

MERCHANTS START CAMPAIGN AGAINST NEW PARKING LAW

"Shoppers will not come into our stores when they have to park their automobiles several blocks away and walk."

This is the battle cry of Washington, Alder and Morrison street business men who, at a meeting Wednesday night, launched a campaign against the no-parking ordinance. A committee of 13 storekeepers, with three representatives from the Automobile Dealers' association, was appointed to lead the fight.

A proposed substitute ordinance will be presented to Mayor Baker and the council. It would make 30 minute parking legal on these streets.

One business man declared that since the no-parking regulation went into effect his business had fallen 15 per cent. Another said that he had to post a clerk in a shopper's automobile because the owner was in his store making a purchase.

The following were appointed to draft a proposed substitute ordinance: George W. Joseph, W. F. Woodward, J. C. Morris, Ben Fisher, C. Tonseth, Alex Miller, Albert Feldenheimer, J. K. Hawkins, A. H. Brown, Howard M. Conroy, H. W. Roberts, Joseph E. Wiley, L. M. Baldwin, E. H. Bartholomew and Felix Friedlander.

Loop Road Section To Be Planked for Use During Winter

Sandy, Oct. 21.—The loop road is virtually impassable from Cedar creek to Cherryville, but the middle road is being patched up with plank and will be kept in condition between Sandy and Brightwood through the winter in order to keep up communication with the mountains. This middle road work will probably be a permanent improvement.

Contractor Johnson has closed the Alder creek camp and will close the Brightwood camp unless fair weather continues. Car and track work will proceed beyond Brightwood.

E. A. Palmer, gravel contractor, found a new ledge of rock near Sandy and will open it up at once. The rock is considered much better than that found here before.

Two more weeks of good weather, it is said, will see the completion of the Dixon & Howett grading contract. The Beaver creek camp remains open.

'Cead Mile Saithe'; That's Inscription Over Hibernian Hall

"Cead Mile Saithe." These words are being painted on a sign which will go above the door at Hibernian hall, 340 Russell street, on November 3, the opening day of the Irish jubilee. They mean translated into English—"One Hundred Thousand Welcomes."

A feature of the annual Irish fair, which will be held three days, will be a "Made-in-Oregon" booth. A bevy of blue-eyed, black-haired girls will be demonstrators with all sorts of Oregon-made products, donated by Portland merchants, as samples.

According to Ed Curtin, secretary, and D. W. Lane, chief of the publicity bureau, the most entertaining features procurable will be included on the program.
