

FIFTY-FIFTY CLUB MAKES LIFE WORTH WHILE IN NEW WAY

To the list of beatitudes as given to the members at the banquet on the Mount might be added one more: Blessed be they who cooperate, for they shall be cooperated with.

Some such principle as this actuated the founders of the Fifty-Fifty Club, composed of business women, who held their first meeting at the Benson hotel.

Organized six months ago with 15 charter members, the club now has 75, the members either owning their own business or occupying executive positions.

The executive board includes Marguerite E. Henningshoff, Harriet E. Hubbard, Arlie Seaman and Agnes Vedder.

That the members are "live ones" was proved by the success of the banquet, which was unique. Each member invited one guest, either her employer or if she owned her own business, an associate or business acquaintance.

Before being seated, the club members escorted their guests around the room, where the products represented by the members were on display.

At the conclusion of the banquet Joseph E. Dunne distributed prizes to all present. Amidst laughter and applause, which brooms, soap, boxes of candy, cans of syrup, silk stockings and various other articles were distributed.

From start to finish the occasion was one that was thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

Frank L. McGuire, president of the 100 per cent club, made the address of the evening. George Hotchkiss Street directed the singing. The musical numbers were furnished by the Street Vocal Art studios and were greatly enjoyed.

LEGION RAPS HARDING FOR MOVE ON BONUS

which said that the statement of Ambassador Harvey recently uttered in London did not express the attitude of the American Legion.

The statement referred to was Harvey's alleged utterance that America's motive for entering the war was controlled by "year of selfishness."

Resolutions and reports were interrupted while the legion welcomed the last distinguished guest on the program.

Charles Kertrand of the French chamber of deputies and president of the Inter-Alleied Veterans' association, was introduced. He was given a splendid ovation.

A resolution passed which wished former President Wilson a speedy recovery from his illness, was greeted with wild applause.

The convention informed the disarmament conference.

Bliss was heard from thousands when the name of George Bernard Shaw was heard in a resolution indorsing the action of the allies property custodian in confiscating the Berezoff property.

Happy Is the Man Who Scores

- 1-Comfort and security for old age.
2-Protection for his family.
3-Monthly income if totally disabled.
4-Savings on which you can draw.

When he buys the new low premium endowment at age 65 of

Oregon Life Insurance Company

Oldest in Pacific Northwest Home Office Corbett Bldg., Portland, Or.

secure the return of Berezoff to American immediately.

Another resolution scored radicalism. Another opposed the pardoning of Eugene Debs and any person convicted of treason.

The convention voted to urge the exclusion of all aliens for from three to five years. That blood tests of all immigrants be taken, and that the Japanese question be voiced at Cleveland last year, recommending exclusion of Orientals.

The delay was adopted as the legion flower instead of the poppy. Americanism week, December 4 to December 10, was indorsed.

Delegations supporting Brigadier General Roy Hoffman of Oklahoma City, Okla., for national commander of the American Legion claimed 775 votes for Hoffman before the final session of the convention opened. Five hundred and twenty-eight were necessary to elect.

New York, it was said, has withdrawn State Commander William F. Deegan and was supporting Hoffman, with the assurance of Midwest delegates that they would support Deegan next year.

Hanford McNider of Iowa and John F. Williams of Missouri were opposing General Hoffman.

Marshall Foch, although showing a trace of fatigue from the strenuous program of yesterday, was early astir today.

The marshal and other distinguished guests at the convention prepared to bid the city goodbye, for they will leave tonight.

Marshall Foch, long before many in the city were out, went to Rockhurst college for a 7:30 o'clock mass and memorial service for his son, who was killed in the war.

At 9 o'clock at the college the degree of L. D. was conferred upon him. At 11 o'clock morning Marshal Foch and other distinguished guests made a tour of the boulevards of the city in motor cars.

General Pershing will accompany Marshal Foch and his party to St. Louis and other cities, where he will be entertained.

Admiral Beatty and General Diaz, with their respective staffs, left last night for New York city.

Lieutenant General Baron Jacques will leave the city at 11 o'clock tonight for Omaha. He will spend tomorrow there and leave Thursday night for St. Louis and then to Nashville, Tenn., to attend a reunion of the Thirtieth division of the American army, the unit he commanded in France and Belgium. The reunion will be on Saturday.

MAN SHOTS SELF; DEATH NOTE FOUND

"Marry, my little one, forgive me." Such was the death message found in a note pinned to the chest of a man who shot himself through the head with a revolver in a rooming house in St. Louis.

Charles F. Berg drew the pall of lard and in a neat speech accepting it, said: "I am the man who shot myself through the head with a revolver in a rooming house in St. Louis, which I hereby refuse to accept unless I am assured that it is kosher."

From start to finish the occasion was one that was thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

Frank L. McGuire, president of the 100 per cent club, made the address of the evening. George Hotchkiss Street directed the singing. The musical numbers were furnished by the Street Vocal Art studios and were greatly enjoyed.

LEGION RAPS HARDING FOR MOVE ON BONUS

which said that the statement of Ambassador Harvey recently uttered in London did not express the attitude of the American Legion.

The statement referred to was Harvey's alleged utterance that America's motive for entering the war was controlled by "year of selfishness."

Resolutions and reports were interrupted while the legion welcomed the last distinguished guest on the program.

Charles Kertrand of the French chamber of deputies and president of the Inter-Alleied Veterans' association, was introduced. He was given a splendid ovation.

A resolution passed which wished former President Wilson a speedy recovery from his illness, was greeted with wild applause.

The convention informed the disarmament conference.

Bliss was heard from thousands when the name of George Bernard Shaw was heard in a resolution indorsing the action of the allies property custodian in confiscating the Berezoff property.

Happy Is the Man Who Scores

- 1-Comfort and security for old age.
2-Protection for his family.
3-Monthly income if totally disabled.
4-Savings on which you can draw.

When he buys the new low premium endowment at age 65 of

Oregon Life Insurance Company

Oldest in Pacific Northwest Home Office Corbett Bldg., Portland, Or.

CHARMANT, LEFT OUT, SAYS WILL OF FATHER ILLEGAL

Hiram Gihler, who died January 19, 1918, leaving an estate of $14,223, cut off his wife, Nancy Gihler, without a penny and left the bulk of the estate to Ida Gihler, a favorite daughter.

A petition to set aside the will was being argued today before Circuit Judge Kavanaugh, Mrs. Gihler contending that the will was made as the result of undue influence upon Gihler when he was near death, weak and mentally ill physically.

Mr. and Mrs. Geiger came to Portland to care for the aged man when he was ill and immediately began treating their stepmother with the utmost cruelty, it is alleged. Finally they forced her to go to Aberdeen, Wash., where she remained, not knowing that her husband was in danger of dying, she claims.

Mrs. Geiger, on the stand, testified that Mr. and Mrs. Gihler entered into an agreement before their marriage whereby each retained his or her property. The agreement, however, has been lost. It proved, according to Mrs. Geiger, that her father thought Mrs. Gihler was a "cheater."

At 11 o'clock the degree of L. D. was conferred upon him. At 11 o'clock morning Marshal Foch and other distinguished guests made a tour of the boulevards of the city in motor cars.

General Pershing will accompany Marshal Foch and his party to St. Louis and other cities, where he will be entertained.

Admiral Beatty and General Diaz, with their respective staffs, left last night for New York city.

Lieutenant General Baron Jacques will leave the city at 11 o'clock tonight for Omaha. He will spend tomorrow there and leave Thursday night for St. Louis and then to Nashville, Tenn., to attend a reunion of the Thirtieth division of the American army, the unit he commanded in France and Belgium. The reunion will be on Saturday.

MAN SHOTS SELF; DEATH NOTE FOUND

"Marry, my little one, forgive me." Such was the death message found in a note pinned to the chest of a man who shot himself through the head with a revolver in a rooming house in St. Louis.

Charles F. Berg drew the pall of lard and in a neat speech accepting it, said: "I am the man who shot myself through the head with a revolver in a rooming house in St. Louis, which I hereby refuse to accept unless I am assured that it is kosher."

From start to finish the occasion was one that was thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

Frank L. McGuire, president of the 100 per cent club, made the address of the evening. George Hotchkiss Street directed the singing. The musical numbers were furnished by the Street Vocal Art studios and were greatly enjoyed.

LEGION RAPS HARDING FOR MOVE ON BONUS

which said that the statement of Ambassador Harvey recently uttered in London did not express the attitude of the American Legion.

The statement referred to was Harvey's alleged utterance that America's motive for entering the war was controlled by "year of selfishness."

Resolutions and reports were interrupted while the legion welcomed the last distinguished guest on the program.

Charles Kertrand of the French chamber of deputies and president of the Inter-Alleied Veterans' association, was introduced. He was given a splendid ovation.

A resolution passed which wished former President Wilson a speedy recovery from his illness, was greeted with wild applause.

The convention informed the disarmament conference.

Bliss was heard from thousands when the name of George Bernard Shaw was heard in a resolution indorsing the action of the allies property custodian in confiscating the Berezoff property.

Happy Is the Man Who Scores

- 1-Comfort and security for old age.
2-Protection for his family.
3-Monthly income if totally disabled.
4-Savings on which you can draw.

When he buys the new low premium endowment at age 65 of

Oregon Life Insurance Company

Oldest in Pacific Northwest Home Office Corbett Bldg., Portland, Or.

J. C. Ainsworth Is Hearty Advocate of Proposed Exposition

"To fall now in putting over the 1925 exposition would be a blow to Portland," declared J. C. Ainsworth, president of the United States National bank, today.

"We have started large undertakings. There can be no denying that fact. But we cannot afford to back out, now that we have started. We must go ahead. Anything else would be disastrous."

"I believe the benefits of the exposition will justify its cost. Some question is raised as to whether the support of Oregon as a whole as of Portland. It is an Oregon exposition."

The exposition project is one as worthy as of Portland. It is an Oregon exposition."

BIG SHIFT IN MEN MADE BY JENKINS

Some of the men on special detail who will return to uniform work and be placed on beats were announced, with others to be announced later. They are Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters.

Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters. He will be in command of the second night relief at headquarters.

Some of the men on special detail who will return to uniform work and be placed on beats were announced, with others to be announced later. They are Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters.

Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters. He will be in command of the second night relief at headquarters.

Some of the men on special detail who will return to uniform work and be placed on beats were announced, with others to be announced later. They are Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters.

Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters. He will be in command of the second night relief at headquarters.

Some of the men on special detail who will return to uniform work and be placed on beats were announced, with others to be announced later. They are Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters.

Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters. He will be in command of the second night relief at headquarters.

Some of the men on special detail who will return to uniform work and be placed on beats were announced, with others to be announced later. They are Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters.

Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters. He will be in command of the second night relief at headquarters.

Some of the men on special detail who will return to uniform work and be placed on beats were announced, with others to be announced later. They are Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters.

Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters. He will be in command of the second night relief at headquarters.

Some of the men on special detail who will return to uniform work and be placed on beats were announced, with others to be announced later. They are Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters.

Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters. He will be in command of the second night relief at headquarters.

Some of the men on special detail who will return to uniform work and be placed on beats were announced, with others to be announced later. They are Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters.

Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters. He will be in command of the second night relief at headquarters.

Some of the men on special detail who will return to uniform work and be placed on beats were announced, with others to be announced later. They are Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters.

Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters. He will be in command of the second night relief at headquarters.

Some of the men on special detail who will return to uniform work and be placed on beats were announced, with others to be announced later. They are Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters.

Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters. He will be in command of the second night relief at headquarters.

Some of the men on special detail who will return to uniform work and be placed on beats were announced, with others to be announced later. They are Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters.

Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters. He will be in command of the second night relief at headquarters.

Some of the men on special detail who will return to uniform work and be placed on beats were announced, with others to be announced later. They are Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters.

Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters. He will be in command of the second night relief at headquarters.

Some of the men on special detail who will return to uniform work and be placed on beats were announced, with others to be announced later. They are Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters.

J. C. Ainsworth Is Hearty Advocate of Proposed Exposition

"To fall now in putting over the 1925 exposition would be a blow to Portland," declared J. C. Ainsworth, president of the United States National bank, today.

"We have started large undertakings. There can be no denying that fact. But we cannot afford to back out, now that we have started. We must go ahead. Anything else would be disastrous."

"I believe the benefits of the exposition will justify its cost. Some question is raised as to whether the support of Oregon as a whole as of Portland. It is an Oregon exposition."

The exposition project is one as worthy as of Portland. It is an Oregon exposition."

BIG SHIFT IN MEN MADE BY JENKINS

Some of the men on special detail who will return to uniform work and be placed on beats were announced, with others to be announced later. They are Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters.

Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters. He will be in command of the second night relief at headquarters.

Some of the men on special detail who will return to uniform work and be placed on beats were announced, with others to be announced later. They are Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters.

Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters. He will be in command of the second night relief at headquarters.

Some of the men on special detail who will return to uniform work and be placed on beats were announced, with others to be announced later. They are Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters.

Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters. He will be in command of the second night relief at headquarters.

Some of the men on special detail who will return to uniform work and be placed on beats were announced, with others to be announced later. They are Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters.

Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters. He will be in command of the second night relief at headquarters.

Some of the men on special detail who will return to uniform work and be placed on beats were announced, with others to be announced later. They are Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters.

Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters. He will be in command of the second night relief at headquarters.

Some of the men on special detail who will return to uniform work and be placed on beats were announced, with others to be announced later. They are Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters.

Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters. He will be in command of the second night relief at headquarters.

Some of the men on special detail who will return to uniform work and be placed on beats were announced, with others to be announced later. They are Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters.

Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters. He will be in command of the second night relief at headquarters.

Some of the men on special detail who will return to uniform work and be placed on beats were announced, with others to be announced later. They are Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters.

Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters. He will be in command of the second night relief at headquarters.

Some of the men on special detail who will return to uniform work and be placed on beats were announced, with others to be announced later. They are Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters.

Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters. He will be in command of the second night relief at headquarters.

Some of the men on special detail who will return to uniform work and be placed on beats were announced, with others to be announced later. They are Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters.

Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters. He will be in command of the second night relief at headquarters.

Some of the men on special detail who will return to uniform work and be placed on beats were announced, with others to be announced later. They are Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters.

Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters. He will be in command of the second night relief at headquarters.

Some of the men on special detail who will return to uniform work and be placed on beats were announced, with others to be announced later. They are Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters.

Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters. He will be in command of the second night relief at headquarters.

Some of the men on special detail who will return to uniform work and be placed on beats were announced, with others to be announced later. They are Sergeant William C. Epps will be in charge of the first night relief at headquarters.

JOURNAL'S THRIFT CAMPAIGN GAINING IMPETUS EACH DAY

The thrift idea is taking a strong hold on Journal readers and the three-day campaign for new savings accounts started off briskly Tuesday afternoon.

More than 100 Journal thrift coupons had been presented at the savings department of the Lumbermen Trust company bank at closing time Tuesday night and the line-up at the bank today equaled the busiest day of the thrift campaign in September when more than 1000 new accounts were opened at the bank.

"The mill never runs from the water that has passed," is a homely old adage particularly applicable in these days of careless spending. Stored up money is stored up power. A strong bank account insures against worry and want. The process of accumulation is as simple as walking up hill.

All that is necessary for you to do is to clip out the Thrift coupon appearing elsewhere in this issue, take it, together with 50 cents to the Lumbermen Trust company bank and open an account for $1. The coupon being accepted as a credit of 50 cents, making its value $1 on your account.

A nest egg savings bank will be loaned to each person opening an account under the provisions of The Journal Thrift Campaign. This bank is the size of the ordinary goose egg and it has been found convenient in the practice of another old-fashioned economy—that of darning socks. The money saved by the darning process may be placed in the bank and added to the deposit at the Lumbermen Trust, thus building up a competence for independence in old age.

Each person opening an account under the provisions of The Journal Thrift Campaign. This bank is the size of the ordinary goose egg and it has been found convenient in the practice of another old-fashioned economy—that of darning socks. The money saved by the darning process may be placed in the bank and added to the deposit at the Lumbermen Trust, thus building up a competence for independence in old age.

Each person opening an account under the provisions of The Journal Thrift Campaign. This bank is the size of the ordinary goose egg and it has been found convenient in the practice of another old-fashioned economy—that of darning socks. The money saved by the darning process may be placed in the bank and added to the deposit at the Lumbermen Trust, thus building up a competence for independence in old age.

Each person opening an account under the provisions of The Journal Thrift Campaign. This bank is the size of the ordinary goose egg and it has been found convenient in the practice of another old-fashioned economy—that of darning socks. The money saved by the darning process may be placed in the bank and added to the deposit at the Lumbermen Trust, thus building up a competence for independence in old age.

Each person opening an account under the provisions of The Journal Thrift Campaign. This bank is the size of the ordinary goose egg and it has been found convenient in the practice of another old-fashioned economy—that of darning socks. The money saved by the darning process may be placed in the bank and added to the deposit at the Lumbermen Trust, thus building up a competence for independence in old age.

Each person opening an account under the provisions of The Journal Thrift Campaign. This bank is the size of the ordinary goose egg and it has been found convenient in the practice of another old-fashioned economy—that of darning socks. The money saved by the darning process may be placed in the bank and added to the deposit at the Lumbermen Trust, thus building up a competence for independence in old age.

Each person opening an account under the provisions of The Journal Thrift Campaign. This bank is the size of the ordinary goose egg and it has been found convenient in the practice of another old-fashioned economy—that of darning socks. The money saved by the darning process may be placed in the bank and added to the deposit at the Lumbermen Trust, thus building up a competence for independence in old age.

Each person opening an account under the provisions of The Journal Thrift Campaign. This bank is the size of the ordinary goose egg and it has been found convenient in the practice of another old-fashioned economy—that of darning socks. The money saved by the darning process may be placed in the bank and added to the deposit at the Lumbermen Trust, thus building up a competence for independence in old age.

Each person opening an account under the provisions of The Journal Thrift Campaign. This bank is the size of the ordinary goose egg and it has been found convenient in the practice of another old-fashioned economy—that of darning socks. The money saved by the darning process may be placed in the bank and added to the deposit at the Lumbermen Trust, thus building up a competence for independence in old age.

Each person opening an account under the provisions of The Journal Thrift Campaign. This bank is the size of the ordinary goose egg and it has been found convenient in the practice of another old-fashioned economy—that of darning socks. The money saved by the darning process may be placed in the bank and added to the deposit at the Lumbermen Trust, thus building up a competence for independence in old age.

Each person opening an account under the provisions of The Journal Thrift Campaign. This bank is the size of the ordinary goose egg and it has been found convenient in the practice of another old-fashioned economy—that of darning socks. The money saved by the darning process may be placed in the bank and added to the deposit at the Lumbermen Trust, thus building up a competence for independence in old age.

Each person opening an account under the provisions of The Journal Thrift Campaign. This bank is the size of the ordinary goose egg and it has been found convenient in the practice of another old-fashioned economy—that of darning socks. The money saved by the darning process may be placed in the bank and added to the deposit at the Lumbermen Trust, thus building up a competence for independence in old age.

Each person opening an account under the provisions of The Journal Thrift Campaign. This bank is the size of the ordinary goose egg and it has been found convenient in the practice of another old-fashioned economy—that of darning socks. The money saved by the darning process may be placed in the bank and added to the deposit at the Lumbermen Trust, thus building up a competence for independence in old age.

Each person opening an account under the provisions of The Journal Thrift Campaign. This bank is the size of the ordinary goose egg and it has been found convenient in the practice of another old-fashioned economy—that of darning socks. The money saved by the darning process may be placed in the bank and added to the deposit at the Lumbermen Trust, thus building up a competence for independence in old age.

Each person opening an account under the provisions of The Journal Thrift Campaign. This bank is the size of the ordinary goose egg and it has been found convenient in the practice of another old-fashioned economy—that of darning socks. The money saved by the darning process may be placed in the bank and added to the deposit at the Lumbermen Trust, thus building up a competence for independence in old age.

Each person opening an account under the provisions of The Journal Thrift Campaign. This bank is the size of the ordinary goose egg and it has been found convenient in the practice of another old-fashioned economy—that of darning socks. The money saved by the darning process may be placed in the bank and added to the deposit at the Lumbermen Trust, thus building up a competence for independence in old age.

Each person opening an account under the provisions of The Journal Thrift Campaign. This bank is the size of the ordinary goose egg and it has been found convenient in the practice of another old-fashioned economy—that of darning socks. The money saved by the darning process may be placed in the bank and added to the deposit at the Lumbermen Trust, thus building up a competence for independence in old age.

Each person opening an account under the provisions of The Journal Thrift Campaign. This bank is the size of the ordinary goose egg and it has been found convenient in the practice of another old-fashioned economy—that of darning socks. The money saved by the darning process may be placed in the bank and added to the deposit at the Lumbermen Trust, thus building up a competence for independence in old age.

Each person opening an account under the provisions of The Journal Thrift Campaign. This bank is the size of the ordinary goose egg and it has been found convenient in the practice of another old-fashioned economy—that of darning socks. The money saved by the darning process may be placed in the bank and added to the deposit at the Lumbermen Trust, thus building up a competence for independence in old age.

Each person opening an account under the provisions of The Journal Thrift Campaign. This bank is the size of the ordinary goose egg and it has been found convenient in the practice of another old-fashioned economy—that of darning socks. The money saved by the darning process may be placed in the bank and added to the deposit at the Lumbermen Trust, thus building up a competence for independence in old age.

Each person opening an account under the provisions of The Journal Thrift Campaign. This bank is the size of the ordinary goose egg and it has been found convenient in the practice of another old-fashioned economy—that of darning socks. The money saved by the darning process may be placed in the bank and added to the deposit at the Lumbermen Trust, thus building up a competence for independence in old age.