(Coppright, 1921, by United News) Washington, Nov. 3 .- Stripped of all camouflage, the coming arms conference must appear to intelligent observ ers as purely the application of an acid test to Japan.

The question as simply this: Will the conference reveal an enemy in 1921, just as The Hague conference revealed the menace of Germany in 1967?

However, a possible disruption of peace can be manifested in only one direc-tion. England, sick of war, heavily in debt. has reduced her naval expendi-tures from $441,539,387 in the year 1920-1921, to $400,847,940 for the year 1921-1922, and cannot be said to reveal mili-taristic tendencies. The United States, leader in a movement for world peace at Paris and now at Washington, has reduced her naval expenditures from $757,486,849 for the year 1920-1921 to $425,848,079 for the present fiscal year. JAPAN STANDS OUT

But what of Japan? Japan alone stands out today as spending propor-tionately more for armament than any other country in the world. And this at a time when most of the world is talking peace. Her naval expenditures for the year 1930-1921 were $187,207,522, while for the present fiscal year they have been increased to $248,519,224. And Japan'a total armament budget, $399,-294,000, so far as can be ascertained onstitutes approximately 51 per cent of all her national expenditures, while England's armament budget comprises 2 that of the United States 21 per cent. So the crux of the forthcoming con-ference rests in the attitude of Japan toward the problems centering in the Far East. Upon that attitude will depend whether limited armament is a possibility or whether war in the Far East is a probability. MUST GIVE AND TAKE

On the part of this government there is a willingness to enter into the con-ference in a spirit of give and take. On our part, we acknowledge the right of Japan to expand commercially. We recognize that her proximity to China, her need for ready markets, etc., give her special advantages in the Orient to which she is entitled in trade competi-

On the other hand, we ask that Japan, on her part, acknowledge that trade expansion cannot embrace political control of those spheres which she penetrates commercially. She must, in short, be satisfied to compete with other nations on an equal footing save for her special advantages of race and proximity-in the trade markets and in the natural resources development

To accomplish the end hoped for by Japan must wipe from the slate—and in this the test applies almost equally to England—the Anglo-Japanese alliance. America's dislike for that alliance rests not in her fear of a combined military threat by Japan and England, but rather from a natural abhorrence of military alliances and even more, in the case of this particular pact, because of its effect upon Japan's activities.

Japan might think she was sacrificing a great deal, but if the sacrifice is made she will but lose a political fight while winning a great moral victory

qualities,

The softening effects of olive oil are responsible for the lovely gloss and softness. It produces the mildest, most penetrating of lathers, which is given body and richness by the blending with palm oil.

This lather is far more than a surface cleanser. It enters every root and hair cell, and purges them from dirt, oil and dandruff.

Yet this hair which is so thoroughly cleansed isn't dry, harsh or brittle. The soothing action of palm and olive oil keeps it soft and glossy.

Don't neglect dandruff

Even the healthiest scalps secrete a moderate amount of dandruff, which doctors call seborrhea and charge with most hair

It is harmless enough if, when you shampoo, it is thoroughly washed away.

But ordinary shampooing doesn't affect the dry, oily, scales which withstand most cleansing. They accumulate until the hair cells are clogged.

This clogging prevents proper nutrition and your hair begins to come out. This is the danger signal.

The softening, penetrating lather produced by the blend of palm and olive oils penetrates the formation of scales, loosening and dislodging them from hair roots and scalp.

You need never fear dandruff if you shampoo with Palmolive.
