Disarmament Plea To Be Launched by Council of Churches

To crystalize the disarmament senti-ment of Portland and to give united ex-pression to it, the Portland Council of Churches arranged Friday afternoon for a conference in the Chamber of Com-merca next Tuesday evening.

ed every effort to avoid a national strike, through attempting to obtain a settlement with the railroad executives at Chicago, but the rail leaders would not budge an inch toward any effort to conciliate, declared G. O. Barnhart, general chairman of the Brotherhood of Railway Engineers, who returned Thursday night from Chicago.

John Clifford, general chairman for the Brotherhood of Railway Firemen and Enginemen, also returned with Barnhart and gave the following version of

"When the representatives of the l of L. E., B. of L. F. and E., O. R. C. and Switchmens' Union of North America were convened at Chicago they were in-formed that the members of these organizations and other representatives had indicated, through an overwhelm-ing vote, their desire to leave the rail-road service rather than serve under the conditions which the railroads had attempted to impose upon them.

TRY FOR SETTLEMENT "While the general chairmen were in ession, 150 railroad presidents met in Chicago in an effort to obtain a peace able settlement. Representatives of the organizations then attempted to arrange a meeting with the executives through the executive subcommittee.

"This subcommittee absolutely de clined to entertain or discuss a settle-ment of the question at issue. On the contrary, they said that, prior to the meeting with the representatives, the executives had adopted a resolution providing that immediate steps be taken to bring about a further reduction,

"Therefore, nothing remained for the brotherhoods to do but sanction a strike of their membership and those represented by them. The executives said there was an insistent public demand to wipe out the $1,500,000,000 freight rate increase granted by the interstate commerce commission last fall and that to meet this wages would have to be reduced to bring about the rate reductions

WOULD NOT SUBMIT

"If the plans of the railroad com-anies were carried out, it would bring the wages and working conditions to the status of those existing in 1908. And the men represented by the organizations have, by the greatest strike ballot in the history of the nation, voted overwhelmingly to leave the service rather than submit to a return to those conditions. "If the $1,500,000,000 rate increase were to be wiped out through wage reductions, it would mean a general reduction in wages of 48.6 per cent.",

Dr. Grimes said: "Politics kept us out, but Christian statesmanshp will put us in, and the final result will be a 'United States' of the world. When this comes to pass, the first thing will be a world capitol. Neither place which has heretcfore been used for such peace councils will do. In my opinion, and the opinions of statesmen, Jerusalem will be that place—it may be reached by all nations without crossing the territory of any great alien teritory. It is God's chosen center, from whose history He would teach all nations His fatherhood and man's brotherhood. Here the great Prince of Peace first came to begin his establishment of peace on earth, and here will its final consummation take place."

UNITED BRETHREN

Bishop William H. Washinger of the Pacific district of the United Brethren church, has just left for an official trip to Dayton, Ohio, where he meets with the budget committee of his denomination, which will work out the financial program of the church for the next four alleged excessive salaries paid employes, excessive cost of eighth grade examinations, and expending of more money on the 1920 county teachers' institute than program of the church for the next four years.

Bishop Washinger was returned to the Pacific district by the recent general conference held in Indianapolis, Ind. He has just closed the round of his conferences in the district. He reports $10,000 raised in the Sunday morning offerings during the four conference assiston. This amount goes to the preachers' aid fund and also helps to sustain the minimum salary of $1200 and parsonage guaranteed to all pastors.

A commendable showing was made during the last year in the increase in pastors' salaries, Oregon conference alone showing $5000 increase. The United Brethren church is entering upon a period of church building, one new church being already in process of construction at Beaver, Tillamook county.

Conference Superintendent G. E. McDonald, it just home from a tour to Tillamook and Willamette valley points, and leaves for Coos Bay tonight on official business. The four United Brethren churches of Portland are starting the new conference year with larger objectives, one of the goals being to lead the conference in a net increase of 500 for the coming year.

EVANGELIST WILL SPEAK

Milton, Oct. 22.—An all day rally was held Wednesday at the First Christian church. Representatives were also present from the Athena Christian church. National workers representing the United Christian Missionary society conducted the services. They consisted of A. C. Kuhn of Denver, Colo., religious educational director for the Rocky mountain district; Mrs. Eda T. Moore, active in the Women's Missionary work in Kansas with headquarters in New York; C. H. Bendler, who has charge of the boys' orphanage at Damoh, India, and C. F. Swandler of Portland. cluba affiliated in the Presidents' council, the heads of women's clubs, labor organizations, school directors and superintendents and others.

The ambitious plan of recording Portland's unanimous sentiment in favor of disarmament prior to the armament conference at Washington, D. C., is in mind. Pastors of Portland churches have alroady agreed to submit resolutions to their congregations.

BVANGELIST WILL SPEAK

Evangelist Louis K. Dickson will speak in Women of Woodcraft hall Sunday night at 7:20 o'clock on the subject "Idle Men and Idle Money, an Ominous Situation: Does Humanity Pack of Twentieth Century Civilisation?" A special musical service will precede the sermon, directed by Frofessor I. C. Colcord, assisted by Frederic Flahaut, violinist, and Mrs. L. K. Dickson, planist: their congregations.

The simple dignity of the oval neck-line, and more elaborate sleeves than were used in the past season are the attributes of the prevailing mode. Besides a modern conception of the fahions of other periods and climes is added an enhancing array of lustrous chiffon velvet, blinging crepes, and undulating crepe satins, with all the irresistible details of trimming that are permitted in the new mode. The afternoon frock of crepe marocain, illustrated at the left has the long, much-draped blouse which ends below the normal waist-line and long, snug sleeves and a turn-over collar. The principal feature of the frock, however, is its cascading drapery which falls from each shoulder in front and back and achieves the uneven hem-line in a distinctive and charming manner. Velvet and cire bands spell the chic of the frock at the right, which makes much of its full, banded sleeves and loose, culotte blouse-panel in back. (Copyright, 1921, by The Vogue Co., New York)
