YANK NAVY PITCHER ALL AT SEA

representative on payroll as PITCHER has had day of it and is ALL AT SEA. By Ring Lardner. New York, Oct. 8.—I walked out of this one in the 7th inning. Mr. Huggins had just begun calling on some of his anonymous pitchers...

The Author. When the game started the pitchers were Fred Toney and Bob Shawkey. Tony began his big league career with the Cubs and he stopped at Evansville, Ind., on the spring trip and outside the Elks temple they was an iron hitching post built into the cement walk.

SHAWKEY STILL AT SEA

Bob Shawkey was in the navy during the war and he is still at sea. Barnes started the Giants part of the third with a base hit. Burns filed out and Bancroft singled. Shawkey then passed Kelly to get Meisel, but just when his strategy might begin to show results, Huggins took him out.

Sen. Borah's Tolls Bill Means 'Soiled Hands,' Declares McCumber

Washington, Oct. 8.—(I. N. S.)—The American government would be guilty of a "dishonorable breach" of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty and would enter the confederated "soiled hands" if the Borah bill, to abolish the payment of tolls by American coastwise vessels using the Panama canal, is enacted, Senator McCumber (R., N. D.), member of the senate foreign relations committee, asserted in the senate today.

Mrs. Ruth Also Baseball Fan Hates Hurlers Who Pass Babe

By Mildred Morris. New York, Oct. 8.—(I. N. S.)—What of the wives and mothers of the baseball heroes as the stars of their loved ones hang in the balance in the world series? Today Mrs. "Babe" Ruth sits at home nursing the ulcerated wrist of her husband, but when the great Bambino is at bat, she waits as a patient Penelope for the return to the family fireside of her hero to soothe his sore brow, as she moans the fate that will not let him have even one teeny-weeny home run triumph in the battle with the Giants? "Mrs. Babe" sits in a box over the dugout where the Yanks regress between innings and stares dazedly at those awful Giant pitchers. SHE'S PRETTY AND PLUMP. A pretty, plump brunette, she was a vivid picture yesterday afternoon. The crown worn by the queen of the "king of sweat" was a wonderful thing of scarlet. She chewed gum vigorously as she permitted herself to be interviewed. "Mrs. Ruth, what does your husband's achievement in baseball mean to you?" asked the interviewer. "Fifty-fifty," said the great "Babe's" queen.

PASSENGER RATES ARE CUT BY O. E.

Tariffs Between Portland and Salem Reduced 25 Per Cent on Round Trips Only; Action Taken to Compete With Busses. Competition of automobile bus lines operating between Portland and Salem will be met by the Oregon Electric railway, which will reduce its rates to conform with this mode of transportation October 21.

Announcement of this effect was made today by W. D. Skinner, traffic manager of the O. P. & S., with which the Oregon Electric is affiliated. The cut in rates amounts to as much as 25 per cent and is applicable to round trips only.

Under these new tariffs the round trip fare to Salem, on a three-day limit ticket, will be $3. At present the double local fare charge for the round trip is $3.97 and the special one-day round trip rate is $3.40.

S. P. WILL NOT CUT

To Woodburn the new three-day round trip rate will be $2.10, as against a present double local fare charge for the round trip of $3.40. Intermediate stations between Portland and Salem will likewise be affected in the reduction.

NO FIGHT INTENDED

Officials of the Auto Transit company, which controls a majority of the automobile buses operating to Salem and the other valley points, announced this morning that the buses were not seeking to fight the railroads and that it was hardly likely that they would cut their rates by the Oregon Electric.

RAVENS HALTS 4TH GAME IN WORLD PLAY

Postponement Hailed as Chance for Pitchers to Recuperate; Yanks Delighted; Ruth's Sore Arm May Be Healed Meanwhile. By Jack Vealec. International News Service Editor. Polo Grounds, New York, Oct. 8.—(I. N. S.)—Today's game between the Giants and Yankees, the fourth of the series, was called off at 2 o'clock this afternoon on account of rain.

A storm that broke shortly after 12 o'clock drenched the playing field and drove blizzards to cover almost an hour before game-time. Rain checks will be honored, according to the management. Fully 20,000 fans braved the uncertain weather on the chance that the teams would be able to play. LAT-OFF IS BOON. The lay-off today was a boon to both teams, as it gave the pitchers of the Yanks and Giants an extra day of rest.
