

ULSTER YIELDS TO SINN FEINERS; PEACE IS NEARER

By Daniel O'Connell

London, Nov. 2.—(L. N. S.)—The Irish peace negotiations were once again on the way towards a happy solution this afternoon. Important concessions were made by the Ulster Unionists which promised to overcome the chief obstacles to an agreement.

Sir Edward Carson, former leader of the Ulster Unionists, acted as mediator at the request of Premier Lloyd George. It is understood that the Ulsterites have agreed to the detachment of the counties of Fermanagh and Tyrone from the province. The Sinn Fein at Dublin had claimed those counties on the contention of political belief.

As the result of this development Premier Lloyd George has delayed for a few days his departure for the disarmament conference at Washington.

The change from pessimism to optimism, following the revelation that Ulster was giving way to the Sinn Fein, came with dramatic suddenness. It was generally felt this afternoon that peace was under way and that after all the premier may be able to get away for Washington within the next week. The experts of the various committees settled down late today to work out details and they were under orders to proceed at breakneck speed.

It was understood that Arthur Griffith, head of the Sinn Fein delegation, would withhold until the last minute his promise of Irish acquiescence to the English royal sovereignty. This was his trump card and he was saving it until the last.

BRITISH DELEGATES LEAVE FOR DISARMAMENT CONFAB
London, Nov. 2.—(L. N. S.)—Premier Lloyd George today cancelled his passage for New York on the Aquitania, sailing Saturday.

The premier hopes to go to America later to attend the sessions of the armament conference, but he cannot get away this week on account of the critical Irish peace situation and the possibility of a general election.

A. J. Balfour, who will head the Brit-

LEAGUE PROGRAM ESCAPES RECALL

(By United News)

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 2.—While Non-Partisan league officials were recalled in the election last Friday, the league program remains intact, it appeared today.

The Fargo Forum, independent organ, tonight "admitted" defeat of the initiative measures. What the effect will be is uncertain. Independents made campaign promises to "give the industrial program a chance." One of their slogans, however, was "to salvage what we can."

The measures initiated and apparently defeated, called for liquidation of the Bank of North Dakota and adoption of a rural credit law based on that of South Dakota. Another provided a constitutional amendment revising the debt limit and a fourth would restore an old public funds deposit law.

A proposed new industrial commission law, which apparently failed, was designed to reorganize control of the state industrial commission. The state industrial commission at present has almost complete control of the state industrial program adopted by the Non-Partisan league legislature and ratified by the voters in 1919.

R. A. Nestoe, Sveinbjorn Johnson and William Kitchin, who will become governor, attorney general and commissioner of agriculture and labor, if their apparent election stands, will comprise the state industrial commission. They will assume control of all the institutions which heretofore have been controlled by Governor Frazier, Attorney General Lemke and Commissioner Hagen.

The new commission will have to work with bank and industrial commission officials, all of whom are Non-Partisan, until they can be discharged for cause and successors named.

DRIVER'S LICENSE REVOKED
Harry R. Gross was fined $100 and his driver's license revoked for 180 days in municipal court Tuesday for driving while intoxicated at Broadway and East Thirty-ninth street. An additional fine was passed on him for possessing intoxicating liquor.

LEAGUE PROGRAM ESCAPES RECALL

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 2.—While Non-Partisan league officials were recalled in the election last Friday, the league program remains intact, it appeared today.

The Fargo Forum, independent organ, tonight "admitted" defeat of the initiative measures. What the effect will be is uncertain. Independents made campaign promises to "give the industrial program a chance." One of their slogans, however, was "to salvage what we can."

The measures initiated and apparently defeated, called for liquidation of the Bank of North Dakota and adoption of a rural credit law based on that of South Dakota. Another provided a constitutional amendment revising the debt limit and a fourth would restore an old public funds deposit law.

A proposed new industrial commission law, which apparently failed, was designed to reorganize control of the state industrial commission. The state industrial commission at present has almost complete control of the state industrial program adopted by the Non-Partisan league legislature and ratified by the voters in 1919.

R. A. Nestoe, Sveinbjorn Johnson and William Kitchin, who will become governor, attorney general and commissioner of agriculture and labor, if their apparent election stands, will comprise the state industrial commission. They will assume control of all the institutions which heretofore have been controlled by Governor Frazier, Attorney General Lemke and Commissioner Hagen.

The new commission will have to work with bank and industrial commission officials, all of whom are Non-Partisan, until they can be discharged for cause and successors named.

DRIVER'S LICENSE REVOKED
Harry R. Gross was fined $100 and his driver's license revoked for 180 days in municipal court Tuesday for driving while intoxicated at Broadway and East Thirty-ninth street. An additional fine was passed on him for possessing intoxicating liquor.

THE TASK OF MAKING JAPAN PLAY THE GAME ON A PLANE OF EQUALITY WITH OTHER NATIONS?

Great Britain has insisted that her alliance prevented her from making proposals to Japan. It has been left to the United States alone to keep a vigilant eye on Japanese pretensions.

The crisis came at the time the dominion premiers were in session. The British government didn't want to offend Japan by publicly refusing to renew the Anglo-Japanese alliance. What would be the good of that, it was argued? It would only drive Japan into an attitude of hostility.

Japan need not fear impoverished Russia or helpless Germany. She need only be concerned about Great Britain and the United States. Financially distressed as is the British empire, Japan might feel herself capable of going it alone in the Far East. Britain was too much absorbed in domestic troubles to disturb Japan's pretensions while the United States was not inclined to go to war over China's plight. She was too far away and her people were already sick of war expenditure. Japan, however, had expended little money during the war and was near enough to China to offer the Japanese imperialist golden opportunities for commercial gain by exploiting China's resources.

Great Britain counseled against the abrupt cancellation of the Anglo-Japanese alliance. Couldn't some other way be found to accomplish the same end and at the same time prevent Japanese aggression? Diplomacy moves in strange ways its wonders to perform. Couldn't the United States lend a helping hand?

Just about the same time that the imperial conference was meeting in London and the premier of Canada was expressing himself frankly on the subject of renewing the Anglo-Japanese alliance, public sentiment in the United States was being marshaled in favor of a reduction of armament. Senator Borah's plan was being headed. The tax burden was so heavy that the calling of an armament conference to stop the race in armaments was advocated on every side. President Harding didn't favor the Borah resolution because it limited the conference merely to Great Britain, the United States and Japan. He insisted that it ought to include all the major powers.

Like game of chess is conference play

Then it was that an unwritten but significant chapter developed in London. President Harding admitted publicly that he had been sounding out the powers on

THE TASK OF MAKING JAPAN PLAY THE GAME ON A PLANE OF EQUALITY WITH OTHER NATIONS?

Great Britain has insisted that her alliance prevented her from making proposals to Japan. It has been left to the United States alone to keep a vigilant eye on Japanese pretensions.

The crisis came at the time the dominion premiers were in session. The British government didn't want to offend Japan by publicly refusing to renew the Anglo-Japanese alliance. What would be the good of that, it was argued? It would only drive Japan into an attitude of hostility.

Japan need not fear impoverished Russia or helpless Germany. She need only be concerned about Great Britain and the United States. Financially distressed as is the British empire, Japan might feel herself capable of going it alone in the Far East. Britain was too much absorbed in domestic troubles to disturb Japan's pretensions while the United States was not inclined to go to war over China's plight. She was too far away and her people were already sick of war expenditure. Japan, however, had expended little money during the war and was near enough to China to offer the Japanese imperialist golden opportunities for commercial gain by exploiting China's resources.

Great Britain counseled against the abrupt cancellation of the Anglo-Japanese alliance. Couldn't some other way be found to accomplish the same end and at the same time prevent Japanese aggression? Diplomacy moves in strange ways its wonders to perform. Couldn't the United States lend a helping hand?

Just about the same time that the imperial conference was meeting in London and the premier of Canada was expressing himself frankly on the subject of renewing the Anglo-Japanese alliance, public sentiment in the United States was being marshaled in favor of a reduction of armament. Senator Borah's plan was being headed. The tax burden was so heavy that the calling of an armament conference to stop the race in armaments was advocated on every side. President Harding didn't favor the Borah resolution because it limited the conference merely to Great Britain, the United States and Japan. He insisted that it ought to include all the major powers.

Like game of chess is conference play

Then it was that an unwritten but significant chapter developed in London. President Harding admitted publicly that he had been sounding out the powers on

20 EXTRA 2x GREEN TRADING STAMPS

Thursday, Friday, Saturday--With This Coupon

New Leather Handbags
These are all new bags and come in Pin Seal, Spider Grain, Persian Lamb and Tooled Leathers. The prices are extremely low for bags of such fine quality.

Handbags—Special
$14.00 Hand Bags—now $7.50
$9.00 Hand Bags—now $5.00
$5.00 Hand Bags—now $3.75
Fine Shopping Bags—$3.25
All Ladies' Hand Bags 10% OFF

Toilet Articles
Imported Sachet Powder in fancy bags; values from 85c to $1.50; while they last at... 39c
Palmer's Toilet Water, regular selling price 75c; now reduced to... 49c
Clawfoot Lemon Cream; we recommend it; 4-oz. jar... 50c
Molena Cucumber Cream, a most satisfying cream; 4-oz. jar $1.00
Vallant's Toilet Water... $1.00
Some Flowers Toilet Water $1.50

Dolls Greatly Reduced
A wonderful 24-inch jointed Doll with wig and moving eyes; only... $4.98

Hot Water Bags—Special
Three-quart red rubber seamless Hot-Water Bottle, one-year guarantee; three-day special at... $1.98

Electric Irons—$4.39
A good guaranteed Electric Iron, including stand and cord, at only... $4.39

Aluminum Water Bottles
Regular $3.25 Aluminum Hot Water Bottles; now reduced to... $2.79

Everyday Needs
Philadelphia Bird Seed... 29c
Hospital Cotton, 1 pound... 39c
L. & L. Steril Gauze, 5 yds... 59c
Camphorated Oil, 4 oz... 59c
Glyc. & Rose Water, 6 oz... 25c

Gillette Razors Reduced
These come complete, with case and one dozen Gillette blades.
$5.00 Gillette Razors, now $1.98
$6.00 Gillette Razors, now $2.49
$8 and $10 Gillette Razors $3.49
The New Gillette—$5.00 and up

Umbrellas for All
An extensive showing of Umbrellas for men, women or children.

Electric Heaters for Less
A few that we have used for demonstrations at special prices in our complete Electrical Store—Downstairs.

Candy Specials
Assorted Satin Mix, pound... 19c
Butter Balls, pound... 29c
Riley's Toffee, pound... 49c
Assorted Chocolates, pound... 49c
Gum, 3 packages for... 10c

Engraved Greeting Cards
See our beautiful assortment of Greeting Cards. We advise early selection.

Woodard, Clark & Co.
DRUGGISTS
Alder Street at West Park

20 EXTRA 2x GREEN TRADING STAMPS
PRESENT THIS COUPON
THURSDAY, FRIDAY, SATURDAY
NOVEMBER 2, 3 & 4
20 EXTRA 2x GREEN TRADING STAMPS
with first $1 purchase and double stamps with the balance of purchase.

Electric Heating Pads
Have three heats; are flexible and guaranteed; only... $10.75

Sewing Machine Motors
Can be attached to any lamp socket and operates any sewing machine; were $22.50, now at... $18.50

Luster Mops Reduced
You can now buy the $2.00 Luster Mops for only... $1.39

Fountain Pens
Our holiday line of Fountain Pens and Eversharp Pencils is complete. We sell the following well-known fountain pens. WATERMAN'S SHEAFFER'S CONKLIN'S MOORE'S

Lunch Kit—Special
Regular $7.25 Lunch Kit—fiber case, including nickel-plated lunch box and vacuum bottle, reduced to... $5.50

Pocket Flashlights
Nickel-plated pocket flashlights, complete with battery—special at... 69c

Dutch Bulbs
Our shipment has just arrived from Holland.
Hyacinths—Tulips
Daffodils
Now is the time to plant bulbs for winter flowers.

Announcing Our Third Monthly Title Contest

$5,100 will be awarded for the best title for a short story appearing in the November issue of The Red Book Magazine—now on sale. This makes a total for September, October and November issues of

$15300

In Cash Prizes

To our readers

For the third time we offer $5,100 in cash prizes to folks who will devote a few moments' thought in helping us procure better titles for stories. Our editors are striving to improve our magazine by better titles. We need the co-operation by the reading public, and we are willing to pay for it.

Simply help us find a better title for the story appearing in the November issue of The Red Book Magazine now called "Much Stranger." It is by Richard Washburn Child, Ambassador to Italy. We print the synopsis of the story below. Can you think of a better name?

1,000 Prizes of $5 Each
One or More Prizes of $100

We ask you to submit what you consider a better title. Send it by letter or merely write it on a post-card with your name and address.
Out of those received we will select the best 1,000 and for these we will pay $5 each. (Only one title can be submitted by each person.)
For the best single one we will pay $100. In case that there is more than one person submitting the title chosen as best, we will pay $100 to each of the winners.
The contest is simple. A few minutes' thought may bring you either $100 or $5. Remember, there are 1,001 winners.
Read the synopsis of the story, then send in your idea of a better title than "Much Stranger."

This Is the Story

On a lovely moonlit night, casting a spell of romance and adventure, Preston Worthley decides that Virginia Forge is not the woman he should marry. His fancy opens vistas of diplomatic brilliance in foreign courts, in which she plays no part. He longs to feel for the woman of his dreams the passionate self-effacing love that seven years of comfortable affection for Virginia has failed to arouse.

After leaving her, on his way home—a strange adventure introduces him to the woman of his dreams. He finds embodied in the exquisite Countess Javansopol all the attributes with which his fancy has vested his destiny. He is charmed by the shimmering garments which accentuate her beauty and grace.

Mail your suggestion at once. To receive consideration, it must be received in our office by November 19th, 1921. Checks will be mailed December 1st to successful contestants whose names will be published in the January issue of The Red Book Magazine. Address all titles to Title Editor, 42-C The Red Book Magazine, 36 South State Street, Chicago.

Souls for Sale

Amazing Adventures of a Girl Who Wanted to Become a Movie Actress

The greatest novel of Rupert Hughes' career is laid in Hollywood, the California capital of the Movies. It tells of the remarkable life of a village girl and her experiences, told with sympathy and understanding.

It pictures the intimate life of the movie studios, the temptations, the ambitions and jealousies, the queer fantasies of fate that make or break the men and women of the silent drama.

Never has a more powerful story been told. Never have you read a more fascinating novel based on film life, as only Rupert Hughes knows it. "Souls for Sale" is a revelation.

Frank, But True

Thousands of readers have begun the first installments of "Souls for Sale" and eagerly await each new issue of The Red Book Magazine.

You can begin in the November issue, in which you will find an elaborated synopsis, so complete that you can understand all that has been told in the first few chapters.

You'll be delighted and thrilled at the masterful manner in which Rupert Hughes treats this delicate subject. For the first time you will be peering behind the scenes in movie-land.

Temptations to Overcome

From the very beginning you'll follow the career of Remember Steddon with a suspense you've never felt before. You'll realize instantly that this is to be the most discussed novel of the year.

It is as timely as it is interesting. You feel that some of the characters are the stars of the screen you know.

Get a copy of the November issue of The Red Book Magazine at once and begin reading this remarkable novel.

THE RED BOOK MAGAZINE

November Issue—Now On Sale
At All News Stands Everywhere

Thug Gang Attacks Chinaman; Takes $35

Thugs entered the laundry of Fang Lee, 268 North Sixteenth street, Tuesday evening, and after pummeling the proprietor, made away with $35, which he carried on his clothing. Lee said two negroes and one white man were in the crowd. He saw no guns in their possession. Police believe that his assailants were drug addicts looking for drugs. They said Lee was at one time a drug peddler. He was so badly frightened that he was unable to give an accurate description of the thugs.

Fawcett Named for Artillery Captaincy

Washington, Nov. 2.—(WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE JOURNAL)—President Harding Tuesday nominated Captain Roscoe Fawcett of Portland as captain of field artillery. This nomination amounts to a transfer from the air service in which Fawcett now holds a captaincy.

Captain Fawcett, former Portland newspaper man, entered the air service of the regular army after having served overseas during the war in this branch.

What the Exposition Will Mean to Oregon and the Northwest

What better method can be employed to lower taxes than to have more people locate in the state to pay them? Then the total exposition tax on a home assessed at $500.00 would be $5.00, payable at the rate of $4c every six months for three years. The total exposition tax on a home assessed at $1000.00 would be $10.00, payable at the rate of $1.67 every six months for three years. The total exposition tax on a home assessed at $1500.00 would be $15.00, payable at the rate of $2.50 every six months for three years.

VOTE FOR THE OREGON EXPOSITION IN 1925

DOVERS
THE STORE THAT SAVES YOU MONEY

WRIGLEY'S

"After Every Meal"

Next time you want to concentrate on a piece of work just slip a stick of WRIGLEY'S between your teeth.

It's a wonderful help in daily tasks — and sports as well.

If that 13th hole on the course has been getting your goat — try WRIGLEY'S.

Hazards disappear and hard places come easy — for WRIGLEY'S gives you comfort and poise.

It adds a zest that means success.

Sealed Tight Kept Right

UNITED COUPONS