

Milwaukie Boxing Commission's Card Changed—Everett High School Eleven Here Friday

Harry Casey And Ingle to Box Tonight

GEORGE INGLE, former Pacific coast lightweight champion, who recently returned from an invasion of the Philippines, and Harry Casey will tangle in the main event of tonight's smasher at the Milwaukie boxing commission.

This bout has been substituted for the Frank Farmer-Ray Smith contest, which was called off late Tuesday afternoon on account of Smith having a badly infected left arm. Smith was informed that he might lose his arm if he attempted to appear on the card.

THE COMPLETE CARD In view of the fact that the card had been advertised and considerable expense had been entailed in bringing boxers to Portland, the Milwaukie officials decided to go through with the card with a new main attraction, which will bring out 30 rounds of milling for the new price of $1 and $2.

The complete card of the smasher is: Ten rounds, George Ingle vs. Harry Casey. Six rounds, Young Sam Langford vs. Joe Harrahan. Six rounds, Mike De Pinto vs. Weldon Wing. Four rounds, Eddie Richards vs. Tommy McCarthy. Four rounds, Billy Lang vs. George Brandon.

CASEY IS MIXER This card should furnish a lot of action for the fans. Ingle and Casey are both sluggers and there is considerable rivalry between the two. Ingle claims that in 300 battles he has never been knocked out. Ingle fought five times in Manila, winning three of the bouts via the knockout route and two on decisions over the two round fight.

Casey's last bout here was with Frankie Murphy, and it was a slambang affair, the Seattle boy losing the decision. The Langford-Harrahan bout promises to be one of action. Harrahan, though he dislikes to do any leading, is willing to mix at close quarters and it is likely that he will get the opportunity tonight, as Langford has always given the fans a run for their money.

The first bout will start at 8.30 o'clock.

LEADER OF COLUMBIA GRID SQUAD

Captain Dwyer, left end of the Columbia University team, which will clash with the Everett, Wash., National High school champions of 1920, Friday afternoon on Multnomah Field.

Grid Squads Working Hard For Contests

PORTLAND football enthusiasts will have two opportunities of seeing the Notre Dame style of play, as expounded by two former N. D. stars, this week-end.

Friday afternoon the Columbia university team, which is tutored by the "Clipper" Smith, who played on the Notre Dame line a couple of years ago, will meet the Everett, Wash., high school eleven, and on the following day the Gonzaga university team of Spokane, which is coached by Gus Dorias, who was in a class by himself as a member of the forward pass—the strong point of Notre Dame's attack—will tackle the strong Multnomah club eleven.

SHOULD BE TREAT These two games should be real treats for the grandstand. The Columbia university team is capable of playing a high class brand of football, as it demonstrated in the contest, which it lost in the last few minutes of playing to the Oregon Aggie boys.

Coach Smith has a well-balanced aggregation, which stands an even chance of being beaten in a number of years, despite the fact that he has met some of the strongest scholastic teams in the Northwest. The Columbia players have been working out each afternoon for the past 10 days for the Everett tilt. The Washingtonians will arrive in Portland Friday morning. Word from Everett indicates that the Everett team is as strong this year as in past seasons. Recently it held the University of Washington freshmen team, which walked over the Oregon squad last Saturday, to a 7 to 7 tie.

Jess Willard Still Wants Go With Jack

By Jack Velock International News Service Sports Editor NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Balm for a wounded personal pride, spelled with capital "E."

This is what Jess Willard would like to get out of pugilism before he hangs up his gloves for all time. And this despite the fact that he has just made a rich oil strike out West.

Willard really fight Dempsey again? Will he actually accept a match and train for it? Oil or no oil, he will. In a message received today from the big fellow, who is "allowing" in a golden pool of oil, he declares he will start working any time Dempsey signs.

"Pretty busy here in Kansas right now with oil," his message read, "but will start working in California during the winter if Dempsey will sign and give assurance that he will be there this time. Family is wintering in California and I expect to go there before long."

BOXING James John Defeated by Jefferson Hi

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—(U. P.)—Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion, has filed a general denial of the charges brought against him in the suit of Albert Siegel for alleged alienation of the affections of his wife, Bee Palmer, actress.

The complaint against Dempsey has never been filed and so no detailed denial was necessary.

James John Defeated by Jefferson Hi

JEFFERSON high school's grid team dragged the James John squad into camp on Multnomah field Tuesday afternoon, to the tune of 28 to 0. Of the four touchdowns scored, three came after strong offensives. The other resulted from a fumble.

Coach Quigley's proteges made yardage through the St. John squad's line and with the first period half over Minnaugh, Jefferson quarter, ran the ball to the James John five-yard line. Here the Jeffs lost the ball, their ill-advised line backs falling to dent the rallying line of their opponents.

PASS GIVES FIRST SCORE The first score followed a pretty pass. Minnaugh to McClung, McClung crossing the goal line. Officer kicked goal. In the second quarter Minnaugh returned a punt for a touchdown, and Officer kicked goal.

In the third quarter the James John Gladiators outplayed the Jeffs and with themselves of a touchdown by abandoning their successful plunging tactics for futile forward passes. In this quarter "Fluff" Hyatt's squad repeatedly made first downs from scrimmage and by aerial attack.

Deforest May Train Jess Willard for Bout

New York, Nov. 2.—(U. P.)—Jimmy Deforest, who trained Jack Dempsey for the contest in which he won the title from Jess Willard, may train the big Kansan in his return bout with the heavyweight champion. Officers of Beaver Club To Be Named

STOCKHOLDERS of the Portland Baseball club, Inc., will meet tonight to elect officers for the coming year.

William H. Klepper, former president of the Seattle Baseball club, who, with James I. Brewster, another baseball enthusiast, who helped put Seattle on the map as a baseball town, is slated to become president of the club, and Brewster will likely be elected to fill the position of secretary.

BUSINESS MEN HELP Three other officers, including two vice presidents and a treasurer, will be elected at the meeting.

Between 15 and 20 Portland business men have subscribed for stock in the company, and it is expected that others will take shares in the club before many more moons.

Klepper, who returned from Seattle Tuesday night, who has been working hard getting things ready for the meeting of the stockholders, has been besieged with offers to manage the club.

NO IDEA OF LEADER The new head of the Beavers would not divulge the names of any of the field leaders who are seeking the position, and may not be in a position to name a manager until after the Coast league meeting.

Klepper has not discussed the management of the team at any length with any of the stockholders, and he has not been in communication with any managers, despite stories to the effect that "Duke" Kenworthy, who was field leader of the Seattle Indians last year, was slated to step into Walter McCredie's shoes. It is known that Kenworthy would like to come to Portland as manager; in fact, he so expressed himself on the last visit of the Indians here during the closing weeks of the season.

New York, Nov. 2.—One half of one per cent of wrestling will be served here tomorrow for the first time.

The new kickless brew of the mat will be served without a toothed, scissors, headlock or any of the other muscle and bone intoxicants of the old orgy days.

Various commissioners, agents and official smelters will be around with their feet on the ring rail when Strangler Lewis, the former exponent of the headlock, and Joe Polk go into the first match Thursday night in which politeness and courtesy will rule over brawn and muscle.

Both run the risk of being thrown out of the ring and having their licenses revoked if they should become angered by any impolite act of the other feller.

At tonight's meeting the question of eligibility will be considered. It has been suggested to limit the membership to players holding lockers in the Eastmoreland club.
