

McARTHUR WILL REMAIN UNTIL LATE OCTOBER

Representative C. N. McArthur who planned to return to Washington on October 1, has been notified by congressional leaders that the house of representatives is transacting no business whatever, but is adjourning for three-day recess periods, and that the administration revenue bill now before the senate will not be returned to the house for concurrence before that time. He has also been advised that no business of consequence will be considered by the house until after final vote on the revenue measure, and he has therefore decided to remain in Oregon until late in October.

MAY INSPECT PROJECTS
McArthur reached Portland September 2, and has been busy at his local offices since that date. He has held numerous conferences with individuals and delegations who are interested in legislative and departmental matters at Washington. He has been able to bring about adjustments of a number of compensation claims at the United States veterans' bureau, and has given his attention to numerous departmental matters. These conferences will be continued, and it is quite likely that McArthur will inspect a number of government projects in Oregon before leaving for the national capital. He is the only member of the Oregon delegation who is in the state at the present time. Representatives Sinnott and Hawley having remained in Washington during the congressional recess, and Senator McCarver and Stanfield having already left to resume their duties in the senate.

WILL VISIT FAIR
McArthur will visit the state fair this week, and on Monday next will speak before the members' forum of the Portland Chamber of Commerce. He will address the student body of the University of Oregon on Monday, and on October 14 will speak at the noon luncheon of the Portland Realty Board. According to McArthur, there will be no intermission between the present special session of congress and the regular session, which will begin on the first Monday in December. He expresses the opinion that members of congress will have no further opportunity to visit their constituents until about July 1 of next year, as there is much legislative work to be done by both houses.

He predicts that the revenue bill will become a law early in November, but that the tariff bill will not be ready for President Harding's signature prior to January 1.

Woman Is Recovering From Burns Suffered When Dress Ignites

Miss Anna M. Lang, regent of the American Red Cross and prominent woman of The Dalles, is at St. Vincent's hospital recovering from painful burns received Friday evening. Miss Lang was visiting Mrs. John A. Keating at the latter's apartment in St. Helens court and Friday evening they were preparing to leave for Astoria to attend a board meeting. Miss Lang was heating water over "canned heat" on the floor when the flames set fire to her garments. She ran towards the bathroom, but tripped and fell. Mrs. Keating helped extinguish the fire.

Boy Scout Dinner To Be Held Tonight

District commissioners, scout masters and other officials of the Portland council of Boy Scouts will assemble for a get-together dinner this evening at 6:30 at Camp Brockway, the week-end camp of the Scouts located on the Sandy river near Troutdale. E. M. Burns, scout-master of troop 72, has been elected chef for the evening and a fine supper is promised. More than 60 men have signified their intention of being present. The supper will be followed by speeches outlining the plans of the organization for the winter.

McNary Expects to Get Early Action on Survey of Columbia

Washington, Sept. 27.—(WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE JOURNAL)—McNary expects to secure action from the senate commerce committee within a few days on his resolution requesting a supplemental report from army engineers on the proposed 22-foot channel for the Columbia river between Portland and the sea. Committee's action is all that is required to put machinery in action for this survey.

17 Families That Seek County Aid Have Telephones

Seventeen families that receive financial aid from the county because they are poverty stricken nevertheless have telephones in their homes. This statement is made in a report submitted to the board of county commissioners by Sam Martin, county auditor. The $40,000 set aside in the 1921 budget for relief work was exhausted at the end of six months. "Stop the leak," was the order today. During June, according to Martin's report, $7094.95 was paid out for house rent, groceries and fuel for indigent families. Of this sum, $386.37 went to families that had telephones in their houses.

District Forester Hops Off to Eugene in Patrol Airplane

Directing the transfer of a convoy of 23 trucks from Camp Lewis to Eugene and Mather Field, Cal., for use by the first squadron of the U. S. air service, Captain Lowell T. Smith, in command of the forest patrol unit, landed in Portland this morning, took C. S. Chapman of the Western Forestry and Conservation association airplaning over the city, and then, accompanied by District Forester George Cecil, hopped off at 11 o'clock for Eugene. Cecil will return from Eugene, while Smith will fly to Mather Field.

Principal of Bend's High School Is Fired

Bend, Sept. 27.—Mark A. Paulson, principal of the Bend high school, was discharged today by the school board, insubordination and incompetency being charged. Miss Harriett Umbaugh is placed temporarily in charge. The charges grew out of the recent squabble over the athletic coach position, Paulson being alleged to have refused to remove Frank Rookwell as an instructor.

Chosen for Hard Wear

ORIENTAL rugs are often chosen for places like hotel lobbies and the halls of public buildings, because of their superior wearing quality.

That fact should not be overlooked by the woman seeking a serviceable floor covering, without a sacrifice of beauty.

Victim of Colored Woman Tells Police She Stole $106

Adventure, romance, dark streets with black shadows—a figure half hidden by the night. C. F. Mott, 46 Mississippi avenue, paced the streets alone, until he came to Thirteenth and Salmon. This morning Captain Circle handed a report to Inspector Danny Welch. "Here's another one. Rolled him for $106. Says she was a well-dressed negro woman. Same old story."

Grizzled Veterans Of Civil War Meet; Army Is Dwindling

Indianapolis, Sept. 27.—(I. N. S.)—The fifty-fifth national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic was formally opened here today. Business sessions of the G. A. R. and affiliated bodies were on the program today with the camp fire of the National Association of Former Union Prisoners of War and a reception to Commander-in-Chief William A. Ketchum scheduled to take place at the statehouse tonight. About 10,000 members of the G. A. R. and affiliated organizations—1800 of them veterans of the Civil war—are here, although business sessions do not begin until tomorrow. These survivors of many a bivouac on Southern battlefields learned that about 8000 members of the G. A. R. have died since the encampment here last year. The annual parade of survivors of the Civil war will be held Wednesday afternoon. The line of march will be short because of the advanced age of the participants.
