

COLLECTION TO AID UNEMPLOYED WILL BEGIN ON MONDAY

Old clothes, rags, shoes, underwear, bottles and metal stored away in basement, attic or clothes closet, will help Portland prevent a serious unemployment condition.

These articles, if assembled and delivered to the nearest school house or fire station, will be sorted and made usable. Donations for the cause can be sent for, also, if donors will telephone Broadway 5923. Collections will begin Monday.

Headquarters have been established in the office of Fred Wagner and a special telephone has been installed at which all persons unable to deliver their donations to school houses or fire stations may call.

The waste material will be assembled at the salvage plant of the public welfare bureau where it will go through a process of repair and assembling. Then it will be sold and the money will be used to aid the unemployed.

Frank V. Smith has taken the task of handling the work in the schools. Each school child Monday will be given a pamphlet prepared by the welfare bureau giving the information as to the purposes of the drive and directions for making the donations.

Wagner asks that all persons desiring to contribute a little time to the cause, register their automobiles for either morning or evening work. It is by this method that the committee is hoping to get the donations assembled at Oak Grove, Milwaukie and other outlying districts are to be included in the Portland district. Donations from these districts are to be taken to the Milwaukee garage, where L. A. Jones has arranged to receive it.

Church to Drop German, Adopt English Tongue

At an official meeting of the Clay Street Evangelical church Wednesday night the membership voted with an overwhelming majority to have all Sunday services in the English language. The church has used the German tongue in its services since its origin. It is the oldest church of the Evangelical association in Portland and prominent because of its location near the business district and the prominence in the business world of many of its members.

"The war has naturally intensified the natural difficult problem of German churches," said the Rev. Jacob Stocker, pastor, this morning. "To change the services from German to English means an act of devotion and self-sacrifice for many of the older members of such a German church, as they have very often neglected opportunities to acquire the language of the country. However, for the sake of the rising generation and for the sake of the perpetuity of the church for the future, the change is being made. The new order will take effect November 6." The pastor is a graduate of Williamette university and is serving his third year as minister here. He is also chairman of the publicity department of the Portland Council of Churches. The church is at Tenth and Clay streets.

Court Says He Saw Man Begging; Sixty Days in Jail, Edict

James Sullivan was brought into municipal court Wednesday on a charge of begging. He was arrested Tuesday by Patrolman Larson on Alder between Fifth and Sixth streets, after he had stopped pedestrians and asked for help. "I wasn't begging," insisted Sullivan in denying the charge. "There's some mistake."

"Oh, no, there isn't," returned Patrolman Larson.

"No, I guess there isn't," echoed the court. "If I'm not badly mistaken, I've seen you begging from pedestrians myself."

Sullivan was sentenced to 60 days for vagrancy.

PRUNARIANS JOIN TO MAKE SUCCESS OF STOCK EXHIBIT

The Prunarians of Clarke county, Washington, have joined the aggregation of civic organizations which are actively assisting the management of the Pacific International Livestock exposition, November 5-12, in achieving its goal of a 200,000 attendance at the approaching stock show. At a rousing meeting at Vancouver yesterday, following a talk by O. M. Plummer, manager of the stock show, the Prunarians bought a horse show box for the entire season, and pledged themselves to keep it filled with Prunarians in full uniform throughout the nine horse show performances of stock show week.

The Prunarians will also launch a campaign to get a maximum attendance on Monday, November 7, which will be Vancouver and Clarke County day, and will "boom" for the stock show throughout the entire week.

for this section of the Western Dairy Products show, now a permanent part of the stock show. More than 30 entries have been made from the vicinity of Los Angeles, and Fosson says that not only will the exhibit be representative of the entire Pacific slope country, but it will be the largest exhibit of its kind gotten together this year anywhere in the United States, not even excepting the exhibit at the National Dairy show.

LIQUOR TAKEN, MAN FINED
Kalama, Wash., Oct. 27.—Sheriff John Hoggatt and Deputy Glenn Hoggatt arrested H. E. Williams with a Ford car containing four cases of bonded whiskey at Kalama and brought him to Kalama, where the liquor was confiscated and Williams was fined $250 and costs by Judge Comer.

Number of Car That Struck Lad Sought

With the belief that Walter Hotampf, 1038 Denver avenue, was struck by an automobile at Tenth and Washington streets Saturday, when the lad suffered a broken leg, instead of by a streetcar, as was reported, Traffic Investigator Freiberg is making every effort to ascertain the true details of the accident. He is trying to get in touch with a number of witnesses who he believes saw the affair, with the hope that some may have taken the number of the machine.

We have tested Lux and find it is ideal for washing Van Raalte Silk Underwear.

It dissolves so quickly and thoroughly that it is impossible for any bits of solid soap to lodge in the delicate silk threads to discolor and weaken them.

We find that washing Van Raalte Silk Underwear in the mild Lux lather actually makes it wear longer and we are recommending it to our customers on this account.

Very truly yours,

What is ideal shortening for pastry desserts?

TO get the best results in pastry making you must have shortening that is tasteless, easy to digest and 100% rich.

Crisco never detracts from the delicate flavor of custard or fruit fillings because Crisco, itself, is tasteless and odorless. It makes pastry light, tender, and flaky because it is all richness, containing neither salt, water, adulterants nor preservatives. Pastry made with Crisco is wholesome because Crisco itself is easily digested.

NEW ENGLAND CREAM TART

2 cupfuls dry-apple sauce
2 cupfuls cream
3 yolks, well beaten
1/2 a nutmeg, grated
Sugar as desired
1/2 teaspoonful salt
3 egg whites, beaten dry
1/2 cupful granulated sugar
Crisco Flake Pastry

Spitzenberg apples are considered the best for this pie, but other tart apples may be used. Press the apples, cooked with a little water as possible, through a sieve; add the cream and stir into the yolks, mixed with the nutmeg, salt and sugar; about one cupful of sugar is plenty. Have ready a pastry shell baked over an inverted pie plate; set the shell inside the plate, pour in the filling and set into a moderate oven to cook the filling. Beat the sugar into the beaten egg whites and spread over the pie, cooled somewhat, and return to the oven to cook the meringue. It should take from ten to fifteen minutes. The filling may also be baked in a pastry-lined plate as is a squash or custard pie.

FLAKE PASTRY

1 cupful flour
4 tablespoonfuls Crisco
1/4 teaspoonful salt

Just enough cold water to hold dough together.

Sift flour and salt and cut half the Crisco into flour with knife until it is finely divided. The finger tips may be used to finish blending mixture. Then add water sparingly, mixing it with knife through dry materials. Form with the hand into dough and roll out on a floured board to quarter inch thickness. Spread one-third of remaining Crisco on two-thirds of dough nearest you; fold twice, to make three layers, folding in first that part on which Crisco has not been spread. Turn dough, putting folded edges to the sides; roll out, spread and fold as before. Repeat once more. Use a light motion in handling rolling-pin, and roll from center outward. Should Crisco be too hard, it will not mix readily with flour, in which case the result will be a tough crust.
