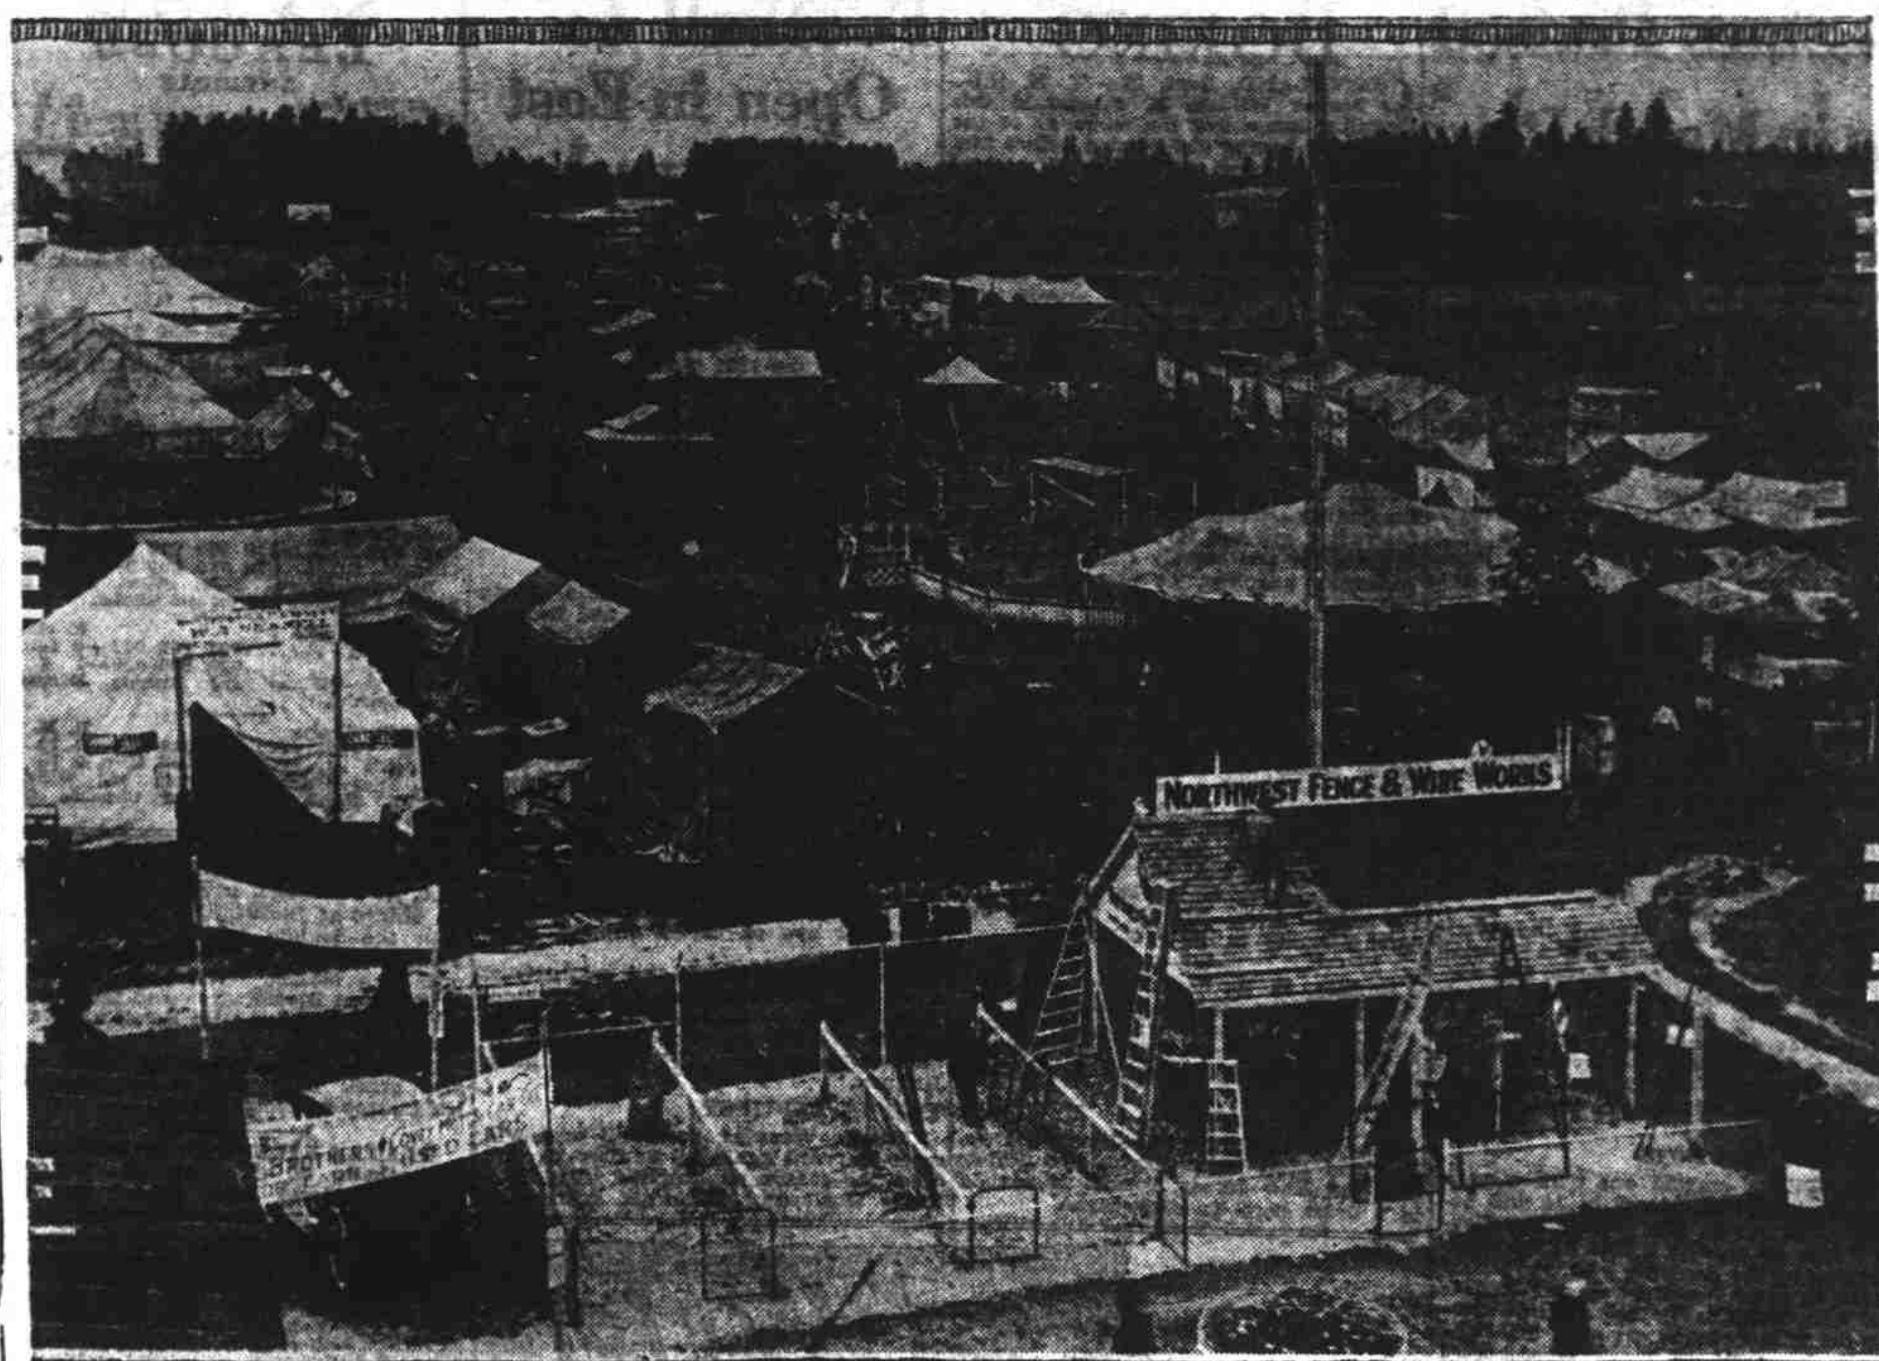

Tuesday was children's day and flag day. Mrs. Josephine Corliss Preston, state school superintendent, presented to the state fair a flag purchased and donated by the school children of the state. It was accepted on behalf of the state by Secretary H. P. Vermilye of the fair association.

A four-day program of horse racing began Tuesday, the feature being a relay race put on by thoroughbred horses owned and trained by Yakima Indians. The running of the state fair derby today is expected to set a new track record.

Judge Back Upheld In Damage Action

Olympia, Wash., Sept. 21.—Affirmation of the granting of a new trial in the case of F. M. Black, appellant, vs. S. W. Thompson, et al, by Judge R. W. Back of Clark county was made by the state supreme court. Damages were sought due to alleged misrepresentations in an exchange of lands. Judge Back held the evidence insufficient to justify the verdict for Black.

LIVESTOCK AND FARM PRODUCTS EXHIBIT ATTRACTS

Panorama of the Multnomah County Fair grounds at Gresham, where the annual county fair is now being held. Exhibits of land products and livestock is said to be the largest and best on record.

held at the North Portland terminal and unable to arrive today. Under the direction of Miss Ethel Calkins, county club leader, one of the best exhibits of boys' and girls' club work is being shown. Schools entering are Springdale, Gresham, Orient, Lusted, Gilbert Lunch, Powell Valley, Russellville, Fairview, Hillsdale, Maplewood, Fairvale, Columbia and Riverdale. Girls from a few of the schools are putting on fruit canning demonstrations each day. The Gresham school has a large exhibit of sewing, 23 pieces being entered, while Springdale is showing 11 entries of potatoes and Powell Valley is featuring a home making exhibit.

BOY WINS BLUE RIBBON

Edie Altman of the Lusted school was awarded the blue ribbon on his senior Jersey calf by the judges in the boys' club contest, then the blue ribbon in the open class, then the champion ribbon of the show and finally the grand champanion. This is the first year Edie has shown his Dorothy's Golden Empress. In the sheep division the following awards were made: Shropshire, Floyd Fox of Silverton, eight firsts, three seconds and three thirds; Roy E. Taylor of Silverton, five firsts, two seconds, four thirds; Vaughn & Downing of Stayton, seven firsts, three seconds, three thirds; Dorset Horn; Roy Taylor, one first; W. H. Cleveland of Heppner, five firsts, three seconds, three thirds; Floyd Fox, seven firsts, three seconds, three thirds; Hampshire; W. H. Cleveland, five firsts; Ritchie Brothers of Silverton, seven firsts, four seconds.

Lipsticks: Floyd Fox took everything in the class except one third prize ribbon. Oxford Downs: Roy E. Taylor, one first, two seconds, five thirds; Floyd Fox, eight firsts, two thirds; A. D. Gribble of Aurora, four firsts, seven seconds. A hand operated force feed system has been invented for lubricating automobile chassis without the use of oil and grease cups.

Sixty high-blooded horses are in the racing barns and bid to put on first-class events. In the 2:24 pace this afternoon there are 24 entries and in the 2:24 trot, 19 entries. Racing will be a feature of the fair each afternoon this week. Thursday the 2:15 trot (three heats), free for all pace (3 in 5) and two runs will be staged. The Wednesday purse is $1475 and the Thursday purse $1550. W. P. McNair of Douglas, Ariz., will be starter of all events for the week.

Today is children's day at the fair. All schools in East Multnomah county were closed and all school children were admitted free with their parents or teachers.

This is also pioneers' day and women's day. Thursday will be Portland day, at which time the grand championship livestock parade will be staged. The showing of farm products this year is considerably better than last season. This includes for the first time an excellent display of onions by the Confederated Onion Growers' association of Oregon, with A. J. Fanno, president, in charge.

The annual contest between seven granges for the $100 prize is more spirited this year than ever. Each grange is showing a better decorated booth this year than last. The granges are Columbia, Russellville, Fairview, Lenta, Gresham, Rockwood and Multnomah. Exhibits have also been entered by Chickamauga county, Morrow county, the state horticultural department, parent-teacher's association, Multnomah county health association and county public library.

TEXTILE DISPLAY EXCELLENT The domestic science and textile department, in charge of Mrs. Debra Murray of Portland, is attracting considerable attention. Among the articles shown is a bedspread 150 years old, lace knit by a woman 82 years old out of No. 1000 thread, and a piece of embroidery made by a woman 82 years old.

The Veteran G. A. R. drum corps of Oregon City has been engaged to keep the crowd lively during the week. Judging of cattle and sheep took the greater part of the day, but no results were announced from the cattle bars because a carload of fancy stock was
