

FOREIGN-BORN TO BECOME CITIZENS AT AUDITORIUM

Judge Jacob Kansler, who heads the committee appointed from the Americanization committee of Portland to arrange for an Americanization week, announces that one of the notable features of the big patriotic demonstration at the Auditorium during the week will be the admission into full citizenship of a large class of foreign-born people, the ceremonies being in charge of Charles E. Wolverson, judge of the United States district court.

Judge Wolverson said in speaking of Americanization: "I am in hearty sympathy with any movement that will tend to Americanization in spirit as well as in name. Many use our schools simply, and so far as it is necessary to acquire sufficient knowledge of our civil government to enable them to pass the citizenship test. I would like to see them take a broader view of the exigency and avail themselves of the advantages offered them to acquire a knowledge of the history of our country and of our institutions and of the customs and habits of our people. This would encourage and instill into their minds an interest in citizenship as applicable to this country."

"I am afraid too many of those desiring naturalization seek it only for their own advantages in a mercenary spirit, without much thought whether they can be of reciprocal advantage to the country, to the community in which they live or to the people with whom they are to associate. They should be encouraged to feel that good citizenship and loyalty to the government will be exacted of them, and to that extent they should adapt their actions to the sentiment."

The committee meeting was attended by Miss Anne Mulhern, Lawrence R. Wheeler, W. V. Tomlinson, A. M. Gray, H. P. Kälvalga, H. J. Langoe, Fred Park, J. C. Henderson and Judge Kansler. Miss Mulhern was made the head of a sub-committee for the working out of programs for community celebrations during Americanization week. Judge Kansler, Wheeler and Langoe constitute a committee which will wait upon Mayor Baker in regard to the date for the celebration.

Joe Kuckup, aged Warm Springs reservation Indian, failed to take advantage of the "second chance" the government gave him recently, so he must stand trial on a charge of introducing liquor on the reservation. ### Pasco Man Has Copy Of Civil War Daily Issued in Wall Paper

Whop W. J. Conrad of Pasco, Wash., unpacked his suitcase in Portland on his way home after a visit in Veederburg, Ind., he found a copy of the Veederburg Daily Citizen, Civil war time paper, printed on wall paper. Conrad's copy was an issue of July 2, 1863.

Conrad believes that his cousin, Anthony Rosenberger, his "buddy" in the Fifty-third Indiana regiment, with whom he visited in Veederburg, put the copy in his traveling bag and forgot to tell him of it. The copy is either a well preserved genuine copy or a facsimile. Wall paper was the only paper available during the siege of Vicksburg.

Is, "thinking the hardest thing in the world for those who have not formed the habit?" We do not believe it is for the people of the Northwest—who have the reputation for doing things on a big scale. We believe they will stop and do a little intensive thinking.

Bob Hall, who makes a hit at the Orpheum this week with songs which he makes up as he goes along, says that Vancouver, B. C., Seattle and a number of other cities to which his singing takes him, don't know there is any question as to whether there will be a 1925 exposition in Oregon.

"They think the question is already settled," he said today. "At every show I introduce a song about the exposition and ask those in the audience who are going to attend to join with me. Say, judged by the results there will be a 100 per cent attendance from other cities."

Hall presented extemporaneous verse in behalf of the exposition at the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs this week which won cordial applause.
