MONDAY DAIRY TRADE

Local trade is sick of heavy-weight calves and few would weep if the movement of that class subsided. Trade is still congested. Both yeal and hogs were unchanged at the opening.

MARKET-By Hyman H. Cohen Markets are full of apples at this time and the consumer should avail herself of the opportunity to purchase at very low prices. Much ordinary packed stock, some of which is of very good quality, is being sold direct to consum Fints ers at $1.50 a box. The Spitzenberg is now the leading variety although here and there some Northern Spies and Kings are available as well as a few of the Snow variety. There is likewise are very popular with consumers. Most of the latter variety are of small size.

It's the last call for good quality Concord grapes for juice making. The stock is unusually sweet. Prices are Hams and bacon are quoted lower at wholesale again. Consumers should not forget to remind retailers that they are entitled to the latest cut of 2 cents pound. Compound is up one half cent

There appears to be more of a waiting attitude among the trade than any real tendency to move one way or the other.

Failure of Puget Sound markets to follow the ill-advised advance at Portland has left the trade here in a position where practically the entire future depends upon what the Califorms markets to within the present week.

If San Francisco continues to quots presailing values, it will likely follow that Puget tound will advance its quotations, but if the Review of the butter markets at New York.

Beston, Chicago and Philadelphia for the week ending Friday:

Although quality shows improvement, the supply of fine butter on the Eastern markets was none too plentiful. Chicago was the only market carrying over top grades toward close of the week. This condition firmed up Bastern markets and caused advances and held Chicago steady throughout the week. Trade has been for consumptive needs, with only an occasional apeculator on the Eastern markets, Medium and under grade butter dontinued in fair demand; supply light and tene firm on all markets. Chicago's supply of seconds was very limited, with good demand and prices show advance during the week. Fine "centralized" Scattle Market

Near East Fund to Be Obtained From

Since the announcement Saturday at the Near Bast relief state conference that Oregon's quota of the 1922 national budget of $15,000,000 would be $175,000, many requests have been received by J. J. Handsaker, state director, seking if the Near East drive in Portland would be held in addition to the Community Chest drive.

Handsaker announced this morning that the Near East would obtain its that the Near East would obtain its funds in Portland during 1928 the same as it has the past year—by participation in the Community Chest. Last year the chast allotted the Near East $55,000; all of which has not yet been paid. The allotment for 1922 has not been announced. The balance of the 1922 state quota not given by the chest will be raised by popular subscription in outside counties, through the slatewide Sunday school Christmas offering campaign, and through a clothing campaign mext coying. Handraker explained.
